The value of a decision as authority depends upon how it has been interpreted and how the principles therein announced have been limited or modified and applied, and to what extent it has been followed. — D. E. Hydrick, Justice of Supreme Court, South Carolina.

A more serious difficulty, and one likely to increase in future with the ceaseless growth of recorded cases, is that exact and comprehensive citation cannot be ensured. If the Judge is to be bound by precedents he should have all the relevant authorities at his command. But he cannot carry them all in his head, nor is it always easy to find them, in spite of the many modern devices for facilitating the search. He must depend largely on the assistance of counsel, and since the industry and acumen of the Bar are also fallible, it is not uncommon to meet with cases which might have been decided otherwise, or are even overruled later, because pertinent decisions have not been taken into consideration. (Professor Allen in "Law the Making,")

Watch the latest Rulings. They are nearest to you and nearest to the Courts.

In one sense no reported case can ever be obsolete while the laws and judicial usages of English-speaking countries are what they are: that is, no man can say beforehand that any given case, however antiquated or trifling it may appear in itself to be, may not at some time have its use for the modern practitioner or text-writer. Every decision in the books is part of the history of the law, and no part of that history can be absolutely insignificant.—(Sir Frederick Pollock, Bart., LL.D., Corpus Professor of Jurisprudence in the University of Oxford.)

Accurate knowledge of the present state of the law upon any subject involves necessarily the history of the development of the law upon that subject, which can only be attained by following down the decision touching upon it. — (Francis M. Scott, Justice, Supreme Court, New York.)

The law is the last interpretation of the law given by the last Judge.

The enunciation of the most elementary principle of law is frequently met by a demand for "an authority in support of that proposition" No time spent upon providing oneself with a precedent is ever wasted even though the book may have to be judiciously hidden from view until required.—(The Hon'ble Sir Cecil Walsh, Kt., K.C., Ex-Offg., Chief Justice, Allahabad High Court.)

The last Judicial Interpretation of the law is the Law on which your case hangs.

To correctly appraise a Judicial decision, it is important to know later applications of its rules to varying states of facts by way of extension or qualification. — S. Shepard, Chief Justice, Court of Appeal, Washington (U. S. A.).

PREFACE TO THE SECOND VOLUME

The object, plan and special features of this publication have been fully explained in the Preface to the first volume. As we think that it will be useful to reproduce here portions of the Preface dealing with these matters we make no apology for giving such portions again below :

“The aim of the present publication is to make available to the Bench and the Bar in a set of convenient volumes practically the entire statute law passed by the Central Legislature which is of general application to the whole of India. The Acts are given in the alphabetical order of their titles. This has the advantage of enabling an Act to be referred to without having to remember the year and number of the Act — which is the difficulty one feels when referring to the volumes of the Government publication, “Unrepealed Central Acts” in which the arrangement is according to the year and number of the Act. We also have not made any division into civil and criminal Acts as is sometimes done, as we felt that such a division is on the whole an inconvenience rather than an advantage to the profession. In numerous instances, sections of a penal nature are found in enactments which are mainly of a civil nature, e. g., the Stamp Act, Income-Tax Act, Cantonments Act, etc. In such cases it will be highly inconvenient to omit, in the portion that may be allotted to the civil section, the sections of a penal nature and print them in the criminal section. If such a course is adopted, it will detract from the utility of both the portions of the publication. Again, there are Acts like the Evidence Act which will have to appear in both sections. It was, therefore, considered, on the whole, to be the better course to just give all the Acts in their alphabetical order without labelling them as civil or criminal Acts.

Care has been taken to incorporate all the amendments in the various Acts up to date. Even provincial amendments have been given as completely as possible. In the case of the Civil Procedure Code, local amendments by the various High Courts are given. Letters Patent of the different High Courts are also given and also the rules of the Federal Court and the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council.

Besides the above, we have also given the more important of the Acts of the British Parliament applicable to India, such as the Government of India Act, 1935.

We need hardly say that all the Acts have been carefully edited and annotated. Not only have all the amendments been incorporated but also notes have been added giving particulars as to the date and other matters relating to the amendments. Full and copious extracts from Select Committee Reports, Statements of Objects and Reasons and Notes on Clauses have been given in appropriate places under each Act. Besides the above, each Act is preceded by a statement as to how the Act has been affected by subsequent legislation. Further, cognate Acts and provisions have been indicated under the respective enactments.

In addition to the above features, the case-law bearing on the different enactments has been given in the foot-notes under each section. We have taken care to see that the notes are full and it is hoped that the bulk of the relevant Indian case-law would be found summarised in the foot-notes. The notes have been divided into convenient headings of which a synopsis is given for each section. The matter under each heading is presented in a manner which is well adapted for easy and quick reference. It may also be mentioned that what may be treated as a special feature of A. I. R. publications, viz., the giving of the particular page of the report where the point occurs is also present in this publication.

There will be a consolidated subject index at the end of the last volume. This will practically be something more than a general subject index for the whole of the statute law which is of general application to India and the advantages of such an index to the profession are too obvious to require mention. It is also intended to give in the last volume the rules relating to interpretation of statutes."

We owe a word of apology for the delay in the publication of this volume. But we may assure our readers that the delay has been due to causes beyond our control. The public is quite aware of the difficult conditions in the paper market. Added to this, our management had to contend with labour troubles in our printing department - which again, the public can well understand, have been only a repercussion of the country wide labour unrest in India. The A. I. R. has an established reputation for promptness and regularity. We are sure that the public will appreciate our difficulties and extend to us their indulgence for such inconvenience as may have been caused by the abovesaid delay.

Owing to the non-availability, in sufficient quantity, of white printing paper, we have been compelled to print a portion of this volume on unbleached paper. We crave the forbearance of our readers in regard to this also.

ORDER 21, RULE 1.

Synopsis.

1. Scope.
2. Payment into Court.
3. Who should make payment.
4. Effect of payment.
5. Decree directing payment to decree-holder.
6. Payment out of Court to decree-holder.
7. Notice of payment.

1. Scope.—[1] Payments need not be due under executable decree - Payment made under preliminary decree is within this rule. (Vol. 22) 1935 Pat 385 (393) : 14 Pat 488 (DB).

[2] Judgment-debtor cannot be required to pay the money to a third party who has got an unregistered assignment of the decree merely because he happened to know it (Vol. 20) 1933 Mad 523 (524)

[3] This rule does not apply to orders though the same may be executable as decrees. Therefore where a party is ordered to pay costs of the day to the opposite side he cannot deposit the costs in Court under this rule. (1889) 12 Mad 120 (122)

2. Payment into Court.—[1] Where payment under a decree is to be made only in Court and the Court is closed on the last day of making such payment, the payment can be made on the day the Court reopens. (Vol. 12) 1925 All 687 (687) (DB).

[2] The above rule applies even where the decree amount may be paid to the decree-holder into Court inasmuch as the judgment-debtor is entitled to choose the method of payment. (Vol. 22) 1935 Lah 369 (870) * (Vol 26) 1939 Mad 814 (816) * (Vol 12) 1925 Mad 743 (743, 744).

[But see (Vol 16) 1929 All 207 (207) : 51 All 527 (DB) * Compromise decrees - Option to pay direct or deposit in Court - Advantage cannot be taken of Courts being closed on date of payment.] * (Vol 25) 1938 All 199 (200) : ILR (1938) All 337 (DB). * (Vol 33) 1946 Oudh 166 (158) DB.]

[3] An arbitrator is not an officer of the Court and a payment made to him is not a payment into Court (Vol 11) 1924 Rang 263 (264) (DB).

[4] Receiver in administration suit not authorised to receive payments to be made by X - X making payments to receiver who misappropriated them - X held not discharged from liability by reason of such payments. (Vol 19) 1932 P. C. 191 (193) : 59 Ind App 311 : 7 Luck 382 (PC).

[5] Words “all money payable under a decree” do not mean entire amount payable under the decree. Hence even if a portion of the decretal amount is paid into Court it will be valid payment and decree-holder can take out execution only for balance. (Vol 20) 1933 Pat 89 (89, 90) : 11 Pat 796 (DB).

[6] Deposit by judgment-debtor of decretal amount under O. 21, R. 89 to prevent confirmation of sale though made after 30 days of sale can be treated as payment under O. 21, R. 1 for certification. (Vol 12) 1925 Nag 17 (19).

3. Who should make payment.—[1] A payment into Court under this rule can be made only by the judgment-debtor, his agent or his representative. A payment made by a stranger will not have the effect of satisfying the decree unless the decree-holder consents thereto. (Vol 4) 1917 Mad 739 (740, 741), (DB).

4. Effect of payment.—[1] Payment under O. 21, R. 1 according to Court's direction absolves judgment-debtor. (Vol 16) 1929 Oudh 231 (235) : 5 Luck 80 (FB).

[2] Judgment-debtor depositing decretal amount into Court but preventing that sum reaching decree-holder—Judgment-debtor is liable for interest until money is available to decree-holder. (Vol 16) 1929 Nag 227 (228) * (Vol 30) 1943 Mad 834 (835) (DB).

5. Decree directing payment to decree-holder.—[1] In absence of special direction judgment-debtor can choose between O/s (a) and (b) of O. 21, R. 1 (1). (Vol 23) 1935 Lah 349 (370).

(iii) Add the following as clause (b) :

"(b) the costs of giving such notice shall be borne by the person making payment who shall have the option of having the notice served either by a process-server of the Court or by a registered post. No such notice shall issue until the said cost shall have been paid."

[3-2-1938.]

Lahore

Add the following explanation to sub-rule (1) :

"Explanation.—The judgment-debtor may, if he so desires, pay the decretal amount, or any part thereof, into the Court under clause (a) by postal money order on a form specially approved by the High Court for the purpose."

[11-7-1933]

Nagpur

Substitute—

- (a) "decree or order" for "decree" wherever it occurs in the rule and in the marginal note ;
- (b) "by deposit in, or by postal money order to," for the word "into" occurring in clause (a) of sub-rule (1) ; and
- (c) "shall be given by the judgment-debtor to the decree-holder either through Court or direct by registered post" for "shall be given to the decree-holder" occurring in sub-rule (2).

[29-6-1943.]

Patna

For Rule 1 substitute the following :

"1. (1) All money payable under a decree or order shall be paid as follows, namely :

- (a) by deposit in or by special postal money order to the Court whose duty it is to execute the decree or order ; or
- (b) out of Court to the decree-holder ; or
- (c) otherwise as the Court which makes the decree or order shall direct.

(2) Where a judgment-debtor makes any payment under clause (a) of sub-rule (1), he may give notice thereof to the decree-holder —

- (a) either through the Court, on payment of the fees laid down in the rules framed by the High Court under clause (1) of S. 20 of the Court-Fees Act, 1870 (Act VII of 1870), or
- (b) Notwithstanding anything contained in Order 48 Rule 2, by registered post direct.

Where interest is payable under the decree or order, such notice shall, if duly proved, operate as a bar to the accrual of such interest, upon the amount so paid, after the date of receipt of such notice by the decree-holder."

O. 21 R. 1 (contd.)

6. Payment out of Court to decree-holder.—

[1] Person attaching decree is entitled to take money out of Court and to certify payment. (Vol 17) 1930 All 659 (661) (DB).

[But see (Vol 12) 1925 All 123 (124). (Payment out of Court to the decree-holder's attaching creditor cannot satisfy decree).]

[2] Pre-emption decree directing the plaintiff to deposit the amount to the credit of the vendee within 30 days—Payment out of Court certified by the vendee within the period allowed was enough. (Vol 8) 1921 All 159 (160) (DB).

[3] See also O. 21 R. 15.

7. Notice of payment.—[1] The question of notice of payment into Court to the decree-holder is material only where decree awards interest. Where no interest is awarded by decree payment of decretal amount into court discharges the decree even if no notice is given to the decree-holder. (Vol 11) 1924 Pat 118 (119) : 2 Pat 754 (DB).

[2] Where decree awards interest the decree-holder is entitled to interest till the date of notice to him of the payment into Court. (Vol 90) 1943 Mad 334 (335) (DB). * (Vol 19) 1932 Cal 111 (111). * (Vol 6) 1919 Mad 445 (446) ; 42 Mad 576 (DB).

[But see (Vol 26) 1939 Nag 191 (192). (Decree awarding interest until payment—Sum paid into Court —Interest ceases from date of payment).]

[3] Notice of payment in court must be served on decree-holder like summons. (Vol 12) 1925 Nag 52 (54).

[4] Payment into Court—Judge should order notice to decree-holder suo motu—Notice not issued due to judgment-debtor's failure to pay process fees—Still the Court should inform decree-holder of the payment when he next asks for sale of property (Vol 8) 1921 Nag 148 (149).

[5] O. 21, R. 1 (2) does not apply to redemption decrees. They are governed by O. 34, R. 8 which does not require any notice of payment into Court to be given to decree-holder. (Vol 11) 1924 Mad 102 (102) (DB).

[5] Where the judgment-debtor pleads adjustment the failure of decree-holder to appear and oppose does not compel the Court to record satisfaction without proof (Vol 15) 1928 Rang 185 (186) : 6 Rang 218.

[8] Sub-rule (3) does not require both certification and recording of payments. [9] The court can act under its inherent powers and vacate an order brought about by the fraud of one party upon another. (Vol 2) 1915 Mad 281 (282) (DB).

[10] The inherent powers can be invoked only when there is prejudice to one of the parties. (Vol 7) 1920 Pat 750 (751) : 5 Pat L Jour 379 (DB).

[11] Noting of satisfaction on the register of the Civil suit on report from Collector to whom the decree was sent for executing does not amount to recording. (Vol 31) 1944 Nag 231 (232) : ILR (1944) Nag. 746.

17. Notice.—[1] Notice of proceedings under Sub-Rule 1 to judgment-debtor is not necessary. (Vol 5) 1918 Oudh 460 (461) : 21 Oudh Cas 161. * (Vol 6) 1919 Pat 186 (187) : 4 Pat L Jour 159.

18. Uncertified payment or adjustment not to be recognised by Court executing the decree.—[1] Prohibition in sub-rule (3) is limited to a "Court executing the decree" and will not extend to a Court which is not executing the decree, when dealing with such matter. O. 21 R. 10 (contd.)

The right as to the method of executing a decree is one of procedure and not a substantive right. (1911) 9 Ind Cas 800 (801) (All).

[2] The scope of O. 21 seems to be that where R. 10 applies, the word 'court' alone is used, whereas in R. 16, R. 26 and R. 50, when it is intended that the application should be restricted to one court that one court is specifically referred to. (Vol 29) 1942 Mad 501 (502) : ILR (1942) Mad 688.

[3] Appellate decree alone is capable of execution and fresh execution application is necessary.—Practice—Execution. (Vol 17) 1930 Bom 225 (227) (DB).

[4] O. 2, R. 2 does not apply to application for execution. (Vol 20) 1933 Bom 364 (365) : 57 Bom 468 (DB).

Note 2. Application for execution.—[1] An application made to the court which passed the decree for transmission of the decree to another Court is not a substantive application for execution. The transmission order is a ministerial and not a judicial order. (Vol 22) 1935 Lah 508 (509, 510) : 17 Lah 13 (DB). (Such an order can be passed ex parte and the Court passing it has no jurisdiction to decide whether a subsequent application in the transferee Court will be within limitation or not. (Reversing A. [2] In case where decree is transferred application for execution must be made to transferee Court and not to parent Court. (Vol 18) 1931 Lah 14 (14, 15).

[3] But where the decree-holder has already made an application for execution in the court which passed the decree, second application to Court to which decree has been transferred for execution is not necessary. (Vol 11) 1924 Pat 120 (121) : 2 Pat 909 (DB).

(Vol 25) 1938 Rang 385 (386, 387) : 1938 Rang LR 355 (DB).

[6] Transfer of decree to another Court for execution—Execution application in transferee Court dismissed—Subsequent application to the transferring Court—Decree not sent back to the transferring Court—Application is not a proper one. (Vol 3) 1916 PC 16 (17, 18) : 43 Ind App 238 : 39 Mad 640 (PC).

Note 3. Successive applications for execution.—

[1] There is no provision in the Civil Procedure Code, (1882), directing that an application for execution must be when possible, with reference to the entire decree. (1910) 11 Cal. L. Jour. 83 (84) (DB) * (Vol 2) 1915 Mad 811 (812) : 38 Mad 199 (DB). (Successive applications can be made).

[2] When a decree gives reliefs of a different character, such as a decree for possession and decree for costs, there is nothing in the Code which prevents separate and successive applications for execution as regards each of them. (1891) 18 Cal 515 (516) (DB).

[3] Attachment ordered in execution—Application undisposed—Subsequent application for sale beyond time not barred—Decree-holder not disabled by laches—Subsequent application only a continuation. (Vol 3) 1916 Mad 728 (729) (DB).

[4] There is nothing in the Civil PC which authorises piecemeal execution. A party having a right to execute a decree for money presently payable must enforce the whole decree at the same time. He cannot execute it first for the amount of the decree, and, secondly, for the interest due from date of decree to date of payment. (Vol 20) 1933 Bom 364 (365) : 57 Bom 468 (DB).

[5] It is obviously more convenient for the purposes of attachment and sale that for the execution of a single decree there should be a single application, a single procedure of attachment and a single procedure of sale ; otherwise there would be considerable confusion if there were multiplicity of applications, and attachments and sales. (Vol 22) 1935 All 402 (403).

Note 4. Who can apply for execution.—[1] The rule is confined to holders of a decree and there is no difference between the holder of a decree and decree-holder. The holder of a decree under O. 21, Rule 10 must be a person in whose favour a decree has been passed. (Vol 27) 1940 Pat 472 (473) (DB).

Execution by High Court of decree transferred by other Court. jurisdiction.

9. Where the Court to which the decree is sent for execution is a High Court, the decree shall be executed by such Court in the same manner as if it had been passed by such Court in the exercise of its ordinary original civil jurisdiction.

APPLICATION FOR EXECUTION

10. [S. 230, para. 1.] Where the holder of a decree desires to execute it, he shall apply to the Court which passed the decree or to the officer (if any) appointed in this behalf, or if the decree has been sent under the provisions hereinbefore contained to another Court then to such Court or to the proper officer thereof.

PROVINCIAL AMENDMENT

Lahore

Add the following proviso :

"Provided that if the judgment-debtor has left the jurisdiction of the Court which passed the decree, or of the Court to which the decree has been sent, the holder of the decree may apply to the Court within whose jurisdiction the judgment-debtor is, or to the officer appointed in this behalf, to order immediate execution on the production of the decree and of an affidavit of non-satisfaction by the holder of the decree pending the receipt of an order of transfer under Section 39."

[2] The decree-holder within the meaning of the Code is the person whose name appears on the record, as the person in whose favour the decree was made, or some persons whom the court has by order recognised as the decree-holder from the original plaintiff or his representatives. (1878) 2 Mad 216 (217) (DB).

[3] The decree-holder who appears upon the face of the decree is entitled to execute, unless it be shown by some other person under S. 232 (now O. 21, R. 16) that he has taken the decree-holder's place. (1891) 18 Cal 639 (641) (DB).

[4] There is no provision in the Code which allows a person to come forward and say that the decree-holder is a mere non-entity and a benamidar of the applicant and that he (the applicant) is in substance and in fact the holder of the decree. (Vol 27) 1940 Pat 472 (473) (DB).

[5] Decree-holder applying for execution is not required to satisfy Court that provision in decree sought to be enforced is provision in his favour. (Vol 19) 1932 Bom 378 (384) (Obiter).

[6] Compromise decree granting allowance to some parties and one stranger—Execution application by all—Held stranger to suit cannot execute though he can sue on it. Decree-holder alone can make the application for execution. (Vol 4) 1917 Oudh 182 (184) (DB).

[7] Application for execution by several persons—one of them can withdraw and application can be continued in name of others. (Vol 22) 1935 All 402 (404).

[Decree in favour of three persons awarding them separate costs—joint application for execution by two is maintainable.]

[8] S. 230 (now O. 21, R. 10) applies to all holders of decrees and does not reserve or except a case of a decree-holder attaching property before judgment under S. 480 (now O. 38, R. 11 C.P.C. (1888) 12 Bom 400 (406).

[9] Joint family of father and sons—Partition by arbitration—(Decree ou award)—Father subsequently getting decree in respect of joint family debt—Execution application by one of sons—Application is proper as sons can come forward and say that they have an interest in the decree and are holders of the decrees (Vol 24) 1937 Pat 607 (608) (DB).

[10] If minor ratifies application made by his next friend within three years of his attaining majority, such ratification renders application valid. (Vol 18) 1931 Lah 600 (601) (DB).

[11] Where an application for execution was presented by an agent without a power of attorney, who on objection filed a power of attorney subsequently, held, that the Court should accept it and treat the application as having been presented on the date of production of the power. (1913) Pun L. R. No. 86 page (327) : 1912 Pun Re. No. 118.

[12] Decree-holder's disappearance—Nothing known as to death—Pleader can apply. (Vol 12) 1925 Pat 369 (372) : 4 Pat 378 (DB).

[13] Pleader authorized to appear in suit is also deemed as authorized to appear in execution proceedings. (Vol 12) 1925 Pat 692 (693) (DB).

[14] Execution application presented by vakil is in accordance with law though vakalat is not dated. (1903) 26 Mad 197 (199).

Note 5. Time of presentation.—[1] Where an execution application is presented to the Deputy Clerk of Court who is an officer appointed to receive such applications, beyond office hours on the last day of limitation and is accepted by him, the presentation is proper and valid. In such a case the ratification by the Judge for such presentation is not necessary. (Vol 25) 1938 Nag 46 (47) : ILR (1938) Nag 451. Application presented not during usual Court hours but on the last day of limitation prevailing upon the officer of Court to accept the presentation on that day. (Discretion is not improperly exercised).

1. Scope of the Rule.—[Execution petitions are as important as suits themselves—Court must bestow proper amount of care and caution. (Vol. 29) 1942 Mad 495 (497).]

[2] 'In accordance with law' means that application though defective in some particular is one upon which execution can lawfully be ordered (Obiter) (Vol 21) 1934 Bom 307 (310) : 59 Bom 1 (DB).

[3] Whether the application for execution is or is not according to law, would depend on the facts of each case depending upon whether the executing Court would or would not issue execution on the application for execution as preferred to it (Obiter) (Vol 21) 1934 Bom 307 (310) : 59 Bom 1 (DB). * (1891) 18 Cal 462 (465) : (DB). (Informalities of an immaterial character in an execution application will not vitiate an application).

[4] Defective execution application should not be regarded as one in accordance with law. (Vol 5) 1918 Mad 1090 (1092, 1093) : 40 Mad 949 (DB). (Application may start fresh limitation if defects removed.) (Vol 18) 1931 All 722 (723). (Application not in accordance with law does not save limitation.) * (Vol 6) 1919 Cal 466 (467) (DB). Defective application is not step-in-aid of execution).

[5] An executing court must ascertain whether an application for execution complies with the requirements of the rules and if it does not, it must either reject the application or allow it to be amended then and there, or within a fixed time. (Vol 7) 1920 Lah 122 (122). * (Vol 30) 1943 Pat 127 (129) ; 21 Pat 838 (DB)

[6] Application for execution not complying with provisions of O. 21, R. 11—defective thereby—Court should abstain from deciding whether or not the decree is capable of execution. (1911) 11 Ind Cas 696 (696) (Cal) (DB).

[7] Where an application for execution in substantial compliance with the law is preferred to the court such an application will be effectual to stay the progress of limitation, whether the court admits or rejects or returns the application or allows such application to be amended (Obiter) (Vol 21) 1934 Bom 307 (310) ; 59 Bom 1 (DB). * (Vol. 5) 1918 Mad 1090 (1092, 1093) : 40 Mad 949 (DB). (Application substantially in accordance with law—Failure to re-present after necessary correction does not affect saving of statutory bar—Wrong computation of pleader's fees or non production of encumbrance certificate or draft proclamation does not make application not in accordance with law) * (Vol 30) 1943 Nag 296 (297) : ILR (1943) Nag 584 (DB). (Court rejecting application for execution for default of decree-holder to correct defects therein—Order of rejection is not adjudication that application is not in accordance with law) * (Vol 11) 1924 Pat 23 (24) : 2 Pat 809 (DB). (Application conforming with O. 21, R. 11 to 14 but returned for some other reason is not invalid).

- (j) the mode in which the assistance of the Court is required, whether —

Objects and Reasons.

Section 256 began like this : "When a decree is passed for a sum of money only, and the amount decreed does not exceed the sum of one thousand rupees, the Court may, . . ."

"The Committee have omitted the limitation imposed under the existing Code on oral applications for immediate execution. They see no reason why this limitation should be preserved.

Rule 11 (e).—The Committee have not given effect to the suggestion that this should be limited to payments and adjustments which the creditor executing the decree is bound by law to recognise, as this would remove a valuable incentive to state truly, what payments have been made."—S. C. R.

in proper form—Court acting thereon and granting relief—Application is one in execution and order is legal. (Vol 15) 1928 Mad 129 (130, 131, 132) (DB). (Per Devadoss J., Contra Jackson J.).

[9] Question of bona fide intention of the person in applying for execution of a decree does not arise in the execution proceedings. (Vol 18) 1931 Sind 160 (161) : 25 Sind LR 528.

[10] When a conditional decree is made, the plaintiff on default by the defendant, should apply to the court which passed the decree on notice to the defendant for absolute order. Then if and when such order is obtained, application may be made in the usual way for execution of that order according to the provisions of O. 21. R. 11 (1906) 10 Cal WN 306 (310).

[11] Preliminary decree for foreclosure and subsequent passing of final decree without knowledge of mortgagee—Application by mortgagee for passing decree absolute and for possession is not execution application according to law. (Vol 4) 1917 Nag 172 (173).

2. Execution of decrees under other Acts.—

[1] Wife and husband arriving at arrangement under proceedings under Guardians and Wards Act with regard to maintenance of their children—Consent order passed under which husband was to pay expenses of maintenance and schooling of children to wife or schooling authorities as the case may be—Wife taking out summons for leave to execute consent order as if it were decree for payment of money—Although order did not fall within terms of Guardians and Wards Act, still it was valid being within ordinary jurisdiction of Court and as parties were properly before the Court—

It could not however be regarded as decree for payment of money. (Vol 26) 1939 Bom 367 (368, 369) (DB).

[2] Immediate execution on oral application as enacted in sub-rule (1) can be ordered under S. 198 (3) of the Orissa Tenancy Act, (II of 1913) and under S. 192 (g) of the Madras Estates Lands Act, (I of 1908).

[3] Execution of decree against immovable properties of judgment-debtor under Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) and the Orissa Tenancy Act (II of 1913)—For the particulars to be supplied in the application see Secs. 162 and 216 of those Acts respectively.

[4] Execution of decree relating to immovable property under the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act, VI of 1908—Application should be accompanied by a certified copy of the decree.

3. Verification of application.—[1] Although O. 21, R. 11 permits the signing and verification of an application for execution by some person other than the decree-holder, the application itself must be that of the decree-holder or his recognised agent or pleader. (Vol 24) 1937 Mad 760 (761). ✕ (1904) 26 All 154 (155) (DB). (Application verified by the general attorney of the decree-holder who satisfies the Court that he is acquainted with the facts of the case is properly verified).

As a pleader who represented party in a case out of which proceedings in execution have arisen must be held to be a person acquainted with the facts of the case, an application in execution signed and verified by him is a compliance with the provisions of O. 21, R. 11 (2). (Vol 21) 1934 Nag 224 (225). (Verification by pleader representing party in the original case held proper.) ✕ (Vol 16) 1929 Bom 196 (196) (DB) (Do).

"(ff) Whether the original decree-holder has transferred any part of his interest in the decree and, if so, the date of the transfer and the name and address of the parties to the transfer,"

* (Vol 17) 1930 Lah' 603 (604). (Application for execution by pleader who had been acting as next friend of decree-holder in original suit—Decree-holder major on date of application—Application is valid without power-of-attorney when pleader acts bona fide in the matter.) * (1931) 61 Mad L. Jour. 516 (517) (DB). (Execution application neither signed nor verified by decree-holder, but signed by his pleader only, who is not acquainted with facts—The application is not in accordance with law.)

[2] Where the son of the decree-holder presented an application for execution on his father's behalf and the Court returned it for amendment under O. 21, R. 11 (2) and there was nothing upon the record to show that the son who signed and verified this application was a "person acquainted with the facts of the case" within the provisions of Sub-R. (2) of R. 11 of O. 21: Held, that the application was rightly returned as not complying with the provisions of O. 21, R. 11, Sub-R. (2). It could not be said to be pending in Court when it was not filed subsequently after making proper amendment. (Vol 24) 1937 Sind 108 (110) : 31 Sind LR 14.

[3] Application verified by decree-holder's son and presented on last date of limitation—Pleader by oversight omitting to sign it and consequently rejected—Decree-holder cannot be made to suffer for omission of Court to give him opportunity of putting in proper application. (Vol 7) 1920 Lah 122 (122).

[4] Application for execution—Friend making an application as guardian for another who is found to be major at the time—Application, held, to be not in accordance with law. (1905) 28 Mad 396 (398) (DB).

[5] It would be straining the language of the rule too far to say that where there are more applicants than one, the verification should be signed by all although they are not acquainted with the facts of the case or that where one or more are acquainted with the facts of the case their verification is not sufficient. (Vol 11) 1924 Pat 23 (25) : 2 Pat 809 (DB).

[6] Execution application not signed by decree-holder is not void, but can be amended. (Vol 7) 1920 Pat 636 (638) (DB).

[7] Application by person other than decree-holder—Verification need not be in Court's presence. (Vol 11) 1924 Cal 811 (811) (DB).

[8] Time and place of verification omitted—Defect held trivial and application not bad thereby. (Vol 23) 1936 Pat 62 (63) (DB).

4. Names of the parties.—[1] Omission to state names of all persons interested in the decree does not invalidate execution proceedings. (Vol 13) 1926 Cal 811 (812) (DB), * (1932) 33 Pun LR 549 (550).

[2] All that R. 11 (2) (b) requires is that the names of the parties should be specified. It says nothing about the addresses. Consequently the application not specifying addresses of judgment-debtors, is not invalid. (Vol 28) 1941 Nag 152 (154).

5. Date of decree to be given.—[1] Mistake in entering date of decree is not material defect. (Vol 6) 1918 Pat 41 (51) : 4 Pat L Jour 213 (DB).

[3] Omission to mention the ground of extension of the period of limitation in the application for execution is not fatal. (Vol 27) 1940 Lah 178 (179).

[4] Burden of proving that an application for execution is not time barred and is in accordance with law is on the applicant. (Vol 18) 1931 Sind 160 (161): 25 Sind LR 528.

6. Payment or other adjustment.—[1] The applicant for execution is bound to mention in the application any payment or adjustment made between the parties after decree, whether payments are certified or not by the court, (1886) 10 Bom 288 (297, 298) (DB). (Intentional omission to make statement about adjustment after decree amounts to an offence under S. 193 I.P.C.) * (Vol 13) 1926 Nag 164 (166) * (Vol 11) 1924 Nag 185 (187). (Non-mention of prior adjustment renders execution application illegal.) * (Vol 3) 1916 Bom 217 (218): 40 Bom 333 (DB). (Decree satisfied out of Court—Payment not certified—Application for execution filed containing false statement that there was no adjustment—Court cannot permit unjust order in execution).

[2] All that sub-cl. (e) of R. 11, O. 21, requires is that the payments made should be specified in the application it says nothing about the dates of these 'payments.' Therefore, application not specifying such dates is in accordance with law. (Vol 28) 1941 Nag 152 (154).

[3] Notice of deposit served on decree-holder—Sufficiency of deposit admitted by decree-holder. He cannot again take out execution. (Vol 20) 1933 Pat 89 (90): 11 Pat 796 (DB).

[4] A certification of payment made by decree-holder, after the decree is statute barred is not a step-in-aid execution and cannot revive limitation. (Vol 20) 1933 Sind 365 (366) (DB).

[5] Application for execution not mentioning money realized by attachment of decree obtained by judgment debtor—Omission does not vitiate application. (Vol 21) 1934 Cal 465 (466) (DB).

7. Previous applications and their results.—[1] Order 21, R. 11 (2) (f) would be complied with if in a further application for execution, the result of a previous application was stated whatever the result might have been as for instance that it has been completely infructuous. (Vol 28) (1941) Bom 37 (39): I.L.R. (1941) Bom 89.

[2] Previous application—Date not mentioned—Defect is not material, where number is given—Cross decree need not be mentioned where it could not be set off: (Vol 11) 1924 Cal 398 (399) (DB).

[3] Omission to specify all the previous applications with date and results is not illegality vitiating proceedings—Whether irregularity is material or not depends on facts of each case. (Vol 13) 1926 Cal 1146 (1147-1148) (DB).

[4] An application for execution which failed to mention, as required by O. 21, R. 11 (b), the previous application, was such a material defect as to render the application not in accordance with law and will not save limitation. (Vol 9) 1922 Sind 29 (30): 15 Sind L.R. 156 (DB). (omission held material.)

[5] Application for execution—Previous application within limitation, defective so far as it failed to mention details as required by O. 21, R. 11 (f)—Returned for amendment but amendment not made within time allowed—Held omission not a material defect—Application one in accordance with law. (1893) 16 Mad 142 (143) (DB).

8. Amount due upon decree.—[1] Amount to be recovered not known—Execution cannot be entertained. (Vol 8) 1921 Nag 90 (91) (DB).

[2] An application for execution which does not show the amount of the decree and the amount of costs is not in accordance with law. (1922) 65 Ind Cas 120 (120) (Pat). (Is not a step-in-aid of execution so as to save limitation.) * (Vol 29) 1942 Pat 295 (296) (Amount of costs entered in the column for amount due and column for costs left blank—Error arose from entry in Civil Suit Register—Application was allowed to be amended.)

[3] Where a decree awards interest and the application for execution specifies the interest from the date of the decree to the date of the application, execution may be ordered on future interest also upto the date of sale, even though it is not specifically included in the application. (Vol 19) 1932 Cal 555 (557) (DB).

[4] Particulars of interest due are not required by O. 21, R. 11 (g), or by any other provision of the code, and these particulars can be furnished by the decree-holder at any time after issue of notice to the judgment-debtor, when evidence is taken, or before orders are passed, for the purpose of ascertaining the amount due. (Vol 26) 1939 Rang 345 (346) (DB). * (Vol 9) 1922 Pat 409 (411): 1 Pat 149 (DB). (Interest wrongly mentioned in execution application—Court is not bound to verify correctness of amount but to see if form is correct.)

[See also * (Vol 20) 1933 Mad 872 (874) (Mere omission of particulars under cl. (d) and (g) is not sufficient to render execution application not in accordance with law.)]

9. Amount of costs awarded. [1] If the decree-holder asks for more costs than are actually due to him, that might be another matter, but where, when he asks for something less and the difference is of a trivial character, it is impossible to hold that the application is so vitiated as to be incapable of execution at all. (Vol 28) 1941 Nag 152 (154) (DB).

[2] The omission to mention the amount of costs in the execution application is a defect of such an immaterial character as could hardly be said to render the application one not according to law. (Vol 9) 1922 Sind 29 (30): 15 Sind L.R. 156 (DB).

[3] If costs are awarded in the course of execution proceedings, separate execution may be taken out for costs, (1910) 5 Ind Cas 480 (481, 482) (Cal) (DB).

10. Against whom execution is to issue.

[1] Money-decree—Execution can be taken out without judgment-debtor or his representative being made party—Property attached before judgment—Property sold to stranger during attachment—Subsequent adjudication of judgment-debtor—Execution application by sale of attached property against purchaser is maintainable without joining Official Assignee. (Vol 30) 1943 Mad 179 (180, 181): I.L.R. (1943) Mad 659 (DB). (Rules as to joinder of parties in suits do not apply to execution proceedings).

[2] Application for execution—It would not be sufficient to say that the decree is sought to be enforced against the judgment-debtors; the names must be given (1872) 18 Suth WR 55 (56) (DB). (Per Couch, J.).

[3] Application for execution—Where decrees is to be executed against minor's property, the proper course is

Application for attachment of moveable property not in judgment-debtor's possession.

12. Where an application is made for the attachment of any moveable property belonging to a judgment-debtor but not in his possession, the decree-holder shall annex to the application an inventory of the property to be attached, containing a reasonably accurate description of the same.

[1882-S. 236; 1877-S. 236; 1859-S. 214 See Ss. 2 (13) and 60.]

Application for attachment of immovable property to contain certain particulars.

13. Where an application is made for the attachment of any immovable property belonging to a judgment-debtor, it shall contain at the foot—

(a) a description of such property sufficient to identify the same and, in case such property can be identified by boundaries or numbers in a record of settlement or survey, a specification of such boundaries or numbers; and

(b) a specification of the judgment-debtor's share or interest in such property to the best of the belief of the applicant, and so far as he has been able to ascertain the same.

to include in the application description of property to be sold, the name of the defendant against whom decree was obtained etc., to make it distinctly clear that the property of the minor is about to be sold. (1872) 18 Suth WR 55 (56, 57) (DB).

[4] Wrong mention of defendants' names does not render application invalid. (Vol 17) 1930 Mad 172 (173).

11. Mode in which assistance of the court is required.—[1] An execution application which does not specify the manner in which the assistance of the Court is sought is not an application in accordance with law. (1895) 19 Bom 34 (35) (DB). * (1911) 11 Ind Cas 696 (696) (DB) (Cal). * (Vol 19) 1932 Lah 534 (534) : 14 Lah 6 (DB). (Held on the facts that the mode of execution was sufficiently described.)

[2] Application for execution—Relief to sell property not situated within jurisdiction of Court cannot be granted—Application is however in accordance with law if bona fide. (Vol 18) 1931 Sind 160 (161) : 25 Sind LR 528.

[3] Mode of execution—Decree-holder asking for removal of building, something court was not competent to give—Held, application presented under O. 21, R. 11 should have asked for that particular assistance which under O. 21, R. 32 could have been granted. (1882) 8 Cal 174 (177) (DB).

[4] Where property cannot be voluntarily sold on the one hand and cannot be compulsorily sold in execution on the other, as when S. 16, C. P. Land Alienation Act is applicable, mere attachment can have no meaning and so court has no jurisdiction to attach it. (Vol 22) 1935 Nag 133 (135) : 31 Nag LR 239.

[5] Any method suggested by the decree-holder for the satisfaction of his decree which method is not actually prohibited by law falls within the purview of R. 11(2) (j) (v). (Vol 15) 1928 Lah 7 (9).

[6] Rateable distribution is not a form of execution, (Vol 16) 1 29 Nag 148 (150) : 25 Nag LR 94 (DB).

[7] Sale without attachment is one method of execution; attachment of a decree of a debt is another, falling under the general heading "Otherwise as the nature of the relief may require." An application for execution by one method cannot be converted into one for execution by the latter method. (1911) 9 Ind Cas 240 (241) (Oudh).

[8] O. 21, R. 11(2) makes no mention of a temporary alienation of land, the reason probably being that the court of execution when refusing to order the sale of the property, is expected to direct instead, a temporary alienation thereof without any specific prayer to that effect. (Vol 7) 1920 Lah 117 (118) (DB).

[9] If the property is already attached or the attachment is unnecessary. Hence a mere reference in the darkhast applicat on that the property sought to be sold is attached already is a sufficient specification of that property, and if merely its sale is asked for in execution of the decree, the requirements of O. 21, R. 11, Sub-R. (2), Cl. (j), are sufficiently complied with. (Vol 27) 1940 Bom 250 (251). Such a darkhast is in accordance with the law).

[See also (1891) 18 Cal 462 (465) (DB). (Application for execution not complete in itself so as to show in what manner execution is to be taken out is still capable of being acted on where it refers to the former application in which the mortgaged properties were set out, and where it is prayed that the decree may be executed by sale of those properties.)]

[10] Execution application—Omission to state form of notice wanted does not make application one not in accordance with law. (Vol 20) 1933 Rang 87 (89). * (Vol 30) 1943 Bom 238 (239). (The application for execution containing the words "a notice be issued under O. 21, R. 22" in the last column is not irregular.)

[11] Application not showing particulars of movables to be attached is in accordance with law. (Vol 28) 1941 Nag 152 (155).

[12] Mortgage decree—Property described in plaint and decree—Application for execution need not be in form prescribed under R. 11—Court shall sell the property after getting necessary particulars from decree-holder. (Vol 21) 1934 Lah 58 (59).

12. Certified copy of decree to be filed.—

[1] Application for execution correct—Dismissal for failure to file copy of decree—Application is in accordance with law and saves limitation—Limitation Act (9 of 1908), Art. 182. (Vol 5) 1918 Rat 547 (548) (DB).

[2] Application fulfilling requirements of R. 11—Application is good if copy of decree is subsequently filed and saves limitation—Limitation Act (9 of 1908), Art. 182. (Vol 5) 1918 All 242 (243) : 40 All 209 (DB).

[3] Held, (1) (Where a copy of decree is inordinately lengthy a copy of the entire decree is wholly needless if the court in which the application for execution was made was the very Court which had made the decree and if any reference to the decree was needed, the original could easily have been examined). (Vol 17) 1930 Cal 804 (805) : 57 Cal 996. (Copy of ordering part held sufficient).

14. Where an application is made for the attachment of any land which is registered in the office of the Collector, the Court may require the applicant to produce a certified extract from the register of such office, specifying the persons registered as proprietors of, or as possessing any transferable interest in, the land or its revenue, or as liable to pay revenue for the land, and the shares of the registered proprietor.

Application for execution by joint decree-holder.

15. (1) Where a decree has been passed jointly in favour of more persons than one, any one or more of such persons may, unless the decree imposes any condition to the contrary, apply for the execution of the whole decree for the benefit of them all, or, where any of them has died, for the benefit of the survivors and the legal representatives of the deceased.

(2) Where the Court sees sufficient cause for allowing the decree to be executed on an application made under this rule, it shall make such order as it deems necessary for protecting the interests of the persons who have not joined in the application.

[6] The provisions of this rule are mandatory. (Vol. 28) 1941 Nag 152 (155).

[7] Limitation Act (1908), Art. 182—Application failing to describe properties as required by O. 21, R. 13 is not one in accordance with law unless the defects are remedied by amendment under R. 17. (Vol 18) 1931 Bom 128 (128) * (Vol 3) 1916 Lah 316 (316) (DB). * (1940) 1 Mad L Jour 477 (477).

[2] Decree-holders members of joint family—Death of one leaving other as sole survivor—Survivor can apply for execution to Court executing decree—Non-mention of death of coparcener is not sufficient to reject application if Court knows in subsequent proceedings of fact of death—(Vol 19) 1932 Pat 359 (360) : 12 Pat 42 (DB).

Synopsis.

1. Procedure on receiving application for execution.
2. Amendment and Limitation.
3. Non-compliance with order of amendment within time fixed.
4. Procedure on admission of application.
5. Execution of maintenance decree.
6. Value of property attached.

1. Procedure on receiving application for execution.—[1] It is the duty of the Court to see whether all requirements under O. 21, Rr. 11 to 14 have been complied with (Vol 29) 1942 Mad 495 (497).

[See also] (Vol 9) 1922 Pat 409 (410) : 1 Pat 149 (DB.) [It does not impose upon the Court the duty to see that the amount entered in the application as due by way of interest under rule 11 (2) (g) is correct.]

[2] Parties should not be made to lose by reason of Court's failure to check the correctness of their entries in their execution application. (Vol 15) 1928 Mad 24 (25) (DB) * (Vol 11) 1924 Mad 367 (368) (DB).

[3] Where an execution application, complying with requirements of O. 21, Rr. 11 and 14, instead of being admitted is returned by the Court, the order returning the application is illegal, and the application must be treated either as pending or as disposed of along with the next application with which it was presented. (Vol 29) 1942 Mad 495 (497, 498.)

[4] Under O. 21, R. 17, the executing court has a discretion to allow the amendments. (Vol 20) 1933 P. C. 68 (70) : 60 Ind App 83 : 60 Cal 662 (P.C.) * (Vol 13) 1926 Mad 260 (260.)

[5] Requirements of O. 21, Rr. 11 to 14, not complied with—Court can either reject the application at once or allow defect to be remedied then and there or within time fixed. (Vol 20) 1933 Oudh 75 (75, 76.) Mere application for rateable distribution is not a proper application for execution of the decree within the meaning of O. 21, R. 11. But the court may allow the defect to be remedied.

[6] Court can allow only formal defects to be amended under O. 21, R. 17. 1. Scope.—[1] Rules 18 and 19 of O. 21, do not exhaust the cases in which set-off may be allowed in execution proceedings. Apart from Rr. 18 and 19 of O. 21, the Court has inherent jurisdiction on equitable principles to allow a set-off of claims arising at different stages in the same suit or proceedings and this even if the right to recover the claim sought to be set-off, is barred by limitation. (4) The holder of a decree passed against several persons jointly and severally may treat it as a cross-decree in relation to a decree passed against him singly in favour of one or more of such persons.

(a) A holds a decree against B for Rs. 1,000. B holds a decree against A for the payment of Rs. 1,000 in case A fails to deliver certain goods at a future day. B cannot treat his decree as a cross-decree under this rule.

(b) A and B, co-plaintiffs, obtain a decree for Rs. 1,000 against C, and C obtains a decree for Rs. 1,000 against B. C cannot treat his decree as a cross-decree under this rule.

(c) A obtains a decree against B for Rs. 1,000. C, who is a trustee for B, obtains a decree on behalf of B against A for Rs. 1,000. B cannot treat C's decree as a cross-decree under this rule.

(d) A, B, C, D and E are jointly and severally liable for Rs. 1,000 under a decree obtained by F. A obtains a decree for Rs. 100 against F, singly and applies for execution to the Court in which the joint decree is being executed. F may treat his joint-decree as a cross-decree under this rule.

[3] Firm is identical with individuals constituting it—Decree in favour of partners individually can be set off against the firm composed of same individuals. (Vol 14) 1927 Bom 255 (256).

6. Decree must be capable of execution at the same time.—[1] Decrees to be adjusted by set off should be capable of execution at time of adjustment. (Vol 20) 1933 Lah 372 (373).

11. Appeal.—[1] The question of set-off under O. 21, R. 18 is a question relating to execution or satisfaction of a decree within the meaning of S. 47 and an appeal lies from an order refusing to allow set-off. (Vol 29) 1942 Pat 197 (198.)

ORDER 21 RULE 19.

Synopsis.

1. Scope and object of the rule.
2. Two parties.
3. Two sums unequal—Procedure.

1. Scope of the Rule.—[1] The principles upon which the Court will proceed under O. 21, R. 18, 19, Civil P.C., are substantially those upon which the Court proceeds under O. 8, R. 6 Civil P. C. (Vol 18) 1931 Cal 23 (24) : 57 Cal 855.

[2] The words "a decree under which two parties are entitled" suggest the simultaneous birth of two sets of rights under one decree. (Vol 17) 1930 All 726 (727) (A judgment-debtor objected to attachment of certain property, and obtained decree for costs against the decree-holder. When the judgment-debtor sought to execute his decree for costs, the decree-holder asked for a set-off for decree for costs against amount due to him under his decree in the suit. Held that R. 19 would not apply as the two claims were not under one decree.) (Vol 24) 1937 Pesh 83 (84) (Parties entitled to recover sums of money under different decrees.)

[3] Object of O. 21, R. 19 is to avoid multiplicity of proceedings (Vol 23) 1941 Sind 49 (50) : ILR (1941) Kar 129.

[4] Rule 19 is not limited in application to cross claims which are of precisely the same nature or cases where the parties fill the same character. (Vol 1) 1914 Oudh 416 (417) (Costs awarded to mortgagor can be set off against mortgage-money.)

[5] A plaintiff in a redemption suit after paying the total amount required for redemption can execute the decree for costs awarded to him. (Vol 31) 1944 Oudh 247 (247, 248) (DB.)

[6] Orders awarding costs to both parties—Set-off is allowable. (Vol 4) 1917 Pat 239 (260) (DB.)

[7] Where the High Court varies a decree for costs passed by the trial Court and the appeal to the Privy Council is dismissed with costs, the judgment-debtor is entitled in execution of the decree for costs of the Privy Council, to set off the costs realised before three years by the decree-holder in execution of the trial Court's decree. (Vol 22) 1935 Cal 225 (227) : 62 Cal 298 (DB.)

[8] Order 21, R. 19, applies to a case where a party gets a decree for the sale of property for the amount claimed as arrears of rent and the opposite party is entitled under the same decree to costs. The party entitled to smaller sum is not entitled to execute decree. (Vol 25) 1938 Mad 638 (640) (DB.)

[9] Order 21, R. 19 applies even to a case of a claim by a defendant against a plaintiff personally and a claim by a plaintiff against the defendant as legal representative of another deceased defendant. The mere fact that there has to be some inquiry under the provisions of S. 50, Civil P. C. as to the extent of the property of the deceased in the hands of his legal representative or that the sum may be limited by the provisions of S. 50, does not remove a case out of the scope of R. 19 of O. 21. (Vol 28) 1941 Sind 49 : ILR (1941) Kar 129.

[10] Suit for pre-emption—Decree passed conditional on plaintiff depositing particular sum—Costs and mesne profits granted to plaintiff till delivery—Amount of costs and mesne profits can be set-off against amount of deposit. (Vol 17) 1930 All 413 (418) * (Vol 9) 1922 Lah 142 (143) : 2 Lah 294 (DB.)

[11] Pre-emption suits under Ss. 14 and 15, Oudh Laws Act—Purchase money must be deposited—In such suits costs cannot be set-off against pre-emption amount. (Vol 11) 1924 Oudh 104 (105) : 26 Oudh Cas 345.

[12] Preliminary decree for sale by prior mortgagee against mortgagor and subsequent transferee—Decree awarding costs to subsequent transferee against plaintiff—Plaintiff applying under R. 19 to set off costs decree against his decree—Final decree passed accordingly—Costs decree of the subsequent transferee held could not be set-off—R. 19 had no application—Proper remedy held to be amendment of his decree. (Vol 21) 1934 All 8 (10.)

[13] X having decree against A—A and B having decree against X—A incurring debt on behalf of himself and B—A and B asking for set-off against X—Set off should not be refused to A and B—Under Rr. 18 to 20 of O. 21 set off decree is not discretionary matter depending upon equitable considerations. (Vol 24) 1937 PC 39 (41) : 64 Ind App 67 : 16 Pat 127 (PC.)

[14] On general principles and in the exercise of its inherent power, an executing Court can entertain and give effect to a claim to set-off even in cases which do not come strictly under O. 21, R. 19. (Vol 23) 1936 Cal 409 (412) : ILR (1937) 1 Cal 57 (DB.) * (Vol 22) 1935 Cal 225 (226) : 62 Cal 298 (DB.)

(Vol 26) 1939 Lah 85 (86) (Set-off can be allowed under inherent jurisdiction of claims arising at different stages of same proceedings even if such claims are time-barred.) (Vol 23) 1936 Mad 626 (628) : ILR (1937) Mad 59 (DB.) (Decree directing plaintiff to deposit into Court certain amount—Defendant to execute deed of re-conveyance to plaintiff—Defendant also to pay costs—Plaintiff depositing amount deducting costs. Claims held to be in nature of cross demands—Doctrine of equitable set-off applied. * (Vol 25) 1938 Sind 81 (82) : 32 Sind L R 162 (DB.) (Rules 18 and 19 are not exhaustive.)

[15] Redemption Decree against several persons—Appeal by one of them dismissed with costs—Decree-holder depositing full amount of redemption-decree and taking execution of decree for costs against such persons—O. 21, R. 19 held did not apply nor could such person claim set-off of costs decreed against him on principles of equity. (Vol 29) 1942 Oudh 177 (178).

[16] The conjoint effect of Rr. 19, 182, 183 and 189 of O. 21, (as added by the Allahabad High Court) is that if the garnishee is ordered to pay a certain sum of money to the decree-holder, such order is a decree which virtually becomes part and parcel of the original decree passed in the suit. It cannot be contended, in these circumstances, that R. 19 does not apply for the reason that "the parties" are not entitled to recover sums of money from each other under the decree sought to be executed. (Vol 21) 1934 All 1056 (1057).

[17] Suit in forma pauperis to recover property—Decree in favour of plaintiff for certain sum—Government for recovery of Court fee to be paid by plaintiff under decree—Defendant objected that certain costs were payable to him under the same decree and that some money was payable to him by plaintiff under a decree in cross-suit and that such sums should be set off—No execution was made either by plaintiff or defendant of their respective decrees—Held that Rr. 18 and 19 had no application to this case and that the decrees of plaintiff and defendant not having reached a stage to which the rules 18 and 19 apply, no question of set-off arose. (1887) 9 All 64 (67) (DB.)

2. Two Parties.—[1] Redemption decree against several persons—Appeal by one of them dismissed with costs—Decree-holder depositing full amount of redemption decree and taking execution of decree for costs against such person—Held O. 21, R. 19 did not apply nor could such person claim set-off under general principles. (Vol 29) 1942 Oudh 117 (118) : 17 Luck 435 (DB.)

[2] Joint and several money decrees against two judgment-debtors individually awarded costs exceeding decree in aggregate—Execution—Decree-holder can execute decree against only one judgment-debtor without deducting costs of both. (Vol 4) 1917 Mad 226 (228) (DB.)

[3] Venkatasubba Rao, J.—The section does not exclude the case of a decree-holder on whose death his interest devolves on two different individuals. "Two parties" referred to in R. 19 are the parties to the suit. The words do not refer to two different representatives of the same party. (Vol 10) 1923 Mad 638 (640) (DB.)

[4] R. 19 deals with a case in which only two parties are entitled to recover sums of money from each other. It does not cover a case in which the creditors of one of the parties are also concerned. (Vol 25) 1938 Oudh 169 (171) : 14 Luck 106 (DB.)

3. Two sums unequal—Procedure.—[1] Execution of decree for smaller sum cannot be issued against party to whom larger sum is payable. (Vol 5) 1918 Cal 133 (134) (DB.) (Vol 25) 1938 Mad 638 (639, 640) (DB.) (Decree in favour of one party for sale of property for recovery of arrears of rent—Same decree granting opposite party costs—O. 21, R. 19 applies.)

[2] Where the decree for specific performance directs the plaintiff to deposit certain amount (Rs. 825) and the defendant to pay as costs to the plaintiff certain amount (Rs. 478) the creditor holding a decree against the defendant can attach only the balance (Rs. 352.) (42) 1942 Nag L. Jour 346 (347, 348).

[3] Court has to decide first what each party owed to the other and allow execution for difference. (Vol 5) 1918 Cal 153 (154) (DB.)

(4) Decree in cross-claims is indivisible and can be executed for balance—Bar of limitation to execution of larger amount does not authorise execution of decree

Cross-decrees and 20. The provisions contained in rules 18 and 19 shall apply to decrees for cross-claims in mortgage sale in enforcement of a mortgage or charge. gage suits.

Objects and Reasons

"This rule is new. It is inserted in order to make it clear that the provisions as to cross-decrees and cross claims apply to the case of mortgage decrees. The rule also makes it clear that the expression "decree for the payment of money" and other similar expressions in the Code do not include a decree for sale in enforcement of a mortgage or charge."—S. ORDER 21, RULE 20, Note 1

[1] The principle of set-off is applicable to mortgage decrees, but both the decrees need not be mortgage decrees. (Vol 20) 1933 Pat 210 (214) (DB.) * (Vol 24) 1937 PC 39 (40) : 64 Ind App 67 : 16 Pat 127 (PC.) * (Vol 31) 1944 Mad 149 (150).

[2] The words of R. 20 "decree for sale in enforcement of a mortgage or charge" cannot be restricted to personal judgment such as may be given under O. 34, R. 6. (Vol 24) 1937 PC 39 (41) : 64 Ind App 67 : 16 Pat 127 (PC.) * (Vol 32) 1945 Cal 1 (5, 6) : (Vol 20) 1933 Pat 210 (216, 217) (DB.) [6] Right of set-off is not lost merely because Court is asked to notify encumbrance of decree (Vol 20) 1933 Pat 210 (218) (DB.)

2. Legal representative.

- (b) against the legal representative of a party to the decree, a [or where an application is made for execution of a decree filed under the provisions of section 44A], the Court executing the decree shall issue a notice to the person against whom execution is applied for requiring him to show cause, on a date to be fixed, why the decree should not be executed against him :

Provided that no such notice shall be necessary in consequence of more than one year having elapsed between the date of the decree and the application for execution if the application is made within one year from the date of the last order against the party against whom execution is applied for, made on any previous application for execution, or in consequence of the application being made against the legal representative of the judgment-debtor, if upon a previous application for execution against the same person the Court has ordered execution to issue against him.

(2) Nothing in the foregoing sub-rule shall be deemed to preclude the Court from issuing any process in execution of a decree without issuing the notice thereby prescribed, if, for reasons to be recorded, it considers that the issue of such notice would cause unreasonable delay or would defeat the ends of justice.

(1) To enable the judgment-debtor and the decree-holder to adjust their claims against each other and,

(2) To prevent a multiplicity of execution proceedings. (Vol 15) 1928 Cal 222 (224) : 55 Cal 512 (DB).

PROVINCIAL AMENDMENTS

Allahabad

Add "or any person whose interests are affected by the decree, or by any order made in execution thereof" after the words "was passed" and before the words "the Court may."

Rule 29A N.-W. F. P.

After Rule 29 the following rule shall be added :

"29A. When a suit under Rule 63 of this Order is pending, the Court in which such suit is filed may, if it considers that execution of the former decree should be stayed, intimate the fact to the executing Court, which shall thereupon stay execution until the suit is decided."

O. 21 R. 29 (contd.).

[3] The rule relates to execution proceedings only and therefore does not apply to proceedings for restitution. (Vol 17) 1930 Lah 961 (968).

[4] The executing Court has no power to stay the execution under O. 21, R. 29, if at that time no suit is pending before it against the decree-holder on the part of the judgment debtor; but the Court has an inherent power under section 151 of the Civil Procedure Code to stay execution on the ground that the ex parte decree was obtained by fraud. (Vol 10) 1923 Lah 514 (515).

[5] Suit for declaration against decree-holder that decree is satisfied by uncertified adjustment out of Court—Stay of execution cannot be granted. (Vol 10) 1923 Cal 645 (646) (DB).

[6] Order 21, R. 29, is not an imperative one and the Court has a discretion either to grant the relief asked for, namely, stay of execution, or to refuse it. (Vol 22) 1935 Rang 389 (390) (DB). * (Vol 22) 1935 Rang-151 (152) : 13 Rang 351 (DB).

[7] O. 21, R. 29, embraces every kind of suit which is maintainable. There is no limitation in the rule. Once it is conceded that a suit is maintainable the procedure laid down in this rule is at once attracted. (Vol 23) 1936 Mad 102 (103).

[8] Court can stay execution under R. 29 only before operation of R. 29 takes place, i.e., before sale of property. (Vol 22) 1935 Rang 151 (152) : 13 Rang 351 (DB).

[9] Rule 29 has no application to granting of interim injunction and applicant cannot be asked to furnish security. (Vol 20) 1933 Nag 153 (154, 155).

[10] Execution of decree stayed by injunction—Court passing order that attachment is to subsist till decision of suit by judgment-debtor and that application is to stand dismissed for time being—Order is not warranted by law—It is merely a suspensory order keeping execution case pending. (Vol 23) 1936 Cal 239 (240) : 63 Cal 56 (DB).

2. Holder of a decree.—[1] Plaintiff sued an assignee of a decree obtained against the plaintiff. The claim of the plaintiff was for damages for breach of an agreement with the defendant whereby the decree against the Plaintiff was to be satisfied. Plaintiff applied for stay of execution of decree by the defendant against the plaintiff—Held that the suit was maintainable and was a suit within O. 21, R. 29, and stay could be granted within the discretion of the Court. (Vol 23) 1936 Mad 102 (103).

[2] Set off—Equitable—A. holding decree against B. Suit by B. against A.—Pending suit, A assigning decree to C.—During execution proceeding B obtaining decree against A in his suit—B can claim equitable set off for amount due to him under this decree against C's claim. Held C took the decree subject to B's equitable right to have execution stayed until his suit has been decided and therefore to set off his decree. (Vol 25) 1938 Bom 253 (256) : ILR (1938) Bom 263 (DB).

3. Such Court.—[1] Where application to stay execution is made to Court which did not pass decree O. 21, R. 29 does not apply. (Vol 17) 1930 All 121 (121) (DB).

[2] The words 'decree of such Court' include also the decree passed on appeal from the decree of that Court. (1888) 10 All 389 (393, 394).

[3] Court to which decree is transferred has power to stay execution. (Vol 21) 1934 Cal 4 (4, 5) : 60 Cal 1119 (DB). * (1888) 10 All 389 (393, 394).

[4] O. 21, R. 29, has no reference to personality of judge presiding over a Court—Execution proceedings need not be in Court in which suit is pending. It is sufficient if suit is pending in any Court against the holder of a decree of such Court. (Vol 18) 1931 Bom 247 (248, 249) (DB). (Two judges—Execution before one judge can be stayed).

4. Until the pending suit has been decided. [1] Words "pending suit has been decided" mean "finally decided" and include an appeal. (Vol 15) 1928 Cal 222 : 55 Cal 512.

[But see (Vol 31) 1944 Mad 73 (74) (DB).]

[2] Stay can be given even after a suit has been dismissed provided that an appeal is pending. (Vol 22) 1935 Rang 389 (390) (DB).

[3] Execution stayed under inherent powers and not under R. 29—Order operates till disposal by Court making order and not till disposal of appeal. (Vol 19) 1932 Cal 19 (20) : 58 Cal 1113. (Vol 15) 1928 Cal 222 : 55 Cal 512. (Dissented from.)

[4] Under its inherent powers, appellate Court can stay execution of original decree pending the decision of the appeal. (10) 1910 Pun L R 149 page 406 (408) : 1910 Pun Re. No. 82.

5. Execution of award, if can be stayed under this rule. [1] An award under the Arbitration Act (IX of 1899), though it can be enforced as a decree under S. 18 of the Act, is nothing more than an award and its execution cannot be stayed under O. 21, R. 29. (1911) 35 Bom 196 (198).

6. Appeal and Revision.—[1] An appeal lies from an order passed under O. 21, R. 29, staying or refusing to stay execution. (1888) 10 All 389 (391). (Order staying execution.) * (1897) 20 Mad 366 (367) (DB). (Refusing to stay execution.)

[But see (1883) 9 Cal 214 (215) (DB). (Order staying execution is neither one under S. 47 nor an appealable order.)]

[2] O. 21, R. 29—Court has ample discretion in passing an order in which the execution of the decree could be stayed, until the pending suit has been decided and where it is properly exercised, High Court will not interfere. (Vol 18) 1931 Bom 247 (249, 250) (DB).

[3] Security for full amount of decree under O. 21, R. 29, being discretionary, High Court will not interfere in revision, unless discretion was improperly used. (Vol 16) 1929 Sind 110 (111) (DB).

[4] [See also S. 47, Note 36.]

MODE OF EXECUTION.

30. Every decree for the payment of money, including a decree for the payment of money as the alternative to some other relief, may be executed by the detention in the civil prison of the judgment-debtor, or by the attachment and sale of his property, or by both.

31. (1) Where the decree is for any specific movable, or for any share in a specific movable, it may be executed by the seizure, if practicable, of the movable or share, and by the delivery thereof to the party to whom it has been adjudged, or to such person as he appoints to receive delivery on his behalf, or by the detention in the civil prison of the judgment-debtor, or by the attachment of his property, or by both.

(2) Where any attachment under sub-rule (1) has remained in force for six months, if the judgment-debtor has not obeyed the decree and the decree-holder has applied to have the attached property sold, such property may be sold, and out of the proceeds the Court may award to the decree-holder, in cases where any amount has been fixed by the decree to be paid as an alternative to delivery of movable property, such amount, and, in other cases, such compensation as it thinks fit and shall pay the balance (if any) to the judgment-debtor on his application.

ORDER 21, RULE 30.

Synopsis.

1. Scope.
2. Option as to mode of execution.
3. Attachment and sale.

1. Scope:—[1] Rule 30 is not exhaustive as to modes of execution of money decrees. (Vol 13) 1926 Oudh 616 (617) : 1 Luck 569 (DB.)

[2] Execution of a money-decree by ejectment of a tenant is a method provided by S. 61 of the Oudh Rent Act in addition to the particular method of execution provided by the Code. (1912) 15 Oudh Case 381 (382) (DB.)

[3] An order directing a party to refund money wrongly drawn out by him in land acquisition proceedings could be enforced under order directing a party to pay money, as compensation for costs or otherwise; and directing that such decree or order may be enforced by the imprisonment of the judgment-debtor, or by sale and attachment of his property, or by both. (1905) 32 Cal 921 (928) (DB)

2. Option as to mode of execution. [1] O. 21, R. 30 shows sufficiently that the holder of a money decree is not to be restricted to one mode of execution. (Vol 29) 1942 Sind 83 (85) : ILR (1942) Kar 168 (DB). * (Vol 30) 1943 Lah 166 (168) (Decree-holder wishing to avail of two remedies open to him—Court should ordinarily grant both.) * (Vol 17) (1930) Lah 220 (221) (Execution against person—Court cannot compel him to accept payment by instalments.) * (Vol 26) 1939 Pat 380 (381) : 18 Pat 366 (DB).

[2] Judgment-creditor is to decide whether execution should be taken against the person or property of judgment-debtor—Court, though it has discretion for refusing simultaneous execution against both, cannot decline to order execution against person in the first instance. (Vol 18) 1926 Lah 110 (111) : 6 Lah 548 (DB). (Refusal should be an exception and not rule.) * (1893) 5 All 86 (88, 89) (FB).

[See also (Vol 14) 1927 Lah 131 (132) (DB). (Notice to surety by Court under the proviso to S. 145 along with the warrant for his arrest is not invalid.)

[See however (Vol 2) 1915 Lah 174 (174). (Other modes available—Decree-holder not justified in proceeding against person.)

[3] Application for execution of money decree by attachment and sale—Part of property hypothecated to decree-holder as security bond—Objection by judgment-debtor that suit on bond should be instituted first is not maintainable. (Vol 22) 1935 All 179 (180).

[4] Where a judgment-debtor conceals himself arrest and attachment of his property can simultaneously be made in execution of a decree against him, even though he owns considerable property. (Vol 20) 1933 Lah 307 (308).

[5] Execution—Simultaneous execution by two or more methods is reasonable and feasible—Security sufficient for realising decree—Decree-holder's procedure showing harassment and not desire to realise decree—Court may refuse relief against judgment-debtor's person. (Vol 23) 1936 Pat 28 (29) (DB).

[6] Decree for maintenance creating charge on specific property—In case charged property was not available charge to shift on other property of judgment-debtor—Execution against person of judgment-debtor without first proceeding against charged property—Application held could not be allowed as it was made mala fide. (Vol 33) 1946 All 385 (387) (DB).

3. Attachment and sale:—[1] This rule does not apply to decree charging property. Decree directing sale of specific property - No attachment is necessary. (Vol 11) 1924 Pat 258 (258) : 2 Pat 768 (DB.) * (Vol 23) 1936 Lah 573 (578) (Decree directing property to be considered as under mortgage and judgment-debtor prevented from alienating it - Attachment before sale is not necessary.)

[2] Attachment - Money decree payable by instalments - Security given by judgment-debtor of certain property - Default in payment - For sale of property charged, no attachment is necessary. (Vol 21) 1934 Pat 608 (609) : 13 Pat 387 (DB)

[3] In the case of mortgage-decrees direction for sale in the decree is the authority to sell and therefore no attachment is necessary. (1880) 4 Bom 515 (520) (DB.)

[4] Sale of judgment-debtor's property without attachment is valid and there is no irregularity which can vitiate the same. The effect of rules 30 and 64 of O. 21 was not to limit the power given by S. 51 to sell without attachment, the absence of which does not vitiate such a sale nor make the judgment-creditor guilty of any irregularity. (Vol 26) 1939 Bom 277 (278) : ILR (1939) Bom 420 (DB).

ORDER 21, RULE 31 Note 1.

[1] In the present Civil Procedure Code the reference to suits for recovery of a wife has been omitted from O. 21, R. 31. (Vol 1) 1914 Mad 219 (221) (DB.)

(3) Where the judgment debtor has obeyed the decree and paid all costs of executing the same which he is bound to pay, or where, at the end of six months from the date of the attachment, no application to have the property sold has been made, or, if made, has been refused, the attachment shall cease.

ORDER 21 RULE 32

Synopsis.

1. A. Scope.
2. Decree for specific performance.
3. Restitution of conjugal rights.
4. Form of decree for restitution of conjugal rights.
5. Decree for injunction.
6. "Opportunity of obeying the decree".
7. Sale of property. Sub rule (3).
8. Disobedience of order for injunction or specific performance.

(2) Where the party against whom a decree for specific performance or for an injunction has been passed is a corporation, the decree may be enforced by the attachment of the property of the corporation or, with the leave of the Court, by the detention in the civil prison of the directors or other principal officers thereof, or by both attachment and detention.

(3) Where any attachment under sub-rule (1) or sub-rule (2) has remained in force for one year, if the judgment-debtor has not obeyed the decree and the decree-holder has applied to have the attached property sold, such property may be sold; and out of the proceeds the Court may award to the decree-holder such compensation as it thinks fit, and shall pay the balance (if any) to the judgment-debtor on his application.

(4) Where the judgment-debtor has obeyed the decree and paid all costs of executing the same which he is bound to pay, or where, at the end of one year from the date of the attachment, no application to have the property sold has been made, or if made, has been refused, the attachment shall cease.

(5) Where a decree for the specific performance of a contract or for an injunction has not been obeyed, the Court may, in lieu of or in addition to all or any of the processes aforesaid, direct that the act required to be done may be done so far as practicable by the decree-holder or some other person appointed by the Court, at the cost of the judgment-debtor, and upon the act being done the expenses incurred may be ascertained in such manner as the Court may direct and may be recovered as if they were included in the decree.

O. 21 R. 32 (contd.).

9. Disobedience of decree for restitution of conjugal rights.

1. A. Scope.—[1] Execution application—R. 32 (1) not specifically mentioned - Some of reliefs falling within R. 32 (1)—Application cannot be dismissed as a whole. (Vol 32) 1945 Oudh 81 (82).

[2] Decree for injunction - O. 21, R. 32 only prescribes mode of execution - If Court has to be moved, application should be made within limitation - On breach of injunction no contempt of Court proceeding arises. (Vol 22) 1935 Lah 702 (704.)

2. Decree for specific performance.—[1] Decree for specific performance of contract for sale - Court can as well grant possession of property even though no relief for possession is asked for in plaint or awarded by decree. (Vol 18) 1931 Pat 179 (180, 181)

[2] Decree for specific performance operates in favour of both parties - Defendant is as much entitled to enforce decree as plaintiff. (Vol 19) 1932 Cal 579 (582): 59 Cal 501.

3. Restitution of conjugal rights.—[1] A decree for the restitution of conjugal rights passed between Hindus or Mohomedans can be enforced under this rule (1875-77) 1 Bom 164 (167) (DB.)

[2] In a decree for the restitution of conjugal rights passed between Mohomedans, the Court will refuse to send the wife back to her husband's house if cruelty by the husband is proved; so also if there is gross failure by the husband of the performance of his obligations towards his wife (1866-67) 11 Moo Ind. App. 551 (610) (PC)

[3] The general application of O. 21 R. 32 to decrees for the restitution of conjugal rights is, in the case of Parsees, superseded by the special provision of S. 36 of the Parsee Marriage and Divorce Act. (1872) 9 Bom H. C. R. 290 (290, 297, 304.)

4. Form of Decree for restitution of conjugal rights.—[1] In a suit for restitution of conjugal rights against the wife and other defendants who prevent her from going to her husband, the decree should declare the husband's right and direct that the other defendants do refrain from preventing the wife from returning to him. (Vol 7) 1920 Pat 798 (799.)

[2] Though R. 33 (1) of O. 21 has qualified R. 32 in enforcing decrees for restitution of conjugal rights, still a Court can pass an effective decree, so that where the wife is a minor, her parents can be directed to hand her over, and in default execution can proceed against their person and property. (Vol 1) 1914 Mad. 219 (221).

[3] Where, in a decree for the restitution of conjugal rights, the plaintiff's mother-in-law who was impleaded as a defendant in the suit, was directed to refrain from preventing the plaintiff's wife from returning home, it was held that her action in merely permitting her daughter, who was of age to reside in her home after decree, did not justify the attachment of her property under this rule. (1875-77) 1 All 501 (505) (DB.)

5. Decree for injunction.—[1] R. 32 (1) applies to prohibitory injunctions as well as to mandatory injunctions (Vol 32) 1945 Oudh 81 (82). * (Vol 6) 1919 Cal 674 (678)—46 Cal 108 * (1911) 21 Mad L. Jour 465 (466).

[2] Suit by plaintiff to be appointed guardian of his minor sons - Suit decreed - Defendant ordered to hand over the custody of minors - Defendant can be proceeded against under O. 21 R. 32 for non-compliance with order. (Vol 2) 1915 Mad 157 (170).

[3] An order to furnish an account which was contained in a preliminary decree is not an injunction within O. 21 R. 32. The word "injunction" as used in O. 21 R. 32 has a more extended meaning than it has in the Specific Relief Act. It is not every order of a Court directing a person to do a certain act that is an injunction. In its essence an injunction is a relief consequential upon an infringement of a legal right. (Vol 5) 1918 Pat 451 (452) : 3 Pat L. Jour 106 : 19 Cr. L. Jour 385.

6. "Opportunity of obeying the decree".—[1] An order for enforcing a decree by imprisonment under O. 21 R. 32 should not be made till the defendant has had an opportunity of obeying the decree or has continuously refused to obey it. (1870) 7 Bom H. C. R. (O. C. J.) 122 (136.)

[2] Decree in 1899 against the defendant for possession of the house and an injunction restraining him from occupying the house—Application for execution of the decree in 1904 alleging that the judgment-debtor

A, a person of little substance, erects a building which renders uninhabitable a family mansion belonging to B. A, in spite of his detention in prison and the attachment of his property, declines to obey a decree obtained against him by B and directing him to remove the building. The Court is of opinion that no sum realizable by the sale of A's property would adequately compensate B for the depreciation in the value of his mansion, B may apply to the Court to remove the building and may recover the cost of such removal from A in the execution proceedings.

Objects and Reasons.

"The Committee have omitted in this rule all reference to a decree for the recovery of a wife, for there can be no such decree under the law, as a wife cannot be treated as a chattel to be delivered over to the husband. When any third person prevents the wife from returning to her husband, the latter may obtain an injunction against him which may be enforced in case of disobedience either by the imprisonment of the defendant, or by the attachment of his property, or by both"—S. O. R.

[3] Application for execution dismissed on the ground that judgment-debtor was not given an opportunity to obey the decree—Subsequent application for execution, after opportunity had been given, is not barred. (1894) 21 Cal 784 (788) PC.]

[4] Decree in injunction suit passed in presence of defendants—No disobedience of injunction on part of defendants—Plaintiff is not entitled to ask Court to issue notice or order embodying injunction and have it served on defendants. O. 21 R. 32 does not provide for such notice or order. (Vol. 23) 1936 Mad 706 (706, 707).

7. Sale of property—Sub-Rule (3).—[1] This rule is a highly penal one and must be construed strictly. Under it when a sale is ordered, the following conditions must exist: (a) a valid original attachment; (b) application within one year of that attachment by decree-holder for sale; (c) lapse of one year from date of attachment. Therefore, where an order of attachment was made on 27th June, 1908 and was carried out on 20th July 1908 and no application for sale was made by 20th July, 1909. Held, that the attachment ceased to exist, and the order for sale therefore was set aside. (1911) 1911 Pun. L. R. No. 170 p. 628 (630): 1911 Pun. Re. No. 69.

[2] Decree for restitution of conjugal rights—Court cannot change it into decree for payment of money—Property attached and sold within three months from date of attachment—Sale is void and without jurisdiction. (Vol. 24) 1937 Rang. 126 (127): 1937 Rang. L. R. 164.

[3] Decree obtained by wife for property against husband—Husband getting decree for restitution of conjugal rights—Execution of decrees—Wife's decree attached—

Wife can execute decree even during one year of husband's attachment provided proceeds go in satisfaction of decree against her. (Vol. 22) 1935 Mad 413 (414).

[4] Decree for injunction—Judgment-debtor by his own act making it impossible to obey decree—He is liable to pay compensation. If, however, it be impossible to award the decree-holder any compensation, then the only remedy which must be adopted would be to detain him in civil prison. (Vol. 22) 1935 All. 480 (481): 57 All. 858 (DB.)

[5] Sale of property under O. 21 R. 32 (3) is for a person's wilful failure to obey the decree of Court and cannot be set aside under O. 21 R. 89 which is not applicable. (Vol. 20) 1933 Cal. 96 (97, 98).

8. Disobedience of order for injunction or specific performance.—[1] This rule specifically provides for the execution of a decree for injunction. It is wrong to say that the only remedy of the decree-holder is to bring a separate suit for damages. (Vol. 22) 1935 All. 480 (480): 57 All. 858, (DB.)

[2]. The 5th clause of Order 21 Rule 32 applies only where a decree for an injunction has not been obeyed. (Vol. 8) 1921 Lab. 376 (377) * (Vol. 4) 1917 Mad. 656 (657). (Breach of injunction—Subsequent withdrawal of obstruction does not repair breach.)

[3] Order 21, r. 32 cl. 5 does not apply to prohibitory injunctions. It is the act required to be done by the mandatory injunction that is "the act required to be done" within the meaning of the clause. (Vol. 21) 1934 Cal. 402 (403): 61 Cal. 148 (D. B.) * (Vol. 25) 1938 All. 416 (417, 418). I.L.R. (1938) All. 673. D.B. * (Vol. 25) 1939 Pat. 522 (523).

[But see per Richardson J.] (Vol. 6) 1919 Cal. 674 (675): 46 Cal. 103.

"Act required to be done" means what has to be done to enforce injunction, it applies to both kinds of injunctions.]

[4] The Court can under O. 21 R. 32 secure enforcement of decree granting permanent injunction by punishment.

ORDER 21, RULE 33 Note 1

[1] Before amendment of this Rule by Act 29 of 1923, it was held that a Court ought, in exercise of its discretion, to refuse execution of a decree for restitution of conjugal rights against wife by her detention in civil prison (Vol 11) 1924 All 836 (836, 837). (3) The Court may from time to time vary or modify any order made under sub-rule (2) for the periodical payment of money, either by altering the times of payment or by increasing or diminishing the amount, or may temporarily suspend the same as to the whole or any part of the money so ordered to be paid, and again revive the same, either wholly or in part as it may think just.

34. (3) Where the judgment-debtor objects to the draft, his objections shall be stated in writing within such time, and the Court shall make such order approving or altering the draft, as it thinks fit.

(4) The decree-holder shall deliver to the Court a copy of the draft with such alterations (if any) as the Court may have directed upon the proper stamp-paper if a stamp is required by the law for the time being in force; and the Judge or such officer as may be appointed in this behalf shall execute the documents so delivered.

(6) The Court, or such officer as it may appoint in this behalf, shall cause the document to be registered if its registration is required by the law for the time being in force or the decree-holder desires to have it registered, and may make such order as it thinks fit as to the payment of the expenses of the registration.

[4] Property to be delivered Zamindari—tank or mineral rights in direct possession of judgment-debtor—Delivery in such cases can be only by a proclamation of the fact of delivery of possession having been made—Such delivery is not symbolical but is effective as a delivery by actual possession. ARREST AND DETENTION IN THE CIVIL PRISON.

37. (1) Notwithstanding anything in these rules, where an application is for the execution of a decree for the payment of money by the arrest and detention in the civil prison of a judgment-debtor who is liable to be arrested in pursuance of the application, the Court ^a[shall], instead of issuing a warrant for his arrest, issue a notice calling upon him to appear before the Court on a day to be specified in the notice and show cause why he should not be committed to the civil prison :

^b[Provided that such notice shall not be necessary if the Court is satisfied by affidavit, or otherwise, that, with the object or effect of delaying the execution of the decree, the judgment-debtor is likely to abscond or leave the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court.]

10. Consent of judgment-debtor.—[1] Consent of judgment-debtor is not essential for executing warrant for delivery of possession. Nor is it necessary to apprise him of the fact of such delivery of possession. (Vol 20) 1933 Lah 22 (23) * (Vol 22) 1935 All 938 (939) : 7 Cr. L. Jour 56.

12. Break open—Sub-rule (3).—[1] Even under the old Code, it was held that an officer of Court can break open locks or doors to place decree-holder in possession though there was no corresponding provision under that Code. Though in the old Code there was no provision corresponding to this sub-rule, it was held that where the building or enclosure to be given possession of was locked by the judgment-debtor or some person claiming under him and bound by the decree, the officer of the Court had the power to break open the lock, and place the decree-holder in possession. [2] Where the property, which is the subject-matter of a suit for possession, is in the possession of a tenant or a mortgagee, or of a person having a right of residence, delivery of the property in execution can be made under this rule, provided that such person is not bound

[6] Order 21, Rule 41, which definitely restricts the rights of the party to call for accounts till after a decree is obtained within the principle that a more particular provision overrides a more general provision, limits the application of O. 39, R. 1 (b) even if the latter is in terms applicable. Nor can the inherent powers of the Court be invoked to justify the issue of an order for production of account books not related to the suit, at an earlier stage and thereby completely nullify the restriction laid down in O. 21, R. 41. [11] Garnishee totally denying the debt—Court should order his examination or direct him to produce his account books, only if it is satisfied that it would better enable decree-holder to proceed with execution and would prevent possible fraud or collusion. (Vol 25) 1938 Mad 771 (772, 774).

If the property cannot, from its nature or bulk, be conveniently kept on the court-premises, or in the personal custody of the nazir, he may, subject to approval by the Court, make such arrangements for its safe custody under his own supervision as may be most convenient and economical, and the Court may fix the remuneration to be allowed to the persons, not being officers of the Court in whose custody the property is kept.

(6) When property remains in the village or locality where it is attached and any person other than the judgment-debtor shall claim the same, or any part of it, the attaching officer shall nevertheless, unless the decree-holder desires to withdraw the attachment of the property so claimed, maintain the attachment, and shall direct the claimant to prefer his claim to the Court.

(7) (a) If the decree-holder shall withdraw an attachment or it shall be withdrawn under sub-rule (2) or sub-rule (9) the attaching officer shall inform the debtor, or in his absence, any adult member of his family, that the property is at his disposal.

(11) If a pound has been established in or near the place where the Court is held, the nazir shall be at liberty to place in it such attached live-stock as can be properly kept there, in which case the pound keeper will be responsible for the property to the nazir and shall receive the same rates for accommodation and maintenance thereof as are paid in respect of impounded cattle of the same description, or such less rate as may be agreed upon.

(12) If there be no pound available, or if, in the opinion of the Court, it be inconvenient to lodge the attached live-stock in the pound, the nazir may keep it in his own premises, or he may entrust it to any person selected by himself and approved by the Court. The nazir will in all cases remain responsible for the custody of the property.

(13) Each Court shall from time to time fix the rates to be allowed for the custody and maintenance of the various descriptions of live stock with reference to seasons and local circumstances. PROVINCIAL AMENDMENTS

Rules 46A to 46 I Calcutta

Add the following rules :

"46A. The Court may in case of a debt, other than a debt secured by a mortgage or a charge or by a negotiable instrument, which has been attached under Rule 46 or Rule 51 of this Order, upon the application of the attaching creditor, issue notice to the garnishee liable to pay such debt calling upon him either to pay into Court the debt due from him to the judgment-debtor or so much thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy the decree and costs of execution, or to appear and show cause why he should not do so :

Provided that if the debt in respect of which the application aforesaid is made is in respect of a sum of money beyond the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Court, the Court shall send the execution case to the Court of the District Judge to which the said Court is subordinate, and thereupon the Court of the District Judge or any other competent Court to which it may be transferred by the District judge will deal with it in the same manner as if the case had been originally instituted in that Court.

accordance with the directions set out in the sale deed, the attachment is good and neither the vendee nor the vendor can object—(Per Full Bench). (Vol 29) 1942 Lah 275 (278) : ILR (1943) Lah 17 (FB).

[6] Order 21, R. 46, provides means for dealing by the attaching officer with goods which are in the physical possession of a third party whether or not the ownership of the goods be in the judgment-debtor or in the third party and whether or not the legal right to possession be in the judgment-debtor or in the third party. The rule is only intended to deal with the case of physical possession by a party other than the judgment-debtor. (Vol 19) 1932 Pat 279 (280, 281) : 11 Pat 493 : 33 Cri L Jour 883 (DB).

[7] Debt attached from garnishee before judgment—Amount of debt not specified—Fact that garnishee did not object to attachment is no reason why advantage obtained should thereafter be unduly pressed against him. (Vol 29) 1942 Sind 87 (88) : ILR (1942) Kar 173 (DB).

[8] An order of the Court to pay is a necessary ingredient of every garnishee order. (Vol 28) 1941 Cal 579 (580) : ILR (1941) 2 Cal 221.

[9] Decree against partners in their individual capacities—In execution of such decree garnishee proceedings cannot be taken in respect of debt due to firm. (Vol 28) 1941 Cal 364 (366, 367) : ILR (1941) 1 Cal 889.

[10] Subscription to provident fund cannot be attached by garnishee order. (Vol 26) 1939 Rang 432 (438) : 1939 Rang LR 504.

[11] Right to sue for damages for breach of contract is not attachable. (Vol 12) 1925 Sind 98 (99).

[12] Parties to garnishee proceeding knowing appointment of receiver to receive payment, not informing court and getting order passed by settlement—Payment by garnishee does not discharge him. (Vol 28) 1941 Cal 579 (580) : ILR (1941) 2 Cal 221.

2. Debt, Meaning of.—[1] Per Full Bench—The word 'debt' in S. 60 and O. 21, R. 46, means a sum of money which is now payable or will become payable in the future by reason of a present obligation. It is an actually existing debt, i.e., a perfected and absolute debt; not merely a sum of money which may or may not become payable at some future time or the payment of which depends upon contingencies which may or may not arise. (Vol 29) 1942 Lah 275 (278) : ILR (1943) Lah 17 (FB).

[2] Unpaid mortgage money is not "debt." Hence it cannot be attached in execution of decree against mortgagor or his heirs. (Vol 29) 1942 Lah 234 (236) : ILR (1943) Lah 746. * (Vol 21) 1934 All 449 (453).

[3] "Debts" include shares of debts also. (Vol 24) 1937 Cal 199 (200) : ILR (1937) 2 Cal 48.

[4] The term 'debt' means a debt either due or accruing due. An annuity cannot be attached when it does not fall due, as also money expected to reach a public officer, but not actually come to his hands. (1911) 14 Cal L. Jour 127 (131, 133).

[5] Life-policy requiring proof of death before payment—Money payable by company becomes debt only on proof of death. (Vol 16) 1929 Mad 347 (347, 348).

Such application shall be made on affidavit verifying the facts alleged and stating that, in the belief of the deponent, the garnishee is indebted to the judgment-debtor.

46B. Where the garnishee does not forthwith pay into Court the amount due from him to the judgment-debtor or so much thereof as is sufficient to satisfy the decree and the costs of execution or does not appear and show cause in answer to the notice, the Court may order the garnishee to comply with the terms of such notice, and on such order execution may issue as though such order were a decree against him.

46C. Where the garnishee disputes liability, the Court may order that any issue or question necessary for the determination of liability shall be tried as if it were an issue in a suit, and upon the determination of such issue shall make such order or orders upon the parties as may seem just.

46D. Where it is suggested or appears to be probable that the debt belongs to some third person or that any third person has a lien or charge on, or other interest in, such debt, the Court may order such third person to appear and state the nature and particulars of his claim (if any) to such debt and prove the same.

46E. After hearing such third person and any other person or persons who may subsequently be ordered to appear, or wheresuch third or other person or persons do not appear when so ordered, the Court may make such order as is hereinbefore provided, or such other order or orders upon such terms, if any, with respect to the lien, charge or interest (if any) of such third or other person as may seem fit and proper.

46F. Payment made by the garnishee on a notice under Rule 46A or under any such order as aforesaid shall be a valid discharge to him as against the judgment-debtor and any other person ordered to appear as aforesaid, for the amount paid or levied although such judgment may be set aside or reversed.

46G. The cost of any application made under rule 46A and of any proceeding arising therefrom or incidental thereto, shall be in the discretion of the Court.

46H. An order made under Rules 46B, 46C or 46E shall be appealable as a decree." [26-1-1935.]

ORDER 21, RULE 49.

Synopsis.

1. Attachment of partnership property.
2. Sub-rule (2)
3. Decree against individual partner.
4. Sub-rule (4)—Notice.

1. Attachment of partnership property.—[1] Decree against individual partner—Partnership property cannot be attached, but an order creating a charge on the interest of the judgment-debtor in the partnership can be passed with or without the appointment of the receiver. (Vol 28) 1941 Cal 364 (366) : ILR (1941) 1 Cal 389. * (Vol 19) 1932 All 468 (469) (DB.) (Interest of partner in partnership property only vests in receiver - He cannot be appointed to manage entire partnership) * (Vol 6) 1919 Cal 296 (304) (DB.)

[2] A debt due to a firm cannot be attached under R. 46 in execution of a decree against a partner in his individual capacity. (Vol 28) 1941 Cal 364 (366, 367) : ILR (1941) 1 Cal 389 (DB.)

[3] Order 21, R. 49 is imperative and sale of partnership property in execution of money decree against one of partners is inoperative and invalid. (Vol 22) 1935 Cal 275 (278) (DB.)

[4] Interest of partner in partnership assets is moveable—O. 21, R. 78 applies to sale of partner's interest—O. 21, R. 90 does not apply. (Vol 25) 1938 Lah 65 (67, 68) (DB.)

[5] Rule does not apply to dissolved partnership—Dissolution of partnership on partner's death—Subsequent decree against his assets—Order under R. 49 cannot be made in respect of his assets in partnership. (Vol 38) 1946 Mad 176 (178). (Expression "a partner" and "such partner" in R. 49 (2) mean a partner in the firm as such.)

[6] Rule 49 cannot be read with S. 52 (1), so as to make it applicable to a case where a partnership is dissolved on the death of a partner and a decree obtained against the legal representatives of the deceased is sought to be executed by attachment of the assets belonging to him in the (dissolved) partnership. (Vol 38) 1946 Mad 176 (179.)

2 Sub-rule (2).—[1] Rule 49 provides process in substitution of ordinary process of attachment—R. 49 (2) does not contemplate levying of attachment within R. 58. R. 63 not applicable where process is issued under R. 49. (Vol 33) 1946 Mad 176 (177, 178).

[2] Order 21, R. 49 (2) charges the interest of the partner in the partnership property and profits. The partner's interest is his right to participate in the net assets of the firm, that is, in the value or proceeds of the assets less the liabilities to third parties and not less any liability to himself. (Vol 27) 1940 Rang 153 (154) (DB.) The court charges and orders the sale of whatever the partner is entitled to from the partnership business as between that partner and the other partners, as if on dissolution of the firm.

See also (Vol 28) 1941 Nag 63 (65, 66) : ILR (1942) Nag 248 (Judgment-debtor partner entitled only to share of profits over-drawing his account—Other partners are entitled to priority over the judgment-creditor of over-drawing partner—Receiver can insist that nothing should be paid to the judgment-debtor for any private or personal purpose.

[3] Applications under O. 21, R. 49—Objection by garnishee that judgment-debtor is not his partner and no money is due to him—Objection not decided—Appointment of receiver is irregular. (Vol 27) 1940 All 250 (250.)

3. Decree against individual partner.—[1] Assignee of one partner cannot sue other partners for accounts—Assignee obtaining decree against one of other partners and receiver appointed for share of judgment-debtor partner—Even such receiver cannot sue other partners for accounts but has only to receive profits of judgment-debtor partner. (Vol 19) 1932 Pat 15 (18, 19) : 10 Pat 792 (DB.)

4. Sub-rule (4)—Notice.—[1] An order passed under sub-rule (2) without any notice as required by this rule is irregular and can be set aside in revision. (Vol 27) 1940 All 250 (250, 251.)

Provided that nothing in this sub-rule shall be deemed to limit or otherwise affect the provisions of section 247 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872.

(2) Where the decree-holder claims to be entitled to cause the decree to be executed against any person other than such a person as is referred to in sub-rule (1), clauses (b) and (c), as being a partner in the firm, he may apply to the Court which passed the decree for leave, and where the liability is not disputed, such Court may grant such leave, or, where such liability is disputed, may

ORDER 21, RULE 50.

Synopsis.

1. Scope of the rule.
2. Where a decree has been passed against a firm.
3. Award.
- 3a. Against partnership property.
4. Against any person who has appeared.
5. Sub-rule (2).
6. Determination of liability under Sub-rule (2) operates as a decree.
7. Sub-rule (4).
8. Insolvency of firm.

1. Scope of the Rule.—[1] Order 21, R. 50 should be read subject to provisions of O. 30, (Vol 19) 1932 Bom 334 (336). (Vol 14) 1927 Bom 581 (592) : 51 Bom 986 (DB). * (Proviso to R. 3, O. 30 overrides R. 50.)

[See however (Vol 14) 1927 Bom 447 (448) : 51 Bom 794 (DB). (Order 21, R. 50 is not controlled by O. 30, R. 2 (3)]

[2] Decree against members of firm requires execution against them and not merely against firm. (Vol 20) 1933 Pesh 63 (65).

[3] The rule applies only to cases in which members of a partnership who have not been impleaded as such are sought to be arrested in execution of a decree obtained against the firm. (Vol 2) 1915 Mad 1073 (1073) (DB).

[See also (Vol 17) 1930 Lah 243 (244). (Decree against firm—Partner sought to be made personally liable—R. 50 (2) is intended to apply to such cases.)]

[4] Decree against firm—Decree-holder can pursue any of the three courses regardless of their order. (Vol 20) 1933 Lah 472 (472).

[5] Decree against firm is decree against its partners individually and can be executed against them—Inclusion of other persons along with some partner in execution application does not render it invalid. (Vol 25) 1938 Cal 316 (317, 318). (DB).

[6] No order under O. 21, R. 50, can be passed making the share-holders liable when the decree is against a limited liability company and where such an order is passed, the order must be deemed to be a nullity and must be ignored by the Court. (Vol 24) 1937 Lah 59 (80).

2. Where a decree has been passed against a firm.—[1] The word 'firm' is used in R. 50 of O. 21, in the same sense as that in which it is used in O. 30, because the rule applies only to decrees passed in suits instituted under O. 30. That being so, O. 21, R. 50, applies only to a decree passed against a contractual firm and not to a decree passed against a joint family business and a decree against a joint family business which is not a contractual firm cannot be executed with the aid of O. 21, R. 50. (Vol 29) 1942 Cal 613 (615) : ILR (1942) 1 Cal 161. (Award against such business is equally incapable of execution under O. 21, R. 50.) * (Vol 28) 1941 Pat 596 (598) : 20 Pat 755 (DB).

[See however (Vol 27) 1940 Pat 149 (151) (DB). (Order 21, R. 50 applies even to a Joint Hindu Family firm consisting of father and son. * (Vol 17) 1930 Pat 205 (207) : (Decree in name of joint family partnership firm of father and son—Son neither appearing, nor admitting partnership nor served individually.—No order under O. 21, R. 50 (2)—Decree cannot be executed against property in hands of son)].

[See also Notes on O. 30, R. 4.]

3. Award.—[1] If a firm as such is a party to a reference and the submission is signed by the firm in the firm name, an award may be made against the firm in the firm name. (Vol 20) 1933 Bom 433 (434) : 58 Bom 162 (DB). * (Vol 18) 1931 Lah 736 (737) (DB).

[But see * (Vol 14) 1927 Bom 428 (430). Obiter—It is doubtful whether a firm can be lawfully made a party to a reference to arbitration. The term 'parties' used in the Arbitration Act cannot apply to a firm apart from its partners.]

[2] Order is applicable to the execution of an award filed in Court. (1935) 62 Cal 833 (835). * (Vol 14) 1927 Bom 428 (430). * (Vol 11) 1924 Cal 117 (118) * (Vol 23) 1936 Sind 211 (211) : 30 Sind LR 6 (DB). * (Vol 18) 1931 Sind 82 (84) : 25 Sind LR 460. * (Vol 16) 1929 Sind 28 (29) : 23 Sind LR 422 (DB). * (Vol 12) 1925 Sind 293 (294) : 19 Sind LR 1.

[See also * (Vol 29) 1942 Cal 613 (615) : ILR (1942) 1 Cal 161. (Award against joint family business cannot be executed under O. 21, R. 50, because this rule applies to contractual firms only.)]

[3] Where an award against a firm is filed, execution cannot proceed against an individual partner under the provisions of O. 21, R. 50 (1) (c) which only applies in the case of a decree passed against a firm in a suit. It is necessary under O. 21, R. 50 (2) either for the Court filing the award or for the Court to order that the liability of such person be tried and determined in any manner in which any issue in a suit may be tried and determined.

(3) Where the liability of any person has been tried and determined under sub-rule (2), the order made thereon shall have the same force and be subject to the same conditions as to appeal or otherwise as if it were a decree.

(4) Save as against any property of the partnership, a decree against a firm shall not release, render liable or otherwise affect any partner therein unless he has been served with a summons to appear and answer.

[Cf. R. S. C., O. 48A, R. 8.]

PROVINCIAL AMENDMENT.

Patna

In sub-r. (2) add the words " or to the Court to which it is sent for execution " after the words " passed the decree " and before the words "for leave."

which the decree is transferred for execution to decide, whether the person is liable to be proceeded against in execution as an individual partner. (Vol 18) 1931 Lah 736 (738) : 13 Lah 327 (DB) * (Vol 16) 1929 Lah 228 (229, 230).

[4] The question whether any or all persons served with notices of award or of its filing in court are partners in the firm can only be litigated when an application under O. 21, R. 50 is made against persons alleged to be partners and cannot be gone into in proceedings for filing the award. (Vol 23) 1936 Sind 121 (123) : 29 Sind LR 292. * (Vol 19) 1932 Bom 375 (377). It should be decided in execution proceedings or by separate suit.

[5] An award obtained against a firm cannot be executed against a party who is alleged to have been a partner in the firm but who was not served either with the notice of arbitration or of filing of the award. (Vol 14) 1927 Bom 428 (430).

[6] Sub-rule (2) of R. 50 of O. 21, deals with a case where a person denies that he is a partner of the firm against which the decree has been passed. It does not contemplate a dispute relating to the question whether the award is against a firm at all. (Vol 29) 1942 Cal 613 (616) : ILR (1942) 1 Cal 161.

3. (a) Against partnership property.—[1] Firm dissolved before decree—Firm's property can be proceeded against. (Vol 11) 1924 Bom 366 (367, 368) (DB).

[2] Under Eng. Law, in a judgment against a firm, execution may issue against any property of the firm only so far as partners not served and who have not appeared are concerned. (1913) 36 Mad 414 (417) (DB).

[3] Sons of a deceased partner are liable for debts to the extent of father's assets. (Vol 14) 1927 Sind 247 (248).

[4] Suit against firm—Person known to be dead subsequently discovered to be partner—Execution cannot be issued against legal representative in respect of personal assets. (Vol 16) 1929 Mad 733 (737) : 52 Mad 885 (FB).

4. Against any person who has appeared.—[1] Where one of the partners refused to accept a summons which was therefore affixed to the outer door of the place of business and the partner did not appear in execution proceedings: Held, that he was served individually as a partner and as such execution could proceed against him under O. 21, R. 50 (1) (c). (Vol 2) 1915 Cal 238 (242) (DB).

[2] Summons served on authorized agent of partners is individual service on partners and the decree so obtained can be executed against the partners personally. (Vol 15) 1928 Lah 528 (529).

[3] Served partners cannot subsequently contest their liability as partners.—They do not come under O. 21, R. 50 (2). (Vol 29) 1942 Sind 97 (98) : ILR (1942) Kar 218. (DB). * (Vol 13) 1926 Sind 51 (52).

[4] Words " or who has been adjudged to be partner " provide for a case where the only person served on behalf of the firm denies that he is a partner and the plaintiff asks for an issue being raised for purpose of holding whether the service on him is good service on the firm or not. In such proceedings, if a person is adjudicated as a partner and no decree is then passed against the firm, no further leave under O. 21, R. 50 to execute the decree against him is necessary. (Vol 19) 1932 Sind 199 (201) : 26 Sind LR 228.

[5] The term ' partner ' within the meaning of the second part of O. 21, R. 50, includes ' legal representative,' and it is open to the plaintiff to raise and have decided in execution proceedings against the firm the liability of the legal representative of a deceased partner. (Vol 23) 1936 Sind 211 (212) : 30 Sind LR 6 (DB).

[6] Suit against firm—One of parties pleading his non-liability and decision on issue raised on such plea—He cannot plead subsequently that such adjudication can be made only after judgment is passed. (Vol 22) 1935 Lah 520 (521) (DB).

[7] Decree against firm and some partners mentioned specifically—Liability of other partners is not excluded but action must be taken under R. 50. (Vol 12) 1925 Sind 317 (318) : 18 Sind LR 146 (DB).

[See also (Vol 25) 1938 Cal 316 (317, 318). (Execution cannot proceed against those who are stated to be the remaining partners of the firm in the petition for execution and who do not come under O. 21, R. 50, without the leave of the court which passed the decree, though their mere inclusion will not invalidate execution petition)]

[8] It is not contemplated by O. 30, while O. 21, R. 50 provides a definite procedure, whereby the issue can be determined before any execution can go against the person who has entered appearance under protest. (Vol 14) 1927 Cal 758 (760) : 54 Cal 1057.

5. Sub-rule (2).—[1] Sub. R. 2, R. 50, is only applicable in absence of conditions in sub-r. 1. (Vol 2) 1915 Cal 238 (242) (DB).

[2] A point of difference between an order under O. 21, R. 50 (2) and an order under S. 47 is that an order under S. 47 may be passed by the Court executing the decree, whereas an order under O. 21, R. 50 (2) may be passed only by the Court which passed the decree. (Vol 26) 1939 Sind 161 (164) : ILR (1939) Kar 589 (FB).

[3] The words "Where the liability is not disputed" in O. 21, R. 50 (2), mean and can only mean liability as a partner in the firm, and that is the only question which can be determined in proceedings taken under the sub-rule. (Vol 21) 1934 Sind 135 (136).

[4] Notice not issued individually to partners. Their liability as partners must be proved. (Vol 20) 1933 Lah 591 (591). (Presumption arising under Contract Act, S. 264, does not avail creditor if he is customer after dissolution).

[5] Executing Court can try question under R. 50 (2). (Vol 16) 1929 Lah 228 (230) * (Vol 19) 1932 Bom 516 (518) (DB). (Opportunity must be given to a partner who has not been served to dispute his liability.)

[6] Per B. J. Wadia, J.—The language of R. 50, sub-r. (2), is sufficiently wide to permit a person desiring to dispute his liability as a partner to do so, not only on the ground that he was not a partner, but on other grounds as well. All appropriate issues can be tried by the Court, that is, all proper defences, or defences "appropriate" to the issue of the liability as partner and appropriate also to the procedure under O. 21, R. 50 sub-r. (2). (Vol 27) 1940 Bom 830 (332) : ILR (1940) Bom 562 (Per Wadia J.) * (Vol 28) 1941 Sind 8 (9) : ILR (1941) Kar 69 (DB). (O. 21, R. 50 does not exclude enquiry as to whether a party to suit is liable as partner because he held himself out as such—O. 21, R. 50 is not limited to finding of fact whether particular person is or is not partner).

[7] In inquiry under R. 50 (2) person can admit that he is partner—But he cannot dispute decree. (Vol 21) 1934 Sind 135 (135, 136).

[8] Ex-parte decree against firm mentioning also individuals constituting it—Execution—Objection by partners A and B that they were not personally liable—A and B proceeding under O. 9, R. 13 to set aside ex-parte decree—Proceeding dismissed on decree holder contending that decree was against firm—Decree-holders held could not subsequently contend that decree was against individuals. (Vol 23) 1936 Pat 496 (497) (DB).

[9] Suit against firm decreed—Property attached in execution—Objection by person not party to decree that property is his own allowed—No suit under R. 63 filed by decree-holder—Application of decree-holder for leave to execute against such objector on the ground that he is in charge of firm allowed—Decree-holder can execute decree against same property and prior order under R. 53 is no bar. (Vol 22) 1935 Pat 409 (411) : 14 Pat 857.

[10] Application for leave to execute decree is not barred so long as decree is alive. (Vol 22) 1935 Sind 12 (13) : 29 Sind LR 236.

[11] Application under O. 21, R. 50 (2) is application in execution of decree. (Vol 26) 1939 Sind 161 (162) : ILR (1939) Kar 589 (FB.) * (Vol 23) 1936 Sind 138 (139) : 30 Sind LR 88 (DB). (Time-limit for it is same as for execution.) (Vol 17) 1930 Sind 138 : 24 Sind LR 451 dissented from).

[But see * (Vol 27) 1940 Pat 596 (598) : 19 Pat 909. (The proceeding for obtaining leave under O. 21, R. 50 is not an application for execution, nor does the leave granted amount to any order for execution. But an order for the arrest of the judgment-debtor amounts to a determination that the decree was capable of execution and would prima facie operate as revivor. * (Vol 17) 1930 Sind 180 (181) : 24 Sind LR 132. (Though application for leave is not an execution application falling under art. 182, Limitation Act, it falls under art. 181 and must be filed within three years of the decree).

[12] An application under O. 21, R. 50 (2), for leave is merely an ancillary application in an application for execution and is governed by Art. 182 of the Limitation Act, and not by Art. 181. The fact that the application is not framed as one for execution but as one for determining the liability of the partners who were not served in the suit does not make any difference. (Vol 22) 1935 Mad 926.

[13] Sub-rule (2) of r. 50, O. 21 does not contemplate a separate application for leave prior to the presentation of the execution petition itself. It is permissible to make one application combining both the prayers. (Vol 32) 1945 Cal 303 (304) (DB). * (Vol 18) 1931 Lah 736 (738) : 13 Lah 327 (DB). (Application for execution implies application for leave to execute decree against partner).

[14] The following different views are held on the question whether the court to which a decree is transferred for execution can grant leave under sub rule (2) of R. 50 :—

[a] Court to which decree is transmitted for execution has no jurisdiction to entertain a petition under r. 50 (2). The proper Court is the Court which passed the decree. (Vol 32) 1945 Cal 303 (304) (DB) * (Vol 29) 1942 Mad 501 (502) : ILR (1942) Mad 688 * (Vol 19) 1932 Pat 323 (324) : 11 Pat 580 (DB). Court and not to the High Court. (Vol 5) 1918 Mad 921 (921).

[2] Custody Court deciding that certain person is not entitled to any priority—No revision lies on the mere ground that the decision is erroneous on a question of law, when the custody Court had jurisdiction to decide the question either rightly or wrongly. (Vol 23) 1936 Lah 521 (523).

Substitute the following rule for Rule 57 :

"57. Where any property has been attached in execution of a decree, and the Court for any reason passes an order dismissing the execution application, the Court shall direct whether the attachment shall continue or cease. If the Court omits to make any such direction, the attachment shall be deemed to have ceased to exist." [29-6-1943.]

N.-W.F.P.

Cancel the concluding sentence of Rule 57, "upon the dismissal . . . shall cease," and substitute the following :

"In dismissing such application the Court shall direct whether the attachment shall continue or cease. In the absence of any such direction the attachment shall be deemed to cease."

Oudh

Substitute the following for Rule 57 :

"57. Where any property has been attached in execution of a decree, and the Court for any reason passes an order dismissing the execution application, the Court shall direct whether the attachment shall continue or cease. If the Court omits to make any such direction, the attachment shall be deemed to subsist."

5. Execution removed from file for statistical purposes.—[1] There is no provision of law authorising the Court to lodge an application or record it or strike it off from the file for what is commonly called statistical purposes. [2] An order such as "struck off" or "recorded" or "closed" or "consigned to the record room" only amounts to an adjournment sine die. [See also (Vol 2) 1915 All 410 (411) ; 37 All 518 (DB.).] (Subsequent application treated as application to revive suspended proceedings.)

6. Responsibility of sapurdar of attached property after dismissal for default.—[1] A sapurdar is responsible to the Court for the production of the property entrusted with him. He cannot escape liability by pleading that owing to the decree-holder's default the execution application was dismissed, with the result that the attachment terminated under this rule and that therefore he handed over the property to the judgment-debtor. (Vol 27) 1940 Pesh. 29 (30) * (Vol 6) 1919 Lah 108 (108) : 1919 Pun. Re. No. 60.

7. Revival of attachment, when possible.—[1] A revival of the execution proceedings, for instance, does not operate to revive the attachment so as to prejudice the rights of a third party in the property acquired in the mean time. ('11) 14 Cal L. Jour. 476 (480) (DB.) * (Vol 12) 1925 Mad 1113 (1114) (DB.). (Overruled on a different point in (Vol 29) 1942 Mad 41 :

ILR (1942) Mad 386 (FB). * (1913) 19 Cal. L. Jour. 248 (250, 251) (DB.).

[2] Where there is no question of prejudice to third parties the attachment can also be revived. (Vol 9) 1922 Nag 267 (270) : 18 Nag LR 152. * (Vol 23) 1936 Pat 126 (127).

8. Attachment before judgment.—The following conflicting views have been expressed as to the effect of an order of dismissal under this rule upon attachment effected before judgment.

[1] The dismissal of an execution application for default does not put an end to the attachment before judgment. (Vol 11) 1924 All 860 (861) : 46 All 894 (DB.) * (Vol 16) 1929 Cal 465 (466) : 56 Cal 416 (DB.) * ('12) 16 Cal L. Jour. 86 (89) (DB.) * (Vol 24) 1937 Pat 626 (627) : 16 Pat 589 (DB.).

[2] The attachment before judgment therefore ceases upon the dismissal of the application for execution. * (Vol 30) 1943 Mad 322 (324). (Vol 11) 1924 Mad 494 (500) : 47 Mad 483 (FB.). (Overruling (Vol 6) 1919 Mad 752 : 42 Mad 1 * (Vol 8) 1921 Nag 57 (59) : 17 Nag LR 121 * (Vol 9) 1922 Nag 81 (81). * (Vol 28) 1941 Sind 13 (15) : ILR (1940) Kar 454 (DB.).

[3] Dismissal of an execution application puts an end to attachment before judgment, but the dismissal of an execution application in relation to movable properties has not the effect of putting an end to an attachment of immovable properties. (Vol 27) 1940 Bom. 250 (251) * (Vol 18) 1931 Bom 550 (554) : 55 Bom 693 (DB.). (Affirming (Vol 16) 1929 Bom 321 : 53 Bom 543.).

[4] Where two properties have been attached before judgment, the dismissal of an application for execution (after decree) with reference to one of them will not cause the termination of the attachment of the other. (Vol 30) 1943 Mad 322 (325).

[5] An attachment before judgment is not terminated by the rejection in limine of an execution application, for non-compliance with the formal requirements of the law. (Vol 27) 1940 Mad 615 (617) (DB.).

ORDER 21, RULE 58.

Synopsis.

1. Investigation of claims and objections.
2. "Where any claim is preferred to or any objection is made."
3. On the ground that such property is not liable to such attachment.
4. Objection raised after sale.
5. Any property attached.
6. Claims to debts attached in execution.

Objects and Reasons.

"Though the execution of a mortgage decree is expressly incorporated in the Code, the Committee still think that claims and objections arising out of the execution of such decrees should not be the subject of summary procedure under this and the following rules but should be determined in the ordinary course. This does not imply that the procedure under the latter rules as to resistance to possession or dispossession does not apply."—S. O. R.

ORDER 21, RULE 59—Note 1.

[2] O. 21, R. 59, does not mean that, if the claimant establishes that he has some interest in the attached property he can succeed irrespective of the question of possession ; nor should his claim be disallowed if he fails to establish the interest set up, irrespective of the question of possession of judgment-debtor. (Vol 2) 1915 Cal 116 (117).

[4] The words 'some interest' mean such an interest as would render the possession of the judgment-debtor possession not on his own account but on account of or in trust for some other person. (Vol 2) 1915 Cal. 116 (117). * (1897) 1 Cal WN 617 (622). * (Vol 20) 1933 Nag 297 (298).

Where the property has been sold, such order shall have the effect of setting aside the sale; and if it has been purchased by a third party in good faith, the Court may make such order for his compensation by the decree-holder or objector, to an extent not exceeding 12-1/2 per cent. of the purchase price, as it thinks fit."

ORDER 21, RULE 62.

Synopsis.

1. Scope of the Rule.
2. "Subject to mortgage."
3. Mortgage in favour of a person not in possession.
4. Effect of order under this rule.
5. Appeal.

1. Scope of the Rule.—[1] The Code clearly makes a distinction between a case in which property is sold subject to a mortgage and a case in which notice of an alleged mortgage is given in the proclamation of sale. The former is provided by R. 62 and the latter by r. 66 (1906) 28 All 418 (420) * (Vol 17) 1930 Oudh 362 (365) (DB.)

[2] Under R. 62, the Court after being satisfied of the existence of the mortgage, sells only the judgment-debtor's right of redemption, so that the purchaser does not acquire any greater rights than those of redeeming the mortgage (1906) 28 All 418 (420) * (Vol 26) 1939 Cal 620 (621, 622) (DB.) : ILR (1939) 2 Cal 291 : (Vol 7) 1920 Cal 354 (357) (DB.) : 47 Cal 446. * (Vol 20) 1933 Mad 879 (881) (DB.) : 57 Mad 195. * (Vol 26) 1939 Nag 305 (308) : ILR (1939) Nag 665 * (Vol 22) 1935 Oudh 23 (25, 26) : 10 Luck 343 (DB.) [4] Purchaser at auction sale subject to mortgage can challenge same on ground that nothing is due thereunder—But in this case he was held precluded from doing so, by the judgment-debtor's admission of the mortgage. (Vol 11) 1924 Nag 208 (209).

[5] Property sold subject to mortgage—Claim of mortgagee recognized under R. 62—Suit to avoid mortgage—Purchaser's plea that mortgage was fraudulent—Suit to set aside mortgage under R. 63 held not necessary and purchaser can set up fraudulent nature of mortgage under S. 44, Evidence Act, (Vol 1) 1914 Bom 302 (303) (DB.)

[6] Application by intervenor to raise attachment without stating that he has lien on property attached—Order that property may be sold subject to intervenor's lien is not under R. 62 but under R. 66. (1911) 35 Bom 275 (277, 278) (DB.)

[7] Whether property is sold subject to mortgage or simply notice is given in sale proclamation of such encumbrance, result is same so far as auction-purchaser is concerned. (Vol 12) 1925 Oudh 154 (157) :—27 Oudh Cas 308.

[8] Puisne mortgagee purchasing property in his decree—Application to notify his encumbrance in execution of subsequent mortgage—R. 62 does not apply, but application is maintainable under R. 66 * (Vol 4) 1917 Oudh 92 (96) (DB.)

2. [2] Mortgaged property attached by third party in execution of his money decree—Mortgagee by application informing Court of his mortgage and praying for same being notified in proclamation—Court's order dismissing application on ground that mortgage had been discharged held not one passed under O. 21, R. 62 (Vol 26) 1939 All 657 (659).

3. Mortgage in favour of a person not in possession.—[1] R. 62 refers only to claim of mortgagee not in possession. (Vol 11) 1924 Oudh 384 (385) * (1909) 33 Bom 311 (316) (DB.)

4. Effect of order under the rule.—[1] The effect of an order under O. 21, R. 62, continuing an attachment subject to a mortgage is that the purchaser at the auction sale takes only the mortgagor's right of redemption. (2) If the garnishee appears in answer to the notice issued under R. 63A and disputes his liability to pay the debt attached, the Court, instead of making an order as aforesaid, may order that any issue or question necessary for determining his liability be tried as though it were an issue in a suit, and may proceed to determine such issue, and upon the determination of such issue shall pass such order upon the notice as shall be just.

ORDER 21, RULE 67.

Synopsis.

1. Object of the rule.
2. Publication in the Gazette or Newspaper.
3. Division of Property into lots—Sub-rule (3).
4. Non-compliance with the rule.

1. Object of the rule.—[1] Provisions are made to protect judgment-debtors—Proper opportunities to bidders are offered. (Vol 25) 1933 Cal 699 (700).

2. Publication in the Gazette or Newspaper.—[1] Under this rule, it is not obligatory on Court to direct advertisement of sale, though it has a discretion to do so. (Vol 6) 1919 Lah 260 (261).

[See also (Vol 19) 1932 Cal 627 (629) (DB).] (No interval needed between publication in Newspaper and sale as required under R. 68.)

[2] The want of correspondence between the advertisement in the Gazette and the schedule of the attached property in the sale proclamation constitutes an irregularity which might be cured if the sale was regular in other respects. (1914) 41 Cal. 590 (598, 599); 41 Ind App 38 (PC)

3. Division of Property into lots—Sub-rule (3).—[1] No separate proclamations need be made for each separate lot, where the property is divided into separate lots for being sold. (Vol 17) 1930 Lah 685 (687).

[2] Where estates, through embraced in the same process, are really at such a distance that there is no certainty of communication to persons interested in one of such lots of what is publicly done in the other, a separate proclamation for each can be issued. (1888) 12 Bom 368 (370) (DB)

4. Non-compliance with the rule.—[1] Failure to make proclamation of sale in the manner prescribed amounts to a material irregularity which can be a ground for setting aside the sale under R. 90, provided substantial injury is also proved. (Vol 29) 1942 Cal 275 (276) : ILR (1941) 2 Cal 570 (DB.) (Non-compliance with O. 21, Rr. 67 to 69 does not 'ipso facto' render sale a nullity.) * (Vol 20) 1933 All 747 (747, 748) : 55 All 162 (DB.) (Failure to publish sale proclamation by beat of drum where it is possible is material irregularity.) * (Vol 25) 1938 Cal 699 (701) * (1891) 18 Cal 422 (426) (FB.) (Revenue paying land—Copy not affixed in Collector's office—Sale not void without proof of substantial injury) * (Vol 10) 1923 Lah 671 (672). (Failure to affix copy of proclamation on conspicuous part of property—Material irregularity.)

[1] It is open to the judgment-debtor to consent to have the sale before the prescribed time, but such consent should be express and in writing. (1880) 5 Cal 259 (263) (DB). (Application by judgment-debtor that a portion of the property may be sold is not consent.)

[2] Under the present Code, sale must be held after 30 days not only from the affixing of a copy of the proclamation of sale on the court-house but also from its being affixed on the property. See Order 21, Rule 54 as it stands at present.

[2] The practice of Courts under High Court Rules, is to place all properties intended for sale on a list, and the sale commences on a day fixed which must go on from day to day until list is cleared. If particular property happens to be sold on any day according to its turn, there cannot be said to be an adjournment within the meaning of the Rule. (1890) 17 Cal 152 (154) (DB). * (Vol 24) 1937 Pat 386 (386, 387): 16 Pat 408 (DB). (Sales on same list held in accordance with Rules of Patna High Court—Such sales though continuing beyond first day cannot be deemed to have been held in contravention of O. 21, R. 69).

[3] Court sale—Acceptance of decree-holder's bid—Refusal by him to deposit the usual 25 per cent of the price—Attempt by auctioneer to continue sale but finally closing it to continue it on a further date if so ordered by Court—Sale is not postponed. (Vol 15) 1928 Lah 699 (700) (DB).

6. Omission to adjourn the sale to a specified day and hour.—[1] Adjournments of sales should be to a specified day and hour. The exact provisions of the Code should be followed in these matters. (1897) 20 Mad 159 (161) (DB).

[2] If there is no announcement of the specific day and hour to which the sale is adjourned the Court may come to the conclusion that there has been a material irregularity. (Vol 17) 1930 All 542 (543) (DB). * (Vol 19) 1932 All 369 (369) (DB) (Exact time not specified) * (Vol 14) 1927 All 241 (241): 49 All 402 (DB). (Hour fixed for sale must be clearly announced)*

[See also (Vol 20) 1933 Cal 662 (663) (DB). (Hour of sale not specified—Irregularity does not vitiate sale unless inadequacy of price is the result.) * (Vol 15) 1928 Mad 823 (825) (DB). (Sale adjourned—Adjournment is presumed to be postponed to the same hour on the new date—But Court should strictly confirm to R. 69.)]

[3] In considering R. 69 (1) main question is whether non-specification of exact hour is material irregularity. If judgment-debtor agrees that there should be no fresh proclamation, omission ceases to be a material irregularity. (Vol 20) 1933 All 546 (549): 55 All 519 (DB).

[4] Hours in original proclamation from 11 to 5—Subsequent agreement to hold it on adjourned date without proclamation—No question of adjournment arises within R. 69 (2). (Vol 21) 1934 Nag 250 (251).

[5] Specification necessary only when court adjourns sale—Sale adjourned by officer conducting sale—Omission to mention hour is not material irregularity. (Vol 22) 1935 All 182 (182) (DB).

[6] Non-compliance with the provisions is a material irregularity but not a nullity rendering the sale liable, to be set aside under O. 21, R. 90—Sale proclamation fixing 10th January for sale but owing to a notice under Bengal Agriculturist Debtor's Act the case was put off for orders on 15th and sale fixed for 17th, but sale held the next day for want of bidder on 17th. Held—the irregularity though material did not make the sale a nullity. (Vol 29) 1942 Cal 275 (278) : ILR (1941) 2 Cal 570 (DB).

[7] Sale held till 1 p.m. and adjourned to "an hour or so" without stating reasons for adjournment—Sale held again from 2-30 p. m. to 4 p.m. Non-specification of exact hour to which sale is adjourned and failure to give reasons for adjournment held not such material irregularities as to take sale out of purview of Code. (Vol 25) 1938 Nag 107 (108) : ILR (1938) Nag 436 (DB).

6a. Omission to specify place of adjourned sale.—Ordinarily when sale is postponed, date and not place is changed—Sale to take place at B postponed to date five days after at K—In absence of publication at B on date of sale the place and date of adjourned sale, sale is nullity—It is not merely irregularity. (Vol 31) 1944 Nag 199 (200) : ILR (1944) Nag 584 (DB).

7. Fresh proclamation when necessary.—[1] Fresh proclamation is necessary when sale is adjourned for a longer period than seven days. (1907) 29 All 196 (202) : 34 Ind App 37 (PC) * (Vol 30) 1948 Oudh 204 (209) : 18 Luck 547 (DB). (By amendment in Oudh, the period in Sub-r. (2) is extended to 14 days) * ('38) 1938 Nag L. Jour 10 (12). (In C Form proceedings, though sale is held by Tahsildar, it is the Collector who accepts the bid and if the bid is accepted within 15 days as per notifications Nos 7114 and 7115 which extend seven day's time fixed by O. 21, R. 69 to 15 days a fresh proclamation is not necessary to make the acceptance legal.)

[2] Where an execution sale is held more than 7 days after the date originally advertised and without a fresh proclamation, it is a mere irregularity and the sale will not be set aside in the absence of substantial injury. (1912) 39 Cal 26 (32) : 38 Ind App 200 (PC) * (Vol 16) 1929 Mad 624 (624) * (Vol 15) 1928 Oudh 98 (99) : 2 Luck 490 (DB) * (Vol 1) 1914 Oudh 164 (165) * (Vol 29) 1942 Pat 238 (240) : 21 Pat 281 (DB) (Breach of R. 69 does not involve any question of jurisdiction) * (Vol 15) 1928 Pat 615 (621) : 8 Pat 122 (DB) * (Vol 5) 1918 Pat 686 (687) (DB) (Sale adjourned sine die.)

[3] Sale adjourned each time to less than thirty days but aggregate adjournment for years—Sale without fresh proclamation is vitiated. (Vol 30) 1943 Mad 739 (741) (DB).

[4] Sale stayed till further orders.—Order for sale later on without proclamation is illegal. (Vol 10) 1923 Rang 154 (154).

8. Waiver of proclamation.—[1] A waiver on application for postponement of an execution sale, by the judgment-debtor, of a fresh proclamation does not amount to waiver of objections to the previous one. (1911) 4 Cal L. Jour 346 (351) (DB).

[2] The waiver of a fresh proclamation by the judgment-debtor implies a waiver of objection to any defect appearing on the face of the Sale proclamation but does not imply a waiver of a right to object to any irregularities in the attachment. (Vol 25) 1938 PC 230 (231, 232) : 32 Sind LR 879.

[3] A sale was twice adjourned with the consent of the judgment-debtor without a fresh proclamation. But if a judgment-debtor waives his right it is competent for a judgment-creditor to object to the sale taking place without a fresh proclamation. He can impeach the regularity of the sale on this ground. (1901) 24 Mad 311 (315) (DB).

[4] Guardian for minor judgment-debtor waiving fresh proclamation for getting sale adjourned—O. 32, R. 7 has no application to the consent for waiver. (Vol 21) 1934 Mad 260 (262) (DB) * (1910) 37 Cal 897 (904) (DB).

9. Stoppage of sale on deposit of debt and costs.

[1] A mortgagor judgment-debtor can exercise the right of stopping the sale on payment of the decretal amount with costs after the passing of the order absolute for sale but before the property is actually knocked down to the bidder. (1904) 31 Cal 863 (870) (FB). * (1898) 20 All 354 (356) * (1897) 19 All 205 (208) (DB).

[2] A sale in execution of a third lot of properties after the judgment debtor had paid up the amount due when two prior lots had been knocked down, is not vitiated by irregularity because the words "the debt and costs" in the section could not be interpreted to mean "the balance of debts and costs which would remain if the knocking down could be taken to be the completion of the sale." (Vol 2) 1915 Mad 750 (750) (DB).

[3] Under sub-rule (3) it is the officer conducting the sale who has to be satisfied that the requisite amount has been paid into Court. (Vol 22) 1935 Lah 694 (695) (DB). (Collector's sale—Sale conducted by Revenue Assistant—Notice to Collector's clerk as to payment into court is not sufficient.)

10. Who can tender the amount.—[1] A judgment-debtor or transferee of the property from him is entitled to tender the amount under this rule. (1888) 10 All 1 (4) (DB).

[2] A purchaser in execution of decree on a prior mortgage can tender the amount to avoid sale in execution of a decree on a subsequent mortgage. (1907) 5 Cal L. Jour 45 Note 45.

[3] A payment made to prevent a sale in execution of a decree is not a voluntary payment, whether made by the judgment-debtor or by a third person claiming the property. (1872) 18 Suth W R 503 (503, 504) (DB).

11. Sale on a date other than to which it is adjourned.—[1] Sale held on day to which it had not been adjourned is materially irregular and should be set aside if judgment-debtor suffers substantial injury. (Vol 8) 1921 Cal 597 (598) (DB).

[See (Vol 25) 1938 Cal 699 (700) (Sale not held on date fixed for it—Subsequent sale without adjournment order is not nullity but a mere irregularity.)]

[2] Sale held on day on which it has been proclaimed that it shall not take place is invalid. (Vol 27) 1940 Mad 206 (207) (DB).

[3] If the Nazir accepted bids for being forwarded to the Court, at a date or place or an hour different from that fixed by the court, then if the properties have been taken out of the monthly sales by him, the sale is a nullity. But when the Court orders monthly sales commencing from a certain date, it is for the Court and the Court only to direct otherwise. If the Court has not passed any subsequent orders for taking the sale out of monthly sales and if the Nazir exceeds his powers by postponing the sale to a future date the sale is deemed to be in course of monthly sales and hence valid. (Vol 26) 1939 Cal 369 (371, 372) : ILR (1939) 1 Cal 530 (DB).

70. Nothing in rules 66 to 69 shall be deemed to apply to any case in which the execution Saving of certain sales. of a decree has been transferred to the Collector.

[1882-S. 287, last para ; 1877-S. 287, last para. See Ss. 54, 68 to 72 and Third Schedule.]

71. Any deficiency of price which may happen on a re-sale by reason of the purchaser's default, and all expenses attending such re-sale, shall be certified to the Court or to the Collector or subordinate of the Collector, as the case may be, by the officer or other person holding the sale, and shall, at the instance of either the decree-holder or the judgment-debtor, be recoverable from the defaulting purchaser under the provisions relating to the execution of a decree for the payment of money.

[1882-S. 293 ; 1877-S. 293 ; 1859-S. 254 last para. See Rr. 77, 84 and 86 and Ss. 68 to 71.]

ORDER 21, RULE 70—Note 1.

ORDER 21, RULE 71.

Synopsis.

1. Application of the rule.
2. Failure of execution sale due to auction-purchaser's default—Right of decree-holder and judgment-debtor.
3. Re-sale.
4. Power to order recovery of deficiency.
5. Procedure under the rule.
6. Who may apply under the rule.
7. By reason of purchaser's default.
8. Where defaulting purchaser is merely an agent.
9. Liability for interest on deficiency.
10. Certificate
11. Suit for deficiency in re-sale if maintainable.
12. Insolvency Proceedings.
13. Suit if lies to set aside order under this rule.
14. Appeal.

1. Application of the rule.—[1] The rule extends to all sales, whether of moveable or immoveable property. ('81) 7 Cal 387 (339).

2. Failure of execution sale due to auction-purchaser's default—Right of decree-holder and judgment-debtor.—[1] Where the price bid at the second sale is less than that bid at the first sale decree-holder is not bound to proceed against the defaulting purchaser. He may recover from the judgment-debtor the balance of it that may be due and leave him to pursue his remedies against the defaulting auction-purchaser under this rule. (1878) 2 Bom 562 (564).

[See also ('82) 8 Cal 291 (294)]

3. Re-sale.—[1] Re-sale in consequence of default of auction-purchaser to deposit 25 per cent of the purchase money under R. 84—R. 71 applies. (1881) 5 Bom 575 (577) * (Vol 9) 1922 All 200 (201. 202) : 44 All 266 (FB). (Failure of purchaser to make deposit of 25 per cent—Property re-sold next morning—Sale must be deemed to have been held 'forthwith'. (1889) 12 Mad 454 (458) (DB) * (Vol 20) 1933 Nag 123 (125) : 29 Nag L.R. 52.

[2] The rule applies to resale in consequence of default of auction-purchaser in payment of poundage fee (1909) 9 Cal L. Jour 115 (115, 116) (DB).

[3] For the application of the rule resale on auction-purchaser's default must be of the same property. (Vol 27) 1940 Mad 566 (568) (DB). (First sale of property subject to mortgage—Resale of same property subject to decree on the mortgage—Held, property was same and what was sold was right, title and interest of judgment-debtor in it.)

[4] The rule that resale must be of same property as that put up for sale at the first sale does not apply where property has changed during interval owing to natural causes or the change in the wording of the sale proclamation has been due to purchaser's own default and conduct. (Vol 6) 1919 Mad 10'4 (1021, 1022, 1023) : 41 Mad 474.

[5] For the application of the rule the resale must be under the same decree. Where on default of purchaser a resale was ordered and in the meantime the property was sold at the instance of another judgment-creditor, for a lower price, then there is no real resale and the first purchaser is not liable for the difference. (1871) 16 Suth WR 14 (15).

[6] Rule must be enforced unless defaulting purchaser would be substantially prejudiced. (Vol 12) 1925 Mad 631 (633).

[7] Defect in sale proclamation is ground of objection to liability under O. 21, R. 71. (Vol 18) 1931 Bom 367 (369).

[8] Resale contemplated by the rule in resale held according to law. Hence unless a resale on failure of purchaser to pay deposit under R. 84 is held 'forthwith' within the meaning of that rule the auction-purchaser will not be liable for the deficiency on resale. (Vol 3) 1916 Lah 445 (446) * (Vol 24) 1937 Lah 924 (925) * (Vol 16) 1929 Lah 744 (745) * (Vol 12) 1925 Oudh 397 (398) : 28 Oudh Cas 327.

[9] Deficiency in price on resale by purchaser's default cannot be claimed unless his bid was finally accepted by the Court. (Vol 16) 1929 Lah 673 (676).

[10] Where any item of property is to be resold on account of purchaser's default, the decree-holder is not debarred from proceeding against other property of judgment-debtor than the one originally sold. (1874) 21 Suth WR 149 (150).

[11] Even if at a resale held on the purchaser's default no bidders are forthcoming there is a resale within the meaning of the rule and the purchaser at the first sale can be proceeded against for the price bid by him at that sale. (Vol 13) 1926 Mad 739 (740).

O. 21, R. 71 (contd.)

4. Power to order recovery of deficiency.—[1] Court and not the officer holding sale has power to order recovery of deficiency. (Vol 18) 1931 Bom 367 (368).

[2] Even where property is sold by the Collector in execution of a decree transferred to him the Civil Court and not the Collector has jurisdiction to order recovery of deficiency under this rule. (Vol 18) 1931 Bom 367 (368).

5. Procedure under the rule.—[1] Though O. 21, R. 71, does not expressly provide for the issue of notice to the defaulting purchaser, it is the duty of the Court to give him notice and to hear and decide on his objection before it orders execution to issue against him. (Vol 6) 1919 Mad 1014 (1022, 1023): 41 Mad 474.

6. Who may apply under the rule.—[1] Decree-holder can apply to recover deficit even if judgment-debtor, and not he, is damned by default. (Vol 26) 1939 Nag 269 (273): ILR (1941) Nag 485 (DB).

[2] The term decree-holder in the rule means the decree-holder who brings the property to sale. Other decree-holders are not included in the term, although they may be entitled to rateable distribution under S. 78. (Vol 13) 1926 Mad 872 (874): 49 Mad 570 (DB) * (Vol 23) 1936 Oudh 277 (278, 279): 12 Luck 720 (DB).

[3] Assignee of decree-holder who brought the property to sale can apply to recover deficiency on resale. (Vol 32) 1945 Mad 349 (349, 350).

[4] The decree-holder is entitled to enforce the defaulting purchaser's liability for the whole amount of the deficiency and is not bound to confine his application to the decretal amount that may remain outstanding. (Vol 13) 1926 Mad 872 (873): 49 Mad 570 (DB).

[5] Under O. 21, R. 71, the order against an auction-purchaser can be made at the instance of either the decree-holder or judgment-debtor and when once such an order has been made, the latter can recover the difference in the price from the auction-purchaser. The rule does not require that the order should in so many terms state that it is passed against the auction-purchaser and in favour of the judgment-debtor. (Vol 18) 1931 All 667 (668) (DB).

7. By reason of purchaser's default.—[1] Fraudulent suppression of encumbrances by decree-holder at both sales—Defaulting purchaser misled—Defaulting purchaser cannot be made answerable for deficiency under R. 71. (Vol 16) 1929 Oudh 294 (295): 4 Luck 684 (DB).

[2] Fact that acceptance of final bid rests with Court does not entitle bidder to resale from his bid. (Vol 2) 1915 Cal 815 (816).

8. Where defaulting purchaser is merely an agent.—[1] A person who bids at a sale merely as an agent of another person is not liable under this rule. (1873) 20 Suth WR 80 (82) * (Vol 26) 1939 Nag 269 (273): ILR (1941) Nag 485. (Bid made on behalf of temple by its managing trustee—Default in payment of deposit—Trustee is not personally liable for deficit.)

[2] Court is one party to the auction sale—Hence in absence of acceptance by Court of auction-purchaser's agent as, the person making the bid as the alleged agent, is personally liable for deficit on re-sale. (Vol 11) 1924 Mad 476 (477) (DB).

[3] Where a person professes to bid as agent of another without the latter's authority, the alleged agent is liable for damages. (173) 20 Suth WR 397 (398) (SB).

9. Liability for interest on deficiency.—[1] The defaulting purchaser is not liable to pay interest on the deficiency in price. (1868) 9 Suth WR 500 (501) * (Vol 11) 1924 Mad 476 (478) (DB). (Interest on deficiency is payable only from date of order under this rule, and not from the date of sale to the date of the order.) * (Vol 6) 1919 Pat 102 (107) (DB).

10. Certificate.—[1] Decree-holder or the judgment-debtor is not barred from recovering the difference in the amount of sale and resale from the defaulting purchaser on the ground that certificate under this rule was not issued. (1897) 19 All 22 (25) (SB). * (Vol 20) 1933 Nag 123 (125): 29 Nag LR 52. (Certificate issued not in proper form) * (Vol 31) 1944 Pesh 27 (28) (Absence of certificate or certificate issued not being in proper form would not prevent recovery of deficiency.)

[2] Deficiency in purchase price to be recovered from defaulting purchaser—Certificate certifying the same is attachable under R. 53 as money decree. (Vol 13) 1926 All 379 (382) (DB)

11. Suit for deficiency on re-sale if maintainable.—[1] The rule provides only a summary remedy for enforcing the right to claim deficiency and does not bar the general remedy by way suit. (Vol 6) 1919 Pat 102 (106) (DB).

12. Insolvency proceedings.—[1] Attachment and sale by Insolvency Court—O. 21, R. 71 applies—Defaulting purchaser can be ordered to pay deficiency on re-sale. (Vol 8) 1921 Nag 25 (26): 17 Nag LR 49.

[2] The rule does not apply to sales by Receiver under the Provincial Insolvency Act. (Vol 4) 1917 All 74 (75): 39 All 267.

13. Suit if lies to set aside order under this rule.—[1] Order for payment of deficiency under this rule—No separate suit lies to set aside the order—Remedy of aggrieved party is by way of appeal. (Vol 12) 1925 Oudh 360 (361): 29 Oudh Cas 18 (DB). * (Vol 9) 1922 All 200 (203): 44 All 266 (FB) (19 All 22 should be deemed overruled by this rule) * (Vol 14) 1927 Nag 112 (112): 23 Nag LR 14 (Dissenting from 7 Nag LR 134).

14. Appeal.—[1] Appeal lies against an order deciding an application by a decree-holder or judgment-debtor under this rule against a defaulting auction-purchaser to recover deficiency in price. (Vol 9) 1922 All 200 (202): 44 All 266 (FB) * (1898) 25 Cal 99 (101) * (1865) 3 Suth WR 3 (3) * (Vol 15) 1928 Lah 249 (249) * (1895) 18 Mad 439 (443) (DB) * (1889) 12 Mad 454 (457) * (Vol 31) 1944 Nag 199 (200): ILR (1944) Nag (584). (Where the matter is one between two rival decree-holders and the judgment-debtor does not enter into the picture at all, the decree-holders themselves being the purchasers concerning the subject matter, one in the earlier sale and the other in the latter, no appeal lies.) * (Vol 14) 1927 Nag 112 (112): 23 Nag LR 14.

[2] Application to recover deficiency of price from defaulting purchaser—Amount claimed less than Rs. 500 No second appeal lies. (Vol 8) 1921 Bom 229 (230).

Decree-holder not to bid for or buy property without permission.

72. (1) No holder of a decree in execution of which property is sold shall, without the express permission of the Court, bid for or purchase the property.

(2) Where a decree-holder purchases with such permission, the purchase-money and the amount due on the decree may, subject to the provisions of S. 73, be set off against one another, and the Court executing the decree shall enter up satisfaction of the decree in whole or in part accordingly.

(3) Where a decree-holder purchases, by himself or through another person, without such permission, the Court may, if it thinks fit, on the application of the judgment-debtor or any other person, whose interests are affected by the sale, by order set aside the sale, and the costs of such application and order, and any deficiency of price which may happen on the re-sale and all expenses attending it, shall be paid by the decree-holder.

2. Where a decree-holder purchases with such permission.—[1] Decree-holder bidding with permission of Court at auction sale is in the same position as ordinary purchaser. (Vol 20) 1933 oudh 124 (126) : 8 Luck 223 (DB).

[2] Where appellants, in their application for leave to bid at an execution sale, alleged certain facts which were not true, the appellants were held not entitled to confirmation of sale till they had made good their representations. Where a court grants permission to bid at an execution sale upon an inaccurate statement that certain conditions are fulfilled, the permission is conditional and the Court has power to refuse to confirm the sale apart altogether from R. 72 and from the provisions contained in R. 92 of O. 21, either under R. 86 or under its inherent powers, until the conditions are in fact fulfilled. (Vol 9) 1922 Pat 511 (514) : 1 Pat 235.

conduct was fraudulent and the sale should be set aside. (1911) 13 Cal L. Jour 312 (314) (DB).

3. Setting off decretal amount against purchase-money and rateable distribution.—[1] Decree-holder's right of set-off of decretal amount against purchase money does not alter substantial nature of transaction and the nominal receipt of sale proceeds in such a case must be held to amount to holding of assets by court where the rights of rival decree-holders to share in such proceeds are concerned. (1888) 11 Mad 356 (358) (DB).

[3] In case of a purchase by decree-holder in execution of his decree, claims for rateable distribution must be made before the conclusion of sale, since the assets would be deemed to have been realised by Court on the date of sale. 4. Amount due on decree.—[1] When a decree-holder is allowed to purchase the property ordered to be sold on condition that he would purchase it in full satisfaction of the decree, the decree-holder must pay poundage as part of the costs of the execution of the decree. (Vol 16) 1929 All 266 (266) (DB).

5. Purchase without permission.—[1] Purchase by decree-holder without permission is only voidable and not void (Vol 9) 1922 PC. 336 (338): 49 Ind App 312: 1 Pat 733 (PC.) * (Vol 3) 1916 Bom 61 (63): 41 Bom 357 (DB) (It is mere irregularity) * (1907) 31 Bom 61 (64) (DB) * (Vol 10) 1923 Cal 302 (302) (DB). * (1909) 1 Ind Cas 645 (646) (DB) (Cal.) * ('41) (1941) 2 Mad L. [2] Where a decree-holder makes a benami purchase in contravention of O. 21, R. 72, Civil PC., the sale is only voidable, i.e., the sale is valid until set aside by an application made by the judgment-debtor. ('41) (1941) 2 MLJ 943 (945, 946) * (Vol 7) 1920 Bom 90 (91, 92): 44 Bom 352 (DB).

[3] Purchase by an undivided son in execution of a decree by father, is presumed to be a purchase made by decree-holder in the absence of evidence to show that purchase was made by son with his separate funds. (1880—81) 5 Bom 130 (131, 132) (DB).

[4] Under O. 21, R. 72, where the purchase price is either equal to or less than the decree amount, the right of the decree-holder who has been granted permission to set-off the purchase money against the decree amount is controlled only to this extent, namely that he is bound to bring into Court such sums alone as are due to these decree-holders whose applications for execution were pending on the date of the sale. (Vol 22) 1935 Mad 893 (895): 59 Mad 342 * (Vol 16) 1929 Oudh 235 (237): 4 Luck 635 (DB).

[5] Where a decree-holder in execution of his decree purchases property of judgment-debtor without leave of court, judgment-debtor's remedy is not by way of separate suit but by an application under O. 21, R. 72. (1898) 22 Bom 271 (277) (DB) * (Vol 24) 1937 Pat 50 (53) (DB).

[6] Where the decree-holder purchaser who is liable to share rateably with rival decree-holders in the sale proceeds fails to furnish the proportionate amount to the Court for distribution, a refund may be enforced by a summary process in execution instead of in a separate suit. [7] Decree-holder permitted to bid and set-off decree amount against purchase money.—Decree-holder purchasing property—Meanwhile, judgment-debtor adjudicated insolvent and after sale official receiver applying that decree-holder should be ordered to pay to him purchase-money—Held that this could not be done. (Vol 22) 1935 Mad 907 (908).

[8] Decree awarding interest until date of realisation.—Decree-holder's purchase and set-off under O. 21, R. 72—Date of realisation is date of sale and not date on which money is realised by decree-holder repetition ('39) (1939) 1 Mad L. Jour 466 (467) (DB).

[9] When property is sold in execution of decree, debt due under decree cannot be said to have been realised until sale is confirmed. Whether the purchaser is decree-holder or third party, the right of set-off conferred on decree-holder under O. 21, R. 72 (2) must also be dependent on sale being rendered absolute by confirmation. Debt due to decreeholder subsists as long as sale is not confirmed. Debt Conciliation Board can stay under S. 25, Debt Conciliation Act, proceedings for confirmation of sale. (Vol 31) 1944 Lah 325 (328) (DB). (Vol 30) 1943 Lah 97 overruled.

6. The Court may, if it thinks fit, set aside the sale.—[1] It is in the discretion of Court to set aside sale in which decree-holder has purchased without obtaining the necessary permission. (Vol 33) 1946 Mad 337 (339) (DB) * (1885) 11 Cal 731 (732, 733) (DB). (Unless the judgment-debtor is shown to have suffered substantial injury from such irregularity, such sale will not be set aside.)

[2] Where a decree-holder purchased property in spite of refusal of permission by court, it was held that he was guilty of abuse of process of court and that the sale could not be enforced. (1884) 10 Cal 757 (760) (DB).

[3] When a sale is set aside under R. 72 on account of the decree-holder's failure to obtain permission to bid, it is not necessary to find also that the judgment-debtor sustained substantial loss by the sale. (Vol 8) 1921 Mad 402 (402).

[4] Persons entitled under S. 73 to rateable distribution in the assets realised by sale and as such interested in the sale, may be entitled to apply for setting aside sale under O. 21, R. 72. (1903) 13 Mad L. Jour 231 (234) (DB).

[5] Where the decree holder purchaser sold the property to another for value, restitution is impracticable and such sale cannot be set aside on an application under O. 21, R. 72. (1903) 13 Mad L. Jour 231 (235) (DB).

7. Appeal.—[1] No second appeal lies from an order setting aside or refusing to set aside sale under R. 72 of O. 21. (1894) 21 Cal 789 (791) (DB) * (Vol 2) 1915 All 54 (55) (DB).

[2] An order giving or refusing leave to bid at an execution sale is only a ministerial order and not appealable. (Vol 16) 1929 Mad 903 (905). * (1911) 38 Cal 717 (720): 38 Ind App 126 (PC).

3. "Shall be paid . . . into Court."—[1] Payment to the judgment-creditor's pleader under the order of the Court is a payment into Court, the pleader being made the agent of the Court to receive the money. (1913) 21 Ind Cas 210 (210, 211) (DB) : (Cal.)

[2] Part of purchase-money paid to decree-holder as per order of Court and balance paid to judgment-debtor—Purchaser cannot be ordered to pay over again, the amount paid to the decree-holder but may be required to pay the amount paid to the judgment-debtor. (Vol 22) 1935 Lah 481 (481) (DB).

4. Effect of private sale.—[1] Court cannot empower a judgment-debtor to transfer any higher interest than he has and bind the interests of others in property. (Vol 7) 1920 Mad 231 (232) (DB).

[3] Sale under R. 83 is private and not by or under order of Court—Mere grant of certificate cannot make it on behalf of Court—Nor can mere resemblance of language of R. 83 (2), proviso 2 to that of O. 21, R. 92, Civil PC, make sale under R. 83 one under orders of Court. (Vol 28) 1941 Mad 208 (212, 213, 214) (DB.)

[4] Mortgage and subsequent sale of same property by judgment-debtor under R. 83—Purchaser undertaking to discharge mortgage—Judgment-debtor satisfying decree by deposit of sale proceeds in Court—Mortgagee has prior title against purchaser. (Vol 28) 1941 Mad 203 (217) (DB).

5. Confirmation of sale by Court.—[1] Qualified permission granted—Cancellation of such permission does not affect any legal right of prospective purchaser as no legal rights were conferred. (Vol 21) 1934 Pesh 76 (76).

[2] Though a sale ordered by an inferior Court before the attachment of such property by a Court of higher grade is not null and void in consequence of such attachment, it does not follow that the latter Court has not also power to sell the property or confirm the sale under O. 21 R. 83. The Court of higher grade has concurrent jurisdiction to confirm the sale. (1895) 19 Bom 539 (544) (DB)

6. Permission under S. 29 of the Guardians and Wards Act.—[1] Where the judgment-debtor is minor for whom a guardian has been appointed under the Guardians and Wards Act, 1890, the certificate of the executing Court is not sufficient to validate a transfer under this rule ; it is necessary that the guardian should obtain the sanction of the Court that appointed him as guardian. (1899) 23 Bom 287 (290) (DB) * (Vol 9) 1922 Cal 150 (151) 49 Cal 911 (DB).

(2) Where the decree-holder is the purchaser and is entitled to set-off the purchase-money under rule 72, the Court may dispense with the requirements of this rule.

ORDER 21, RULE 84.

Synopsis.

1. "Declared to be the purchaser."
2. Acceptance by Court, if necessary for completion of sale.
3. Deposit, Payment of.
4. Non-payment of deposit—Effect of.
5. Re-sale.
6. Sub-rule (2).
7. Interest.
8. Appeal.

1. "Declared to be the purchaser."—[1] Officer conducting sale can declare highest bidder to be purchaser. (Vol 26) 1939 Nag 269 (271) : ILR (1941) Nag 485 (DB).

[2] Stranger cannot become purchaser by deposit or even by consent of real bidder. (Vol 5) 1918 Oudh 439 (440) : 21 Oudh Cas 212.

[3] So long as the bid is not accepted by competent authority, sale is not complete. (Vol 15) 1928 Nag 111 (112) * (Vol 17) 1930 Lah 41 (42).

[4] Bidders at a court sale can withdraw their bids before the property is knocked down to them. (1891) 14 Mad 235 (236).

[But compare (Vol 15) 1928 Lah 249 (249).]

[5] Where a higher bid is made all preceding lower bids are impliedly refused. (Vol 7) 1920 Mad 911 (915, 916) : 42 Mad 776 (DB).

[6] Person declared purchaser has sufficient interest in property. (Vol 6) 1919 Mad 1014 (1024) : 41 Mad 474 (FB).

2. Acceptance by Court, if necessary for completion of sale.—[1] There is difference of opinion on the question whether acceptance by Court is necessary for completion of sale.

[a] Sale of property in auction held by Court does not become complete before its acceptance by Court.

(Vol 18) 1931 Cal 533 (584) : 58 Cal 788 (DB) * (Vol 22) 1935 All 204 (205) (DB). (Bidder applying before acceptance of Court for not enforcing sale on ground that he has bid under misapprehension—Court may allow application and order return of deposit * (Vol 16) 1929 Lah 673 (676) (Purchaser has not to deposit one-fourth of purchase-money unless bid has been finally accepted by Court.) * (Vol 16) 1929 Rang 12 (13) : 6 Rang 609. (Auction-purchaser whose bid is accepted by fall of hammer can withdraw offer before acceptance by Court without liability of paying deficit on resale.)

[b] It is only when the presiding officer closes the bidding and formally accepts the bid and declares the purchaser, that the sale is complete. Mere closing of the bid does not complete the sale. (Vol 10) 1923 Pat 525 (527) : 2 Pat 548 (DB) * (Vol 23) 1936 Lah 555 (557) (Sale is complete when property is knocked down to highest bidder—It is not open to Court to offer property to person offering higher amount.) * (Vol 20) 1933 Nag 123 (124) : 29 Nag LR 52 (Sale not held at head-quarters—Sale complete as soon as property is knocked down to highest bidder.) * (Vol 16) 1929 Rang 311 (312) : 7 Rang 425 (DB) (Officer conducting sale is to declare highest bidder as purchaser)

[See also (Vol 19) 1932 Lah 525 (526).]

[c] The Court has a quasi revisional jurisdiction in the matter. (Vol 2) 1915 Cal 815 (816) * (Vol 19) 1932 Rang 17 (18) : 9 Rang 608. (It will make a difference if there is a rule of practice that officer conducting sale shall not be entitled to accept bid.)

[d] Sale becomes complete when officer conducting sale accepted bid and deposit of 25 per cent was made—30 days prescribed by R. 92 are therefore to be counted from date of deposit. (Vol 6) 1919 Lah 309 (310).

[2] In a Collector's sale, the acceptance of the bid by the Collector is necessary for the completion of the sale. (38) 1938 Nag L Jour 10 (12).

3. Deposit, Payment of.—[1] Failure of officer conducting sale to wait for payment of deposit is not material irregularity. (Vol 26) 1939 Nag 269 (272) : ILR (1941) Nag 485 (DB).

4. Non-payment of deposit—Effect of. — [1] An officer conducting a Court sale has no inherent power to extend the time for depositing the 25 per cent of the purchase-money, which is to be deposited immediately. (Vol 2) 1915 Oudh 140 (141).

[2] Failure to deposit 25 per cent of purchase-money immediately is only irregularity which does not affect validity of sale unless substantial injury is caused to judgment-debtor. (Vol 20) 1933 Oudh 345 (346) :

Time for payment in full of purchase-money. 85. The full amount of purchase-money payable shall be paid by the purchaser into Court before the Court closes on the fifteenth day from the sale of the property :

Provided that, in calculating the amount to be so paid into Court, the purchaser shall have the advantage of any set-off to which he may be entitled under rule 72.

[See also (1891) 14 Mad 227 (228) (DB). (Commencement of sale prior to the expiry of the thirtieth day, or any delay in making the deposit required by S. 306 of the Code of 1882 or the adjournment of the sale from time to time without sufficient ground is a mere irregularity.)]

[But see (Vol 2) 1915 Oudh 140 (141) (Failure to deposit immediately annuls the sale.)]

[8] If the deposit under O. 21, R. 84, is not paid at all, the sale is null and void. (1911) 15 Cal WN 350 (352) (DB).

5. Re-Sale.—[1] On an order that the property be resold forthwith under O. 21, R. 84 the original purchaser would be liable under O. 21, R. 71 for the deficiency on the resale. (Vol 15) 1928 Lah 249 (249) * (Vol 9) 1922 All 200 (201, 202) : 44 All 266 (FB) (The case should be held to overrule 5 All 316 and 30 All 273).

[2] Defaulting purchaser is not liable under R. 71 for deficiency on resale, if the resale is not held forthwith. (Vol 16) 1929 Lah 744 (745) * (Vol 24) 1937 Lah 924 (926) (Delay of 2 years) * (Vol 3) 1916 Lah 445 (446) (Six months intervening between default of auction-purchaser and final sale—Defaulting purchaser was not liable for loss. * (Vol 12) 1925 Oudh 397 (398) : 28 Oudh Cas 327 (Where the resale is held some months afterwards, the defaulting purchaser will not be liable especially in a case where he has been prejudiced by the delay).

[3] "Forthwith" means "as expeditiously as circumstances permit". The officer conducting the sale can hold the resale on the same day as the default in payment of deposit, if circumstances permit it to do so. (Vol 26) 1939 Nag 269 (272, 273) : ILR (1941) Nag 485 (DB).

[4] Execution sale—Failure of purchaser to deposit—Resale—Fresh proclamation not necessary. (Vol 3) 1916 Lah 445 (446).

[5] Auction sale held on 1st September and closed at 5 p.m.—Next two days being holidays, fresh proclamation issued on 4th September and sale held on 5th November, which resulted in deficiency—It was in auction bidder's interest that there should be fresh proclamation and so sale should be said to have been held "forthwith." (Vol 17) 1930 Mad 761 (762) : 53 Mad 900 (FB).

[See also (Vol 24) 1937 All 556 (557, 558) (Decree-holder auction purchaser's default in paying 25 per cent of purchase money—Property re-sold six months after sale, and on issue of fresh proclamation—Second sale held was re-sale within meaning of O. 21, R. 84.)]

6. Sub-rule (2).—[1] Deposit of 25 per cent is essential—If purchaser be decree-holder, it must be dispensed with by order of Court—Else sale is not complete. (Vol 21) 1934 Pesh 25 (27).

[2] O. 21 R. 84 must be construed consistently with R. 72 (2) and R. 85 proviso. (Vol 22) 1935 Mad 893 (894) : 59 Mad 342.

[3] Court can dispense with deposit of purchase-money subject to the provisions of R. 72—Court allowing subsequent decree-holder purchaser to set off whole purchase-money against his debt knowing that there was another decree-holder entitled to rateable distribution—Sale should be set aside owing to material irregularity. (Vol 24) 1937 Pat 50 (52, 53).

[4] Payment of the 25 per cent deposit may be expressly or impliedly dispensed with. (Vol 16) 1929 Lah 492 (493).

[See also (Vol 18) 1931 Lah 78 (78) (Absence of an express order under R. 84 (2) exempting the decree-holder from the deposit of the requisite 25 per cent of the amount of the purchase-money does not make the sale incomplete.)]

[5] In N.-W.F. P., no permission is necessary for the decree-holder to bid at an auction in view of O. 21, R. 72, as applicable to that Province. It cannot be inferred, however, from this that the Court has under R. 84 (2) impliedly dispensed with the requirement of that rule requiring deposit of 25 per cent of the accepted bid. (1936) 165 Ind Cas 554 (555) (Pesh).

[6] An order dispensing with the deposit of 25 per cent may be made after the auction. But if auction-purchaser delays in applying under sub-rule (2), the deposit should not be dispensed with. (Vol 22) 1935 Pesh 123 (124, 124).

[7] R. 84 should be read with R. 72—Decree-holder's application for set-off pending—One-fourth purchase-money not deposited by decree-holder at sale—Sale is not nullity. (Vol 21) 1934 Pat 329 (330) (DB).

7. Interest.—[1] Decree-holder not being bound to withdraw deposit till confirmation of sale is entitled to interest up to confirmation (Vol 1) 1914 Cal 210 (211, 212).

8. Appeal.—[1] No appeal lies from order of resale under O. 21, R. 84—Even if decree-holder is auction-purchaser, that does not bring case under S. 47. (Vol 26) 1939 Lah 210 (210, 211) (DB) * (Vol 26) 1939 Lah 46 (Reversed).

1. Scope and object of the rule—[1] This rule gives the judgment-debtor a last chance of getting the sale set aside before confirmation upon the terms of satisfying the decretal debt and of paying compensation to the auction-purchaser for the loss of bargain

Objects and Reasons.

"Words have been added, so as to make it clear that a purchaser acquiring a title before the sale in execution can claim the benefit of the rule. In other respects the Committee consider it advisable to adhere to the wording of the section. [i.e. S. 310A of the 1882 Code]. The proposal that the sale should be set aside on payment of the purchase-money instead of the amount specified in the proclamation is, in their opinion, fraught with danger; it would be obviously useless unless subsequent protection were given to the property, and such protection might lead to collusion, which would be most prejudicial to the decree-holder."—S.O.R.

ORDER 21, RULE 90.

Synopsis.

1. Scope and applicability of the rule.
2. Immovable property.
3. Who may apply under the rule.
4. Auction-purchaser.
5. Persons entitled to rateable distribution.
6. "Any person whose interests are affected by the sale."
7. Strangers.

[a] Note.—This figure (1) within round brackets occurs in the Government Edition of the Code. It is not clear what purpose it serves as there is only one clause (with a proviso) in the rule. Apparently it is an error.

Objects and Reasons.

"The Committee have struck out the provisions as to irregularity in attaching the property, as such irregularity obviously cannot affect the price. They have introduced the words 'rateable distribution of assets' to clear up a doubt which has been the subject of discussion in several cases. They have altered the language of the proviso in order to meet the doubts which have been raised as to the evidence upon which the Court can act: Tasadduk Rasul Khan V. Ahmad Husain (ILR 21 Cal 66 (PC))."—S.O.R.

"Rule 90.—The words 'or fraud' have been added after the word 'irregularity'. We think that the existing law as contained in S. 311 of the present Code is defective, the omission in the section to refer to fraud as a ground for setting aside a sale having led some Courts to hold that an order on an application setting up fraud as a ground for relief is, unlike an order made on an application made under S. 311, a decree and open to second appeal. This result, which often involves a considerable prolongation of these proceedings, is in our opinion undesirable. We think that applications for setting aside of sales should, so far as the procedure applicable to them is concerned, stand on the same footing whether they are based on the ground of irregularity or on the ground of fraud."—S. C. R.

PROVINCIAL AMENDMENTS.

(a) no . . . or fraud ;"

and add the following proviso :

"(b) no such application shall be entertained upon any ground which could have been taken by the applicant on or before the date on which the sale proclamation was drawn up."

[3] There is a difference of opinion amongst the different High Courts as to whether absence of notice under R. 66 is a ground for acting under this rule. The following are the views.

[4] Where a judgment-debtor dies before the proclamation of sale is drawn up and the proclamation is

[6] Where no notice under R. 66 is required to be given, the non-issue of notice is no ground for setting aside a sale. (Vol 13) 1926 Oudh 76 (76, 77) (DB).

[10] The fact that sale of property of a third person, who claims adversely to the judgment-debtor, may cast a cloud upon his title is not a substantial injury within the meaning of this rule. (Vol 28) 1941 Mad 680 (681).

ORDER 21, RULE 91.

Synopsis.

1. Scope of the rule.
2. Saleable interest.
3. Who may apply under this rule.
4. Necessary parties to application.
5. Compensation for loss of property bought at Court-sale.
6. Appeal.

1. Scope of the rule.—[1] A Court sale carries no guarantee that the property is the property of the judgment-debtor and the auction-purchaser takes the risk, and bears the loss if it is subsequently discovered not to be the property of the judgment-debtor. There is, therefore, no warrant, for the proposition that a sale by the Court of property which subsequently turns out to belong to the auction-purchaser confers a valid title. The following shall be added as Rule 91A :

"R. 91A. Where the execution of a decree has been transferred to the Collector and the sale has been conducted by the Collector or by an officer subordinate to the Collector, an application under Rule 89, 90 or 91, and in the case of an application under Rule 89, the deposit required by that rule, if made to the Collector or the officer to whom the decree is referred for execution in accordance with any rule, framed by the Local Government under Section 70 of the Code, shall be deemed to have been made to or in the Court within the meaning of Rules 89, 90 and 91." [9-2-1925.]

the auction-purchaser is the decree-holder) * (Vol 22) 1935 All 910 (911) (DB). (There is no warrant of title at an auction-sale and what is sold is merely the right, title and interest of the judgment-debtor and it is for the purchaser, whether he is a decree-holder or stranger, to ascertain the title for himself.) * (Vol 20) 1933 All 63 (64) : 54 All 948 (DB). (Execution sale—No warranty of title.) * (Vol 11) 1924 Cal 172 (173) (DB) * (Vol 18) 1931 Nag 116 (116) : 27 Nag LR 318 (There is no implied warranty of title either by the decree-holder or the Court in execution sales) * (Vol 21) 1934 Oudh 233 (236) (DB). (Only remedy is to claim refund).

[2] O. 21, Rule 91 comes into operation in those cases where, in spite of the prescribed procedure having been regularly followed, property has been sold in which the judgment-debtor has no saleable interest. (Vol 20) 1933 Pat 435 (440) : 12 Pat 665 (SB) * (Vol 26) 1939 Nag 179 (182) : ILR (1939) Nag 357 (DB).

[3] When a person, having knowledge that the judgment-debtor has no saleable interest in the property, purchases it in the execution sale, he cannot be entitled to the benefit of the provisions of O. 21 R. 91, which are designed for the protection of persons who innocently and ignorantly purchase valueless property. (1881) 3 All 527 (527) (DB).

[4] Rule does not apply where purchaser does not act in good faith, but has abused processes of Court for fraudulent purposes. (Vol 20) 1933 Pat 684 (685) (DB).

[5] Sale of property in execution of decree—Decree-holder purchaser—Property sold subsequently found not to belong to judgment-debtor—Sale is not void—Remedy of decree-holder is only to set aside sale under O. 21 R. 91. (Vol 22) 1935 Mad 340 (341). (Application is governed by Limitation Act, Art. 166) * (Vol 22) 1935 All 889 (890) (DB). (Sale confirmed and becoming absolute—Application to set aside sale on ground that judgment-debtor had no saleable interest is not competent.) * (Vol 12) 1925 Pat 106 (111) : 3 Pat 947 (DB) (No separate suit lies for recovery of purchase-money on ground of judgment-debtor not having saleable interest in property.)

[6] If sale is confirmed, auction-purchaser cannot reopen matter by application for further execution unless he gets order confirming sale set aside. (Vol 25) 1938 All 593 (601) : ILR (1938) All 922 (FB) * (Vol 14) 1927 Mad 835 (836, 837) (DB) * (Vol 14) 1927 Mad 894 (895) : 50 Mad 639 (DB) * (Vol 23) 1936 Pat 97 (100, 101) : 15 Pat 308 (FB).

[But see (Vol 11) 1924 Pat 273 (274) : 1 Pat 829 (DB). (Other remedies to set aside sale are not barred.)]

[7] Rule does not apply to sales held under Bengal Tenancy Act. (Vol 13) 1926 Cal 738 (739, 740).

[8] Rule does not apply to sales held by Registrar under Chapter 27, Calcutta High Court Rules. (Vol 16) 1929 Cal 207 (209).

[9] Execution sale of property—Suit for declaration by third party that he is owner of that property—Application by auction-purchaser to be allowed not to pay one-fourth deposit purchase-money and balance to decree-holder till result of declaration suit—Application is not under this Rule. (Vol 18) 1931 Lah 244 (245) (DB).

2. Saleable interest.—[1] The purchaser in an auction sale under R. 91 has a right to apply to the Court to set aside the sale on the ground that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest in the property sold. However, that right is limited to the case where the judgment-debtor has absolutely no saleable interest in the property. (Vol 29) 1942 Bom 306 (308) : ILR (1942) Bom 704 * (1888) 9 Cal 217 (220) (DB) * (Vol 12) 1925 Pat 702 (702) (DB). (There is no provision in the Code for allowing adjustments between the parties after the sale has been held.)

[See also (Vol 11) 1924 Pat 355 (357, 359). Purchase of property with defective title cannot be set aside if no fraud or omission on decree-holder's part is proved].

[3] Property sold in execution—Proclamation showing mortgage as collusive or without consideration—Mortgage subsequently found not collusive—It cannot be said that the judgment-debtor had no interest in the property as he has an equity of redemption. (Vol 32) 1945 Mad 40 (42). (Auction-purchaser cannot recover money paid from decree-holder).

[4] Several parcels of immovable property sold in one lot—Judgment-debtor having interest only in one parcel—Rule does not apply. (1912) 23 Mad L Jour 108 (109) (DB).

3. Who may apply under this rule.—[1] It is only the auction-purchaser who can apply under this rule. (1906) 1 Nag LR 167 (168).

[2] Judgment-debtor's executor can purchase in his private capacity and can apply under this rule. (Vol 2) 1915 Cal 536 (539) (DB).

4. Necessary parties to application.—[1] Person alleged by auction-purchaser to be real owner is not necessary party to application under this rule. (Vol 1) 1914 Mad 318 (319).

5. Compensation for loss of property bought at Court-sale.—[1] Third party claimant establishing

R. 91-A—Note 1 (Bombay Amendment)

[1] Rule 91-A of O. 21 (Bombay amendment) is conditional. It provides for what is to be the effect if an application is made to the Collector to set aside a sale. But if no application is made to him, the Rule never comes into operation. There is nothing to com- pel an applicant to make his application to the Collector rather than to the Civil Court. (Vol 25) 1938 Bom 209 (209).

1. Where a sale of immovable property is set aside under Rule 92.—[1] Sale set aside but not under R. 92—Auction-purchaser not entitled to refund under this rule, merely because judgment-debtor had no saleable interest. (Vol 80) 1943 Bom 288 (292) : ILR (1943) Bom (400) (DB) * (Vol 20) 1933 All 63 (68) : 54 All 948 (DB) * (Vol 23) 1936 Mad 50 (55) : 59 Mad 202 (FB) (1912) 23 Mad L Jour 497 and (Vol 6) 1919 Mad 493 overruled * (Vol 25) 1938 Pesh 66 (67) (DB). (Execution sale confirmed and application by auction-purchaser to be put in possession—Possession not given on account of decree passed in favour of another in regular suit claiming property as his own—Application for refund by auction-purchaser is not one under O. 21 R. 93, nor can he get refund in execution proceedings.

[2] As long as the order setting the sale aside subsists, it must attract the operation of R. 93 (Vol 15) 1928 Cal 267 (268).

2. Right of decree-holder to withdraw purchase-money before confirmation of sale.—[1] Purchase-money may be paid to decree-holder before sale is confirmed—But decree-holder cannot claim it as of right. (Vol 2) 1915 Cal 297 (298) (DB) (12 Cal 252 followed). * (Vol 25) 1938 Nag 54 (54) : ILR (1938) Nag 456.

3. Sale set aside for want of saleable interest.—[1] Auction-purchaser purchasing properties in one lot—To some of them judgment-debtor subsequently found to have no title—Auction-purchaser cannot claim refund of proportionate purchase-money under this rule. (Vol 17) 1930 Mad 856 (856) (DB) * (1886) 9 Mad 437 (439) (DB).

[But see (13) 1913 Pun LR No. 79 Page 300. (Auction-purchaser is entitled under O. 21 R. 93 to recover his money or some part of it even when the judgment-debtor has some saleable interest in the property sold)].

[2] This rule, which repeals S. 315 of the old Code, makes it clear that the purchaser is not entitled to apply for refund of purchase-money unless the sale is set aside under R. 92, (Vol 5) 1918 Mad 1286 (1287). (S. 315 of old Code compared with the present rule.)

[3] Sale set aside—Money withdrawn—Court has inherent powers to order for refund on sale being confirmed—On appeal. (Vol 4) 1917 Pat 495 (497) : 2 Pat L Jour 361 (15 Cal L Jour 187 Relied on and commented upon ; 16 Cal L Jour 83 Not foll.)

4. Suit for purchase-money in such cases.—[1] Under S. 315 of the Code of 1882, corresponding to this rule, it was held that the purchaser could file a separate suit for purchase-money. [But see (1910) 5 Low Bur Rul 58 (67) (FB)].

[2] There is a conflict of decisions under the present Code, as to whether a separate suit for refund of purchase-money will be where it is found that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest in the properties sold. The following views have been expressed—

[a] The auction-purchaser's right of suit has been taken away under this Code and his only remedy is one prescribed in R. 91 and in R. 93. Substitute the following for Rule 94 :—

"Where a sale of immovable property has become absolute, the auction-purchaser shall file the sale certificate stamp within fifteen days from the date of confirmation of the sale, and the Court shall grant a certificate specifying the property sold and the name of the person who at the time of sale is declared to be the purchaser. Such certificate shall bear date the day on which the sale became absolute. If the necessary stamp for the sale certificate is not filed within the prescribed period the sale may, if the Court thinks fit, be set aside."

7. What passes at Court Sale.

8. Effect of new interpretation of law on sale.

9. Effect of certificate of sale.

10. Certificate if operates as res judicata.

11. Limitation.

12. Registration of sale certificates.

13. Court-fee on application for sale certificate.

14. Appeal.

1. "The Court shall grant a certificate".—[1] The Rule is mandatory and a Court cannot withhold a sale certificate from an auction-purchaser who is otherwise entitled to it merely to compel him to meet the claim of a third party. (Vol 4) 1917 Pat 697 (697) : 1 Pat L Jour 446 * (Vol 23) 1936 Bom 137 (138).

[2] In granting a certificate it is the duty of the Court not to determine what property is to pass by the sale but merely to record the already accomplished fact of a transaction that has taken place and to state what has been sold. Its action in granting the certificate is ministerial and not judicial. (Vol 12) 1925 Pat 615 (616) : 4 Pat 760.

[3] A sale by a Receiver is not a sale by the Court but a sale under the Court and in such cases the Court does not grant a sale certificate nor does it confirm the sale. (Vol 13) 1926 All 124 (126) : 48 All 209.

[4] The Court having given the purchaser a certificate of sale is under no obligation to give him another for the sole purpose of evading penalty, which he has incurred by not having presented in the first instance to Court a paper properly stamped for it. (1885) 9 Bom 526 (527) (DB).

2. Certificate if transfers title.—[1] The title of the auction-purchaser dates only from the confirmation of the sale and does not relate back to the date of sale. He is therefore not entitled to rent for the intervening period. (1911) 9 Ind Cas 25 (25) (All).

[2] Under the old Code, in the absence of S. 65, it was held that the purchaser had an equitable interest after sale, till confirmation and grant of certificate. See the following case. (1887) 11 Bom 588 (590) (DB) * (1907) 11 Cal WN 158 (160) (DB) * (Vol 2) 1915 Mad 805 (806, 807).

[3] A sale certificate does not create title. It is merely evidence of title. (Vol 7) 1920 Cal 435 (436) : 47 Cal 1108 * (Vol 25) 1938 All 471 (473) * (Vol 25) 1938 Mad 232 (233) * (Vol 31) 1944 Nag 305 (306) : ILR (1945) Nag 296. (It is only prima facie and not conclusive evidence to title).

3 To whom the certificate should be granted.—[1] The person who is declared to be the purchaser after the bids are concluded is the person in whose name the certificate is to be granted under O. 20, R. 94 C.P.C. and not his proposed vendee. (Vol 7) 1920 Cal 101 (103).

[2] If there are joint purchasers the certificate should be issued in the names of all of them. (Vol 12) 1925 Cal 164 (165) : 51 Cal 992 (DB).

[3] After the sale has become absolute, sale certificate can be granted to the legal representatives of deceased purchaser under O. 21 R. 94. (1900) 24 Bom 120 (122) (DB).

[4] Court cannot issue a sale certificate to an undisclosed principal of auction-purchaser. (Vol 15) 1928 Sind 54 (54).

[5] Court can grant a sale certificate to an assignee of an auction-purchaser. (Vol 23) 1936 Bom 137 (138).

[But see (Vol 25) 1938 All 471 (472). (Sale certificate cannot be issued in name of third party by virtue of transfer or arrangement made by auction-purchaser with such person).]

4. Contents of certificate of sale.—[1] What is sold at a judicial sale of immovable property in execution of a money decree can be nothing but the property attached and that property is conclusively described in and by the schedule to the order of attachment. Where an existing property is accurately described in the schedule, a certificate of sale cannot be issued in respect of different property, treating the case as one of misdescription when it is really one of identity (1914) 41 Cal 590 (598, 599, 600) : 41 Ind App 38 (PC).

[2] Claims admitted by parties or established by decree should be entered in the Sale Certificate. (1894) 18 Bom 175 (177) (FB).

[3] Certificate of sale should not furnish material for fresh litigation. (Vol 19) 1932 Bom 210 (212).

[4] Sale Certificate should bear date of sale confirmation. (Vol 23) 1936 Mad 733 (735) (DB).

5. Construction of Sale Certificate.—[1] Sale Certificate is the document of title and its plain meaning cannot be lightly ignored by reference back to other documents and it cannot be argued that the property could not have been sold and so must be taken not to have been sold. (Vol 27) 1940 All 121 (134) (DB) * (Vol 9) 1922 PC 252 (253) : 48 Ind App 155 : 44 Mad 483 (PC) * (Vol 10) 1923 Mad 48 (49). (It cannot be loosely construed).

[2] Court cannot go behind sale certificate in subsequent proceeding. (Vol 14) 1927 Mad 311 (312, 317).

[3] There is nothing in O. 21 R. 94 which makes a certificate of sale conclusive as to the property sold. It is determinative as to the date from which property actually sold vests in the purchaser and as to the identity of purchaser, in the absence of fraud or the like. (1903) 27 Bom 334 (339) (DB).

[4] Evidence to contradict terms of sale certificate cannot be given—But in case of ambiguity it may be admitted for interpretation—Evidence Act (1872), S. 92. (Vol 1) 1914 Cal 305 (306) * (1877) 26 Suth WR 104 (105) (DB) (An auction-purchaser could not be allowed to adduce evidence for the purpose of showing that he had purchased anything more than what the sale certificate showed him to have purchased) * (1876) 25 Suth WR 401 (403). (Where a sale certificate is correct in relation to any part of the object of sale, and can, with the help of extraneous assistance, be used to identify it, then such evidence is admissible to show what was intended to be sold).

[5] Construction of sale certificate—Test is what Court intended to sell and what purchaser intended to purchase. (Vol 4) 1917 Pat 4 (5) * (1871) 15 Suth WR 490 (492) (DB).

[6] Where a person brings a suit for possession of a land brought by him at the auction sale under the mortgage decree in his favour, although no reference can be made to the mortgage decree in order to construe the sale certificate or explain any ambiguity therein, such reference in order to identify property in the sale certificate with that claimed in the plaint is competent. (Vol 17) 1930 Cal 235 (236) (DB) (Vol 9) 1922 PC 252 : 48 Ind App 155 : 44 Mad 483 (PC) Dist * (1911) 13 Cal L Jour 660 (662) * (1874) 21 Suth WR 93 (93) (DB) * (1867) 7 Suth WR 245 (246) (DB).

[7] Sale of two adjoining properties A and B to two purchasers X and Y respectively—X's Sale Certificate by mistake, mentioning property B as property sold to him and Y's Sale Certificate mentioning A as property sold to him—X and Y entering into possession of A and B respectively, that is the correct properties—Y claiming after several years that he is entitled to property A according to sale certificate—Held that though he may be technically entitled to the property he must hold it in trust for X and that X cannot be ousted from A. (Vol 28) 1941 All 9 (13).

[8] The boundaries of the property sold as given in a sale certificate prevail over the areas mentioned therein and a purchaser takes the plots as defined by the boundaries. (1913) 18 Cal L Jour 541 (543).

[9] When a sale certificate contains only a general description of the boundaries of the whole area sold, without any specification of the boundaries of plots sold, the Paimash and survey number of the plots must be taken as a far more correct specification of what was sold than the boundaries. (1912) 22 Mad L Jour 161 (165).

[10] Sale certificate—Village described as "aslimai dakhili"—It includes main village as well as villages appurtenant thereto—Bengal Rent Recovery Act, 1865 (Vol 4) 1917 Pat 4 (5).

6. Amendment of Certificate.—[1] A Court has inherent jurisdiction to amend a sale certificate incorrectly describing the property actually sold. (Vol 1)

1914 Cal 527 (528) * (1313) 20 Ind Cas 583 (589) (Cal) (DB). (Correction of a wrong towji number).

[2] A Court has no jurisdiction to amend a certificate of sale so as to show the purchase of a larger share of the property than what was stated in the sale proclamation. (1913) 18 Ind Cas 723 (725) (Cal) (DB).

[3] A Sale certificate should not be amended without notice to the judgment-debtor. (Vol 9) 1922 Mad 63 (64, 65) * (1875) 23 Suth WR 301 (302, 303) (DB). (Sale certificate granted—Ex-parte order amending it is illegal).

7. What passes at a Court Sale.—[1] The legal effect of an execution sales depends upon the status of the decree-holder at the time proceedings for sale are taken and not at the time of actual sale. (Vol 4) 1917 Cal 2 (4) : 45 Cal 294 (DB). (Sale in execution of rent decree).

[2] In an auction sale the Court does not guarantee title. It simply conveys the right, title and interest of the parties to the suit in the property. (1911) 33 All 45 (47).

[4] A, a legatee, under a will agreed to sell the bequeathed property to B, and received full consideration before obtaining Letters of Administration for which the execution of the deed was postponed. Meanwhile the property was attached, sold and purchased by C, who sued for possession. Held, C obtained the right, title and interest of A who was bound to hand over the property to B owing to the receipt of consideration before attachment and therefore C could not oust B. (1911) 12 Ind Cas 831 (832) (Rang).

[5] Where a person purchases the share of a coparcener in certain items of joint family property and subsequently at a family partition other items are allotted to the share of that coparcener, it is not open to the auction-purchaser to compel that coparcener to give properties in substitution of those which had been sold at the Court sale. (Vol 7) 1920 Mad 316 (317) : 43 Mad 309.

[6] Court ordering property subject to two mortgages to be sold subject to both—Sale certificate mentioning only subsequent mortgage—This omission merely cannot raise presumption that prior mortgagee gave up his charge on the property. (Vol 19) 1932 Lah 56 (57).

[7] The plaintiff who is in possession of land on payment of consideration under a contract of sale, has an interest in the property, which could be purchased in the auction sale and plaintiff cannot recover the property from the auction-purchaser on getting a registered conveyance from its former owner after the defendant's purchase. (Vol 5) 1918 Cal 923 (925).

[8] The title of the purchaser at a sale in execution of a mortgage decree relates back to the date of the mortgage where the mortgagee is the purchaser (1911) 9 Ind Cas 840 (840) (Cal).

[9] Assignee of a decree-holder auction-purchaser of Delivery of property in some person on his behalf or of some person claiming under a title created by the judgment-debtor subsequently to the attachment of such property and a certificate in respect thereof has been granted under rule 94, the Court shall, on the application of the purchaser, order delivery to be made by putting such purchaser or any person whom he may appoint to receive delivery on his behalf in possession of the property, and, if need be, by removing any person who refuses to vacate the same.

undivided share is entitled to sue for partition without obtaining formal possession—Suit is not barred by S. 47 (Vol 3) 1916 Mad 430 (430).

[10] When a sale certificate recites that the whole property sold is subject to a mortgage and that the defendant's right of redemption is sold, the right to redeem of any other coparcener of the defendant is not barred. (Vol 3) 1916 Bom 61 (63): 41 Bom 357.

[11] For a fuller discussion of the topic see AIR Commentaries, Order 21, Rule 94, Note 8.

8. Effect of new interpretation of law on sale.—

[1] If by the law as then understood, the parties intended only a limited interest in the property to be conveyed by the sale certificate, subsequent change of law would not entitle the purchaser to get absolute right in the property under the sale certificate. (1904) 27 Mad 131 (142, 143): 31 Ind App 1 (PC).

9. Effect of certificate of sale.—[1] The purchaser's title becomes complete on the issue of the certificate and he is entitled to apply for possession of the property. (1893) 17 Bom 228 (229).

[2] Where a purchaser at a sale in execution was named in the sale certificate as "mother and guardian of her infant son", the title to the property was held to be vested by the certificate in the minor absolutely. (1869) 12 Suth W R 236 (233).

10. Certificate if operates as res judicata.—[1] Persons who were parties to a sale in execution of a decree cannot question the title of auction-purchaser. (Vol 6) 1919 Oudh 132 (132): 21 Oudh Cas 400 * (Vol 6) 1919 Pat 309 (310). (An auction-purchaser of land is not bound by a statement in the sale certificate as to the situation of the land purchased by him).

[2] The expression "so far as regards . . . through or under them" in S. 316 of the Old Code clearly means that no interest of the third party is affected by the sale certificate. (1911) 33 All 45 (47).

[3] Where in a rent suit the holding is sold in execution of a decree, an entry in the sale certificate, though it would not stop the landlords who were not parties to the rent suit, would be strong evidence against them under S. 13 of the Evidence Act. (1913) 20 Ind Cas 753 (754) (Cal).

[4] Where the plaintiff and defendant were both mortgagees and in a certificate granted to the plaintiff in execution of his decree, on the mortgage, properties belonging to the defendant were included and on defendant's refusal to give up possession, plaintiff brought the suit for possession, it was held that fraud is not the only ground upon which a sale can be set aside, at any rate when the decree-holder is the purchaser and that the matter was not res judicata since the ownership of different items was not in dispute in the previous suit. (1909) 19 Mad L Jour 1 (3) (DB).

[5] The effect of the reversal of a certificate of sale of a tenure is that as between the tenure-holder and the purchaser or his representative-in-interest, the latter becomes liable to make restitution to the former but a decree for rent obtained by the latter and a sale held on the basis thereof are not affected by the subsequent cancellation of the certificate of sale. (Vol 3) 1916 Cal 376 (379).

11. Limitation.—[1] There is no period fixed during which an auction-purchaser has to make an application to obtain a sale certificate. (1910) 5 Ind Cas 263 (264) (All).

[2] Auction-purchaser of land applying for certificate—Provisions of Indian Limitation Act, relating to applications do not apply. (1882) 4 Mad 172 (173) (DB) * (1882) 6 Bom 586 (587) (DB).

12. Registration of sale certificate.—[1] Registration of sale certificate is not compulsory. (1883) 5 All 84 (85, 86) (DB) * (1884) 7 Mad 248 (252) (DB). (By registration of certificate, purchaser does not acquire priority as against a mortgagee whose mortgage is optionally registrable).

13. Court-fee on application for sale certificate.—[1] As O. 21, R. 94 does not require any formal application to be made for a certificate of sale, no written application is compulsory. If it be in writing, it need bear no stamp. (1889) 13 Bom 670 (671) (DB).

[2] It is purchaser's duty to bear expenses of proper stamp for sale certificate—Stamp Act, S. 29 (f). (Vol 17) 1930 Bom 392 (393) (FB).

[3] Sale-certificate issued to purchaser insufficiently stamped—Court can issue another without prejudice to questions of penalty or purchaser can apply to Collector to get error rectified under Stamp Act, S. 41.—(Obiter). (Vol 17) 1930 Bom 392 (394) (FB).

14. Appeal.—[1] No appeal lies from an order amending or refusing to amend sale certificate. (1901) 23 All 476 (478) * (1899) 26 Cal 529 (531) (DB).

Synopsis.

2. Delivery of possession to the purchaser.
3. Immovable property.
4. Limitation for application.
5. Application if a step-in-aid of execution.
6. Procedure under this rule.

1. Scope.—[1] An order for delivery made on an application under O. 21, R. 95 cannot be treated as a mere general order to be worked in subsequent execution proceedings or as one including both such general order and an order executing it. (Vol 6) 1919 Mad 1001 (1004) (DB).

[2] Rule 95, in its very nature, gives no scope for the judgment-debtor to apply under it. (Vol 32) 1945 Bom 386 (388) (DB) * (Vol 5) 1918 Pat 61 (61, 62) (DB) (Rent decree, execution of—Homestead put to sale—Decree-holder purchasing it and taking possession—Application for restoration of possession by tenants—Held, tenants could not go behind sale and recover possession under O. 21, R. 95).

[3] Failure to make application under O. 21, R. 95 does not extinguish title. (Vol 31) 1944 Cal 328 (328) (DB).

[4] Application under R. 95 can be made even before resistance while one under R. 97 cannot be made before resistance. (Vol 11) 1924 All 495 (497, 498, 502); 46 All 693 (FB).

[5] Claim for mesne profits cannot take matter outside scope of O. 21, R. 95 and overcome bar of S. 47. (Vol 31) 1944 Cal 328 (328) (DB).

2. Delivery of possession to the purchaser.—

[1] Purchaser can apply for delivery of possession in spite of judgment-debtor's application to set aside sale. (Vol 17) 1930 Cal 86 (89); 56 Cal 608 (DB).

[2] Transferee from auction-purchaser can apply for possession of property transferred. (Vol 5) 1918 All 405 (405); 40 All 216 (DB) * (1905) 28 Mad 87 (89) (DB).

[3] The counter-petitioners, obstructing delivery of property to the auction-purchaser derived their title from the judgment-debtor subsequently to the attachment, under which the auction sale was held. Held, the Court must order delivery to the auction-purchaser. (1910) 8 Mad L T 376 (376) (DB).

[4] The Court is not bound under R. 95 to see that delivery is actually effected. (Vol 13) 1926 Mad 385 (385) (DB).

[3] If a decree-holder while attempting to execute a decree for possession is resisted by a third party, in possession in good faith on his own account, the case is covered by R. 99 and not R. 102, which only applies to cases where the judgment-debtor has transferred his right or his possession to the party resisting. (1910) 8 Ind Cas 805 (805) (Mad).

[4] A sub-tenant cannot claim to be in possession of property on his own account within the meaning of O. 21, R. 99 and if his immediate landlord is the tenant and judgment-debtor he cannot be in possession on account of some person other than the judgment-debtor. The words "on his own account" in R. 99 can only refer to a person who claims to be in possession on his own title, or as tenant of some person other than the judgment-debtor. (Vol 9) 1922 Bom 449 (451): 46 Bom 887.

[5] An owner of premises suing for possession may find it advantageous to join all the persons in possession of the suit premises, to avoid difficulties which may otherwise arise when he attempts to execute his decree; but the non-joinder will not enable a sub-tenant to resist delivery of possession to the owner in execution of his decree for ejectment against his lessee. (Vol 9) 1922 Bom 273 (274): 46 Bom 528.

[8] Under Hindu Law unmarried sisters have a right to residence in the family dwelling-house until they are married and if the house be sold in execution of a decree for debts incurred by the last male holder or his legal representatives, they can resist the auction-purchaser from ousting them out of their portions in their actual occupations till suitable arrangement is made for them. (Vol 7) 1920 Mad 106 (107): 43 Mad 635 (DB).

[9] Where obstruction is caused by a person who although a purchaser pendente lite, has entered into possession by reason of his having paid off a prior possessory mortgage, O. 21, R. 99, is applicable. (Vol 13) 1926 Oudh 610 (611): 2 Luck 269.

[10] Auction-purchaser resisted in obtaining possession of the purchased property by some members of the family to which the property belonged but who were not made parties to the suit, case falls under O. 21, R. 99. Remedy of the purchaser is by a regular suit to obtain physical possession of the share of those judgment-debtors. (1912) 14 Ind Cas 282 (283) (Mad).

[11] The word "possession" in O. 21, Rule 99 does not mean merely actual physical possession. It includes constructive possession. (1901) 25 Bom 478 (480, 481).

[12] Rule 103 of O. 21, applies only when order under Rr. 98, 99 or 101 is passed. (Vol 10) 1923 Lah 145 (146).

[13] An order passed by the Subordinate Judge on an application by the person obstructing, directing the decree-holder to file a suit against the persons in possession and obstructing decree-holder to take possession is not one which is passed under O. 21, R. 99 and the failure of the decree-holder to file such a suit does not under O. 21, R. 103, make it conclusive as between the decree-holder and those persons. (Vol 15) 1928 Lah 672 (674).

[14] No Order can be passed under O. 21, Rule 99 without an enquiry and adjudication, however summary, of the rights of parties. (Vol 16) 1929 Mad 69 (72).

[15] O. 21, R. 103 makes it clear that an order under this rule becomes conclusive only after such an investigation as follows on an application under R. 97 or R. 100. (Vol 18) 1931 Lah 686 (687).

[16] Decision in favour of party, not judgment-debtor under R. 99 is conclusive so far as question of possession is concerned until set aside by suit under R. 103. (Vol 7) 1920 Lah 517 (520): 1 Lah 57 (DB).

[20] It has been held in the undermentioned cases that when a Court investigates a claim to property sought to be taken in execution of a decree it should not confine itself to the mere question of possession but must decide on the title to the property in dispute. 2. "Persons other than the judgment-debtor."

[10] When a person is in possession of the property by receipt of rent or otherwise, and the tenant in actual possession is dispossessed of the property by the decree holder or auction-purchaser, the landlord is the person who is dispossessed of the property within the meaning of O. 21 R. 100 and is entitled to be restored to possession. [5] If a person is dispossessed of his property in a suit between third parties and he being aware of it does not apply under O. 21, R. 100 to the Court and remains dispossessed his title will be extinct by efflux of time under Limitation Act. (1904) 27 Mad 262 (267) (DB).

4. Dispossession under Collector's orders.—

[1] The rule does not apply where the execution of the decrees has been transferred to the Collector. If a person is wrongly ousted or dispossessed under the Collector's orders he should apply to the Collector and not to the Court. (1913) 37 Bom 488 (490).

[2] When a decree is transferred to a Collector or for execution, the Court which passed the decree is functus officio, for the time being but when the Collector has exhausted his powers, all matters requiring to be done, and usually regarded as done in execution must be done by the Court which passed the decree. (Vol 1) 1914 Bom 252 (253) : 38 Bom 673 (DB).

5. "By the purchaser thereof."—[1] R. 100 includes auction-purchaser's legal representative. (Vol 20) 1933 Cal 293 (293).

[2] Application under Civil P. C., O. 21, R. 100 dismissed without investigation—Person dispossessed is not bound to bring suit within one year—Art 11-A does not apply. (Vol 5) 1918 Mad 554 (554) (DB).

[3] If an objection under O. 21, R. 100, is allowed, the period of limitation for suit by auction-purchaser for declaration of title to the property begins to run from the date when objection is allowed. (Vol 4) 1917 All 426 (427).

ORDER 21 RULE 101.

Synopsis.

1. Scope and applicability.
2. Procedure under the old Code.
3. "On his own account."
4. Nature of inquiry under this rule.
5. Applicability of O. 9.
6. Appeal.
7. Revision.

O. 21 R. 101 (contd.)

1. Scope and applicability.—[1] This rule applies to the proceedings under the Madras Estates Land Act, 1908 by S. 192 of that Act. (Vol 22) 1935 Mad 309 (310) (DB).

[2] Order 21 generally does not apply to sales by Official Receiver. (Vol 28) 1941 Mad 75 (76). (Remedy of person dispossessed by such sale is under S. 4. Provincial Insolvency Act and not under O. 21 R. 100.)

[3] Order 21, R. 101 which directs that a bona fide claimant who has been dispossessed in execution shall be restored to possession does not apply to a transferee pendente lite. (Vol 5) 1918 Mad 673 (674) (DB).

2. Procedure under the old Code.—[1] As to the procedure under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1882 see the following cases:—

[a] The Civil Procedure Code of 1908 does not provide for the investigation of the claim of an objector who does not derive title under the judgment-debtor. The provision to that effect in S. 335, Act 14 of 1882, has not been reproduced in the new Code. (Vol 5) 1918 Mad 165 (165) (DB).

[b] An order under S. 335 C.P.C. (1882) is conclusive as between the parties and if it is not set aside by suit within one year, it cannot be questioned in any subsequent suit as between the same parties, whether the possession given to auction-purchaser is symbolical or not. (Vol 2) 1915 Mad 586 (587) (DB).

[c] If a claim is investigated under Sec. 331 of the Code of Civil Procedure of 1882 by a Court of inferior jurisdiction in respect of property the value of which exceeds the limit of its pecuniary jurisdiction the decision will not operate as res judicata in a subsequent title suit. (1910) 11 Cal L Jour 478 (483) (DB).

[d] Scope—The legislature could never have intended that the investigation into the claim might be defeated by a preliminary objection as to the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Court. (1910) 11 Cal L Jour 478 (483) (DB).

[e] The person dispossessed in execution of a decree preferred a claim under S. 332, Civil Procedure Code. The petition having been allowed with costs, the decree-holder instituted a suit to set aside the summary order and for a declaration of his right to the property. A decree was passed in favour of the plaintiff. Thereupon the claimant applied for execution of the order for costs in the claim case. Held that, as the decree expressly declared that the order had no effect, the execution for costs could not proceed, even though the decree did not specifically refer to costs incurred in the petition. (1895) 5 Mad L Jour 252 (253).

3. "On his own account"—[1] Rules 100 and 101 apply to cases of joint possession as well. (Vol 18) 1931 Cal 385 (387) : 58 Cal 55 * (Vol 25) 1938 Nag 442 (443, 444) * (Vol 10) 1923 Nag 52 (53) : 18 Nag L R 206 * (Vol 20) 1933 Pat 132 (133).

[2] A person in joint possession with the judgment-debtor of a certain land as a member of a joint family or otherwise, can claim to be in possession of the land in good faith on his own account within O. 21 R. 100, C.P.C. and the effect of an order in his favour will be to place him in joint possession with the execution purchaser. (Vol 1) 1914 Cal 186 (187) (DB). * (Vol 10) 1923 Nag 52 (53) : 18 Nag L R. 206 * (Vol 11) 1924 Pat 506 (507). (A joint auction-purchaser in possession can apply under R. 100.)

[But see (1893) 17 Bom 718 (721). (A member of a joint Hindu family cannot say that he is in possession of any particular portion of the joint property on his own account.)]

[3] Specific share in property cannot be restored to claimant—He can only get joint possession. (Vol 18) 1931 Cal 385 (387) : 58 Cal 55 * (1910) 11 Cal L Jour 61 (64).

[See however (Vol 25) 1938 Nag 442 (444). (Decree for possession of fields against judgment-debtor entitled only to certain share in fields—Judgment-debtor's co-owners on application under O. 21, R. 100 are not entitled to possession of entire set of fields but only to the extent of their share.)]

[4] If the claimant under R. 100 was in possession though without a good title or even as a trespasser but on his own account or on account of some person other than the judgment-debtor he is entitled to succeed under R. 101. (Vol 14) 1927 Cal 339 (340). (Application by transferee of claimant whose claim under R. 58 was dismissed—Held competent.)

[5] A mortgagee of an occupancy holding is in possession of it on his own account and not on account of the mortgagor within R. 101; consequently the purchaser of an occupancy holding in execution, cannot oust the mortgagee in possession summarily but must first annul the incumbrance. (Vol 1) 1914 Cal 580 (580) (DB) * (1878-80) 2 All 94 (95) (DB).

4. Nature of inquiry under this rule.—[1] Application under O. 21, R. 100, is in nature of summary suit. (Vol 5) 1918 Pat 486 (487) : 3 Pat L Jour 250 (DB).

[2] However short and summary the investigation may be, an order under O. 21, R. 101, must be based upon the merits of the application, that is, an opinion on such facts as are before the Court as to whether the applicant was in possession or not. A mere dismissal in default or for non-prosecution is not an order under O. 21 R. 101. (Vol 4) 1917 Nag 53 (54) : 14 Nag L R 66.

[3] The test as to whether an order has properly been passed under O. 21, R. 101 is whether there was an investigation and the order was passed as the result of such investigation. (Vol 4) 1917 Nag 53 (54) : 14 Nag L R 66 * (Vol 24) 1937 Oudh 400 (400, 401) (DB). (Provisions of R. 100, O. 21 are mandatory—Court must investigate claim on fulfilment of conditions in R. 100 (1).)

[See also (Vol 16) 1929 Mad 69 (72) (DB). (With reference to order passed under O. 21, there is an enquiry and adjudication, however summary of the rights of parties).]

[4] The investigation under Rr. 100 and 101 is restricted to the question of possession only and even though the applicant may not have good title to the property, if he can show that he was not in possession on behalf of the judgment-debtor but on his own account he must under R. 101 be put in possession of the property. (Vol 24) 1937 Oudh 400 (401) (DB) * (1878-80) 2 All 94 (95, 96) (DB). as to title and is also not necessarily final. (Vol 25) 1938 Pat 150 (153) (DB).

[6] Scope—Questions as to validity of original decree, lis pendens and whether opposite party derives title by kabala or compromise decree, are questions which are outside scope of decision in summary proceeding under O. 21, R. 100. (Vol 17) 1930 Pat 416 (417). (Court cannot go behind original decree and hold that it is collusive.) * (Vol 8) 1921 Mad 612 (615) (DB). (Court should confine itself to the decree.) * (Vol 22) 1935 Pat 230 (230). (Court must confine itself to language of specific provision and doctrine of lis pendens will not apply.) * (Vol 11) 1924 Pat 506 (507). (Question of benami cannot be gone into under R. 58 or R. 100 of O. 21.)

[7] No declaratory order can be passed under the rule. (Vol 14) 1927 Nag 300 (301).

[8] Whether requirements of O. 21, Rr. 100 and 101 have been satisfied is question of fact which must be determined before any order can be passed on the application. (Vol 29) 1942 Pat 279 (281) (DB.)

[9] Events subsequent to delivery of possession must be considered. (Vol 20) 1933 Cal 584 (585) : 60 Cal 685 (DB).

[10] Application under—Court should allow parties to adduce evidence. (Vol 22) 1935 All 457 (457).

[11] Application under R. 100—Decree-holder asked to begin—After his examination witnesses of claimant examined—It amounts to irregularity. (Vol 18) 1931 Mad 534 (536).

[12] The only order contemplated by O. 21, R. 101 is an order putting the applicant into possession of the property, so that an order refusing to put the applicant into possession would be merely an order rejecting his application and not an order falling under R. 101. (Vol 4) 1917 Bom 133 (134) : 42 Bom 10 (DB).

[13] Finding of fact arrived at in proceedings under O. 21, R. 100 would not be res judicata in a subsequent suit. (Vol 27) 1940 Cal 16 (17).

[14] A right to possession upon redemption is not a right to the present possession of the property. An order under O. 21, R. 101, C.P.O. becomes conclusive under R. 103 only so far as the present right to possession of the property is concerned. It does not affect a party's right to possession upon redemption. (Vol 8) 1921 Nag 69 (70) : 17 Nag LR 33.

[15] Remedy of unsuccessful claimant under R. 58 is by suit only—Scope under Rr. 58 and 100 being same he cannot again apply under R. 100. (Vol 20) 1933 Cal 233 (234) (DB).

[16] Application for delivery of possession by auction-purchaser dismissed for default—Subsequent application for same relief—Objection by claimant allowed—Suit for declaration of title by auction-purchaser—Limitation begins to run from the date when objection is allowed. (Vol 4) 1917 All 426 (427) (DB).

[17] Possession obtained in execution—Subsequent dispossession—Application for restoration dismissed for failure to produce or summon witnesses—No order held passed under O. 21, R. 101 which could be conclusive in absence of suit within period allowed by Limitation Act, Art. 11 (a). (Vol 4) 1917 Nag 53 (54, 55) : 14 Nag LR 66.

5. Applicability of O. 9.—[1] Proceedings under O. 21, R. 100 are part of execution and O. 9 does not apply to such proceedings as do not fall within S. 47. (Vol 16) 1929 Mad 757 (762) : 52 Mad 899 (FB) * (Vol 1) 1914 Cal 126 (127) : 41 Cal 1 (DB).

[2] An application under O. 21, R. 100 cannot be regarded as an application in execution ; therefore by force of S. 141, O. 9, R. 9 applies to applications under it. (Vol. 10) 1923 Pat 239 (241) : 2 Pat 372 (DB) * (Vol. 32) 1945 Pat 132 (132, 133).

[See also (Vol 5) 1918 Pat 486 (486) : 3 Pat L Jour 250 (DB). (Claim under O. 21, R. 100 dismissed for default—Party not bound by decree can obtain re-hearing under O. 9, R. 9.)]

[3] Where a party starts a case under O. 21, R 100 and allows it to be dismissed for default, he has his remedy under R. 103 and the case need not be restored under S. 151. (Vol 21) 1934 Cal 653 (654).

[4] Application under—Claim allowed in the absence of decree-holder—Whole case not placed before the Court. Case should be reheard under Civil P.C., S. 151. (Vol. 15) 1928 Cal 179 (179, 180).

[5] Case under O. 21, Rs. 100 and 101 is not suit within meaning of O. 9, R. 4 which therefore does not apply to it. (Vol 6) 1919 Pat 540 (541).

6. Appeal.—[1] Order deciding question about delivery of possession in execution arising between decree-holder and defendant against whom suit is dismissed under S. 47 and hence appealable. (Vol 3) 1916 Mad 1008 (1010) (DB) * (Vol 20) 1933 Cal 680 (680) : 60 Cal 832 (DB). (Order under R. 100 and S. 47—Second appeal lies.)

[2] Order on objection by judgment-debtor to sale of some property though disposing of objections by strangers to deliver possession remains one under S. 47 and is appealable. (Vol 3) 1916 Mad 727 (727, 728) (DB).

[3] Under R. 103, no appeal lies from an order passed under R. 101. (Vol 4) 1917 Lah 406 (406) : 1917 Pun Re. No. 57.

[See also (Vol 4) 1917 Bom 133 (134) : 42 Bom 10 (DB). (Application under O. 21, R. 100—Order dismissing application is "one made under R. 100" within R. 103—Party against whom order is made though not judgment-debtor cannot appeal under S. 47.)]

[4] T got decree for sale subject to prior mortgage and purchased it himself in sale—Possession obtained through Court—Application of prior mortgagee for restoration of possession—Order held not appealable. (Vol 1) 1914 All 467 (468) (DB).

7. Revision.—[1] A party against whom an order under O. 21, Rr. 98, 99 or 101 is made, has the right to proceed under O. 21, R. 103 and therefore he cannot be allowed to have the order rectified in revision. ('11) 1911 Pun L R No. 129 Page 482 (483).

[See however (Vol 25) 1938 Cal 577 (578). (Order under O. 21, R. 100—Separate suit though maintainable revision cannot be said to be mala fide.)]

[2] Where an application is brought in revision against an order restoring a purchaser from the judgment-debtor of a non-transferable occupancy holding to possession under O. 21, R. 101, the High Court of Calcutta as a rule does not interfere in revision because another and better remedy by way of suit is open to the parties. (Vol 17) 1930 Cal 343 (348). [(Vol 5) 1918 Pat 483 : 3 Pat L Jour 579 Diss. from.]

102. Nothing in rules 99 and 101 shall apply to resistance or obstruction in execution of a decree for the possession of immovable property by a person to whom the judgment-debtor has transferred the property after the institution of the suit in which the decree was passed or to the dispossession of any such person.

103. Any party not being a judgment-debtor against whom an order is made under rule 98, rule 99 or rule 101 may institute a suit to establish the right which he claims to the present possession of the property; but, subject to the result of such suit (if any), the order shall be conclusive.

[5] Where the lower Appellate Court erroneously entertains an appeal against an order made under O. 21, R. 101 the High Court can set aside the appellate Court's decision under S. 115 of the Code. (Vol 10) 1923 Bom 214 (215) (DB).

[6] Order under O. 21, R. 101 by Deputy Collector can be revised only by High Court under Madras Estates Act and not by District Collector. But High Court cannot revise District Collector's order refusing to interfere with Deputy Collector's order. (Vol 22) 1935 Mad 309 (310) (DB).

[2] Where before determining what item fell to the share of the decree-holder particular items of property in the possession of a vendee from judgment-debtor were delivered to decree-holder.

Held, that such a contention could have been put forward by the judgment-debtor and it is difficult to see why the transferee from the judgment-debtor pending execution could not put forward the same contention. An objection of such a nature is not one under O. 21, R. 99 or R. 101, but one under S. 47 and his objection would prevail in spite of a notice served upon him that certain items are to be delivered to decree-holder. (Vol 13) 1926 Mad 968 (969).

[3] It has been held in the undermentioned case that O. 21, R. 102 does not apply to involuntary sale. (Vol 22) 1935 Pat 230 (230) * (Vol 33) 1946 Pat 134 (135, 136); 24 Pat 695 (DB). [4] The undermentioned case holds that rule 102 covers transfers whether voluntary or involuntary. (Vol 26) 1939 Cal 709 (710); ILR (1939) 2 Cal 63.

[5] Purchaser in charge-decree is also representative of judgment-debtor—Such purchaser applying for possession—Purchaser in private sale obstructing—

[7] Use of word "may" in R. 103 suggests that what is contemplated is the establishment of a right and remedy by a suit is indicated—If such right is established it is not necessary to institute suit. (Vol 24) 1937 Mad 582 (583, 584).

[11] Plaintiff's right to present possession of property established—Order of removal of his obstruction must be set aside—His disposssession pending suit does not matter. (Vol 26) 1939 Bom 508 (510).

[12] Suit filed under O. 21, R. 103 to contest order made under Rr. 98, 99 or 101—Its scope is establishment of right or title by which plaintiff claims present possession. [16] The burden of proving a subsisting title to a land lies on the party out of possession and the fact that the party in possession is forced to institute a suit under R. 103 does not shift the burden of proof on to him. (Vol 12) 1925 Sind 201 (201).

2. Suit under a different title.—[1] The suit contemplated by R. 103 is a suit by a person who is kept out of possession of the property purchased in execution of the decree and claims possession under his auction-purchase. It does not concern itself with any other cause of action which such person apart from his character as auction-purchaser may have against the defendant. (Vol 12) 1926 Cal 377 (377).

[2] If the title which is put forward as the basis of a suit is the same as the title which was put forward in execution proceedings as the basis for an order in a party's favour then O. 21, R. 103 would be a bar to a suit brought after limitation period prescribed in Art. 11-A but not otherwise. [4] Where the basis of the claim in the suit is the same as that put forward in the miscellaneous objection proceedings to the present possession. 4. "Order shall be conclusive."—[1] Rules 97 to 103, O. 21, contemplate that the decision in favour of a party not being a judgment-debtor under R. 99 is conclusive in so far as the question of possession is concerned unless and until a suit is brought by the party against whom the order is made under R. 103. ORDER 21, Rule 104 (Oudh)—Note 1.

[1] Rule 104 and following rules do not involve any question of attachment—Effect of notice under Rule 104 is to give warning to garnishee. (Vol 26) 1939 Oudh 86 (87) (Meaning of debt explained.)

ORDER 21, RULE 105 (All.)—Note 1.

[1] The provision in Rule 105 is directory not mandatory—Omission to record reasons in order of appointment does not make attachment illegal. (Vol 22) 1935 All 490 (491) : 36 Cr L Jour 545.

ORDER 21, RULE 106 (All.)—Note 1.

[1] The omission to file a certificate required by R. 106 will disentitle the decree-holder to have process issued on his application, but the application will not on that account cease to be in accordance with law and cannot therefore be dismissed. (Vol 17) 1930 All 188 (189) (DB).

On the day so fixed, or on any date to which the enquiry may have been adjourned, the Court may take such evidence, by affidavit or otherwise, as it may deem necessary; and may also call for a report from the Collector of the district as to whether such land or any portion thereof is ancestral land.

After considering the evidence and the report, if any, the Court shall determine whether such land, or any, and what part of it, is ancestral land.

The result of the enquiry shall be noted in an order made for the purpose by the presiding Judge in his own handwriting.

R. 108. When the property which it is sought to bring to sale is revenue paying or revenue free land or any interest in such land, and the decree is not sent to the Collector for execution under S. 68, the Court, before ordering sale, shall also call upon the Collector in whose district such property is situate to report whether the property is subject to any (and, if so, to what) outstanding claims on the part of Government.

R. 109. The certificate of the Sub-Registrar and the report of the Collector shall be open to the inspection of the parties or their pleaders, free of charge, between the time of the receipt by the Court and the declaration of the result of the enquiry.

No fees are payable in respect of the report by the Collector.

R. 110. The result of the enquiry under R. 66 shall be noted in an order made for the purpose by the presiding Judge in his own handwriting. The Court may in its discretion adjourn the enquiry, provided that the reasons for the adjournment are stated in writing and that no more adjournments are made than are necessary for the purpose of the inquiry.

R. 111. If after proclamation of the intended sale has been made any matter is brought to the notice of the Court which it considers material for purchasers to know, the Court shall cause the same to be notified to intending purchasers when the property is put up for sale.

R. 112. The costs of the proceedings under Rr. 66, 106 and 108 shall be paid in the first instance by the decree-holder; but they shall be charged as part of the costs of the execution, unless the Court, for reasons to be specified in writing, shall consider that they shall either wholly or in part be omitted therefrom.

R. 113. Whenever any Civil Court has sold, in execution of a decree or other order, any house or other building situated within the limits of a military cantonment or station, it shall, as soon as the sale has been confirmed, forward to the Commanding Officer of such cantonment or station for his information and for record in the Brigade or other proper office, a written notice that such sale has taken place; and such notice shall contain full particulars of the property sold and of the name and address of the purchaser.

R. 114. Whenever guns or other arms in respect of which licenses have to be taken by purchasers under the Indian Arms Act (Act No. XI of 1878) are sold by public auction in execution of decrees by order of a Civil Court, the Court directing the sale shall give due notice to the Magistrate of the district of the names and addresses of the purchasers, and of the time and place of the intended delivery to the purchasers of such arms, so that proper steps may be taken by the police to enforce the requirements of the Indian Arms Act.

R. 115. When an application is made for the attachment of live-stock or other movable property, the decree-holder shall pay into Court in cash such sum as will cover the costs of the maintenance and custody of the property for fifteen days. If within three clear days before the expiry of any such period of fifteen days the amount of such costs for such further period as the Court may direct be not paid into Court, the Court, on receiving a report thereof from the proper officer, may issue an order for the withdrawal of the attachment and direct by whom the costs of the attachment are to be paid.

R. 116. Live-stock which has been attached in execution of a decree shall ordinarily be left at the place where the attachment is made either in custody of the judgment-debtor on his furnishing security, or in that of some landholder or other respectable person willing to undertake the responsibility of its custody and to produce it when required by the Court.

- (a) the number and description of the animals;

R. 118. For every animal committed to the custody of the pound-keeper as aforesaid a charge shall be levied as rent for the use of the pound for each fifteen or part of fifteen days during which such custody continues, according to the scale prescribed under S. 12 of Act No. I of 1871.

R. 123. With the permission of the Court the attaching officer may place one or more persons in special charge of such property.

GARNISHEE ORDERS

R. 131. The Court may, in the case of any debt due to the judgment-debtor (other than a debt secured by a mortgage or a charge or a negotiable instrument, or a debt recoverable only in a Revenue Court), or any moveable property not in the possession of the judgment-debtor, issue a notice to any person (hereinafter called the garnishee) liable to pay such debt, or to deliver or account for such moveable property, calling upon him to appear before the Court and show cause why he should not pay or deliver into Court the debt due from or the property deliverable by him to such judgment-debtor, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy the decree and the cost of execution.

R. 132. If the garnishee does not forthwith or within such time as the Court may allow, pay or deliver into Court the amount due from or the property deliverable by him to the judgment-debtor, or so much as may be sufficient to satisfy the decree and the cost of execution, and does not dispute his liability to pay such debt or deliver such moveable property, or if he does not appear in answer to the notice, then the Court may order the garnishee to comply with the terms of such notice, and on such order execution may issue as though such order were a decree against him.

R. 133. If the garnishee disputes his liability, the Court, instead of making such order, may order that any issue or question necessary for determining his liability be tried, as though it were an issue in a suit; and upon the determination of such issue shall pass such order upon the notice as shall be just.

R. 134. Whenever in any proceedings under these rules it is alleged, or appears to the Court to be probable that the debt or property attached or sought to be attached belongs to some third person, or that any third person has a lien or charge upon, or an interest in it, the Court may order such third person to appear and state the nature of his claim, if any, upon such debt or property and prove the same, if necessary.

R. 135. After hearing such third person, and any other person who may subsequently be ordered to appear, or in the case of such third or other person not appearing when ordered, the Court may pass such order as is hereinbefore provided or make such other order as it shall think fit, upon such terms in all cases with respect to the lien, charge or interest, if any, of such third or other person as to such Court shall seem just and reasonable.

R. 136. Payment or delivery made by the garnishee whether in execution of an order under these rules or otherwise shall be a valid discharge to him as against the judgment-debtor, or any other person ordered to appear as aforesaid, for the amount paid, delivered or realised, although such order or the judgment may be set aside or reversed.

R. 137. Debts owing from a firm carrying on business within the jurisdiction of the Court may be attached under these rules, although one or more members of such firm may be resident out of the jurisdiction: Provided that any person having the control or management of the partnership business or any member of the firm within the jurisdiction is served with the garnishee order. An appearance by any member pursuant to an order shall be a sufficient appearance by the firm.

R. 138. The costs of any application under these rules and of any proceedings arising therefrom or incidental thereto, or any order made thereon, shall be in the discretion of the Court.

[1] Money left with the mortgagee for payment to creditors is not a debt as contemplated by R. 131 and cannot be attached. (Vol 21) 1934 All 954 (956).

[2] Where an objection is raised to a notice issued under this rule and the objections are disallowed, the court should pass an order under O. 21, R. 133 (Vol 21) 1934 All 770 (772).

[3] Word 'charge' is not limited to charge created by act of parties—Sale by judgment-debtor of attached property—Part of consideration left with vendee to be paid to vendor's decree-holder—There is debt due by vendee to vendor and such debt is secured by charge—Garnishee proceedings are not applicable. (Vol 27) 1940 All 500 (502, 503, 504) : ILR (1940) All 681 (DB).

ORDER 21, RULE 132 (All.)—Note 1.

[1] The right of parties to recover from each other is not affected by the order of payment passed against garnishee. (Vol 21) 1934 All 1056 (1057).

ORDER 21, RULE 139 (All.)—Note 1.

[1] An order against the garnishee has the force of a decree which virtually becomes part and parcel of the original decree passed in the suit. It supplements the decree passed in the original suit. (Vol 21) 1934 All 1056 (1057)

[See also (Vol 25) 1938 All 254 (255, 256). (Application for garnishee order allowed and liability of garnishee held to exist—Order has force of decree).]

R. 4. If attached property (other than live-stock) is not sold under the proviso to R. 43, O. 21, or retained in the village or place where it is attached, it shall be brought to the court-house at the decree-holder's expense and delivered to the proper officer of the Court. In the event of the decree-holder failing to make his own arrangement for the removal of the property with safety, or paying the cost thereof in advance to the attaching officer, then unless such payment has previously been made into Court, the attachment shall at once be deemed to be withdrawn and the property shall be made over to the person in whose possession it was before attachment.

R. 5. When live-stock is attached it shall not, without the special order of the Court, be brought to the Court or its compound or vicinity, but shall be left at the village or place where it was attached in the manner and on the conditions set forth in Rule 3 of this Order :

Provided that live-stock shall not be left in the charge of any person under clause (a) of the said rule unless he enters into a bond for the proper care and maintenance thereof as well as for its production when called for, and that it shall not be left in charge of an officer of the Court under clause (b) of the said rule unless in addition to the requirements of the said clause provision be made for its care and maintenance.

R. 6. When for any reason, the attaching officer shall find it impossible to obtain compliance with the requirements of the preceding rule so as to entitle him to leave the attached live stock in the village or place where it was attached and no order has been made by the Court for its removal to the Court, the attaching officer shall not proceed with the attachment and no attachment shall be deemed to have been effected.

R. 7. Whenever it shall appear to the Court that live-stock under attachment are not being properly tended or maintained, the Court shall make such orders as are necessary for their care and maintenance and may, if necessary, direct the attachment to cease and the live-stock to be returned to the person in whose possession they were when attached. The Court may order the decree-holder to pay any expenses so incurred in providing for the care and maintenance of the live-stock and may direct that any sum so paid, shall be refunded to the decree-holder by any other party to the proceedings.

R. 8. If under a special order of the Court live-stock is to be conveyed to the Court, the decree-holder shall make his own arrangement for such removal and if he fails to do so, the attachment shall be withdrawn and the property made over to the person in whose possession it was before attachment.

R. 9. Nothing in these rules shall prevent the judgment-debtor or any person claiming to be interested in attached live-stock from making such arrangements for feeding, watering and tending the same as may not be inconsistent with its safe custody, or contrary to any order of the Court.

R. 10. The Court may direct that any sums which have been legitimately expended by the attaching officer or are payable to him, if not duly deposited or paid, be recovered from the sale proceeds of the attached property, if sold, or be paid by the person declared entitled to delivery before he receives the same. The Court may also order that any sums deposited or paid under these rules be recovered as costs of the attachment from any party to the proceedings.

R. 11. In the event of the custodian of attached property failing, after due notice, to produce such property at the place named to the officer deputed for the purpose, or to restore it to its owner if so ordered or failing in the case of live-stock to maintain and take proper care thereof, he shall be liable to be proceeded against for the enforcement of his bond in the execution proceedings.

R. 12. When property other than live-stock is brought to the Court, it shall immediately be made over to the nazir, who shall keep it on his sole responsibility in such place as may be approved by the Court. If the property cannot from its nature or bulk be conveniently stored, or kept on the Court premises or in the personal custody of the nazir, he may, subject to the approval of the Court, make such arrangements for its safe custody under his own supervision as may be most convenient and economical. If any premises are to be hired and persons are to be engaged for watching the property the Court shall fix the charges for the premises and the remuneration to be allowed to the persons (not being officers of the Court) in whose custody the property is kept. All such costs shall be paid into Court by the decree-holder in advance for such period as the Court may from time to time direct.

R. 13. When attached live-stock is brought to Court under special order as aforesaid it shall be immediately made over to the nazir, who shall be responsible for its due preservation and safe custody until he delivers it up under the orders of the Court.

R. 14. If there be a pound maintained by Government or local authority in or near the place where the Court is held, the nazir shall, subject to the approval of the Court, be at liberty to place in it such live-stock as can be properly kept there, in which case the pound-keeper will be responsible for the property to the nazir and shall receive from the nazir the same rates for accommodation and maintenance thereof as are paid in respect of impounded cattle of the same description.

R. 15. If there be no pound available, or, if in the opinion of the Court, it be inconvenient to lodge the attached live-stock in the pound, the nazir may keep them in his own premises or he may entrust them to any person selected by himself and approved by the Court.

R. 16. All costs for the keeping and maintenance of the live-stock shall be paid into Court by the decree-holder in advance for not less than fifteen days at a time as often as the Court may from time to time direct. In the event of failure to pay the costs within the time fixed by the Court, the attachment shall be withdrawn and the live-stock shall be at the disposal of the person in whose possession it was at the time of attachment.

R. 17. So much of any sum deposited or paid into Court under these rules as may not be expended shall be refunded to the depositor.

Order 21, Rules 104 to 114 (ODH)

Add the following rules:

R. 104. The Court may, in the case of any debt due to the judgment-debtor (other than a debt secured by a mortgage or a charge or a negotiable instrument, or a debt recoverable only in a Revenue Court, or any movable property not in the possession of the judgment-debtor, issue a notice to any person (hereinafter called the garnishee) liable to pay such debt, or to deliver or account for such movable property, calling upon him to appear before the Court and show cause why he should not pay or deliver into Court the debt due from or the property deliverable by him to such judgment-debtor, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy the decree and the cost of execution.

R. 105. If the garnishee does not forthwith or within such time as the Court may allow, pay or deliver into Court the amount due from or the property deliverable by him to the judgment-debtor, or so much as may be sufficient to satisfy the decree and the cost of execution and does not dispute his liability to pay such debt or deliver such moveable property, or if he does not appear in answer to the notice, then the Court may order the garnishee to comply with the terms of such notice, and on such order execution may issue as though such order were a decree against him.

R. 106. If the garnishee disputes his liability the Court, instead of making such order, may order that any issue or question necessary for determining his liability be tried as though it were an issue in a suit, and upon the determination of such issue shall pass such order upon the notice as shall be just.

R. 107. Whenever in any proceedings under these rules it is alleged or appears to the Court to be probable, that the debt or property attached or sought to be attached belongs to some third person or that any third person has a lien or charge upon, or an interest in it, the Court may order such third person to appear and state the nature of his claim, if any, upon such debt or property and prove the same, if necessary.

R. 108. After hearing such third person, and any other person who may subsequently be ordered to appear, or in the case of such third or other person not appearing when ordered the Court may pass such order as is hereinbefore provided or make such other order as it shall think fit, upon such terms in all cases with respect to the lien, charge or interest, if any, of such third or other person as to such Court shall seem just and reasonable.

R. 109. Payment or delivery made by the garnishee whether in execution of an order under these rules or otherwise shall be a valid discharge to him as against the judgment-debtor, or any other person ordered to appear as aforesaid, for the amount paid, delivered or realized although such order or the judgment may be set aside or reversed.

R. 110. Debts owing from a firm carrying on business within the jurisdiction of the Court may be attached under these rules, although one or more members of such firm may be resident out of the jurisdiction :

Provided that any person having the control or management of the partnership business or any member of the firm within the jurisdiction is served with the garnishee order. An appearance by any member pursuant to an order shall be sufficient appearance by the firm.

R. 111. The costs of any application under these rules and of any proceedings arising therefrom or incidental thereto, or any order made thereon, shall be in the discretion of the Court.

R. 112. (1) Where the liability of any garnishee has been tried and determined under these rules, the order shall have the same force, and be subject to the same conditions as to appeal or otherwise as if it were a decree.

(2) Orders not covered by sub-rule (1) shall be appealable as orders made in execution.

Illustration.—An application for a garnishee order is dismissed either on the ground that the debt is secured by a charge or that there is no prima facie evidence of debt due. This order is appealable as an order in execution.

R. 113. All the rules in this Code relating to service upon either plaintiffs or defendants at the address filed or subsequently altered under Order 7 or Order 8 shall apply to all proceedings taken under Order 21 or Section 47.

ORDER 22 RULE 2—Synopsis.

1 Scope.

2. Right to sue surviving to surviving plaintiffs.

3. Right to sue surviving against surviving defendants.

4. Suit includes appeal.

1. Scope.—[1] Word "Survive" in O. 22, R. 2, is used in its ordinary sense of outliving. (Vol 16) 1929 Sind 225 (226) : 24 Sind LR 167 (DB).

[2] The word 'alone' does not mean that no one else should be entitled to sue or be liable to be sued, it only means that the survivor or survivors should be entitled to sue or be liable to be sued independently of others, i.e., without joining others—Suit can be continued by surviving plaintiff if he had an independent right of suing. (Vol 11) 1924 Rang 376 (376) : 2 Rang 486.

[3] Where the right to sue is fully represented by the surviving plaintiff or defendant already on record R. 2 applies ; and when it would not be fully represented unless some person not already on record is added as a party, R. 3 or R. 4 applies. (Vol 20) 1933 Nag 95 (97) : 29 Nag LR 12.

[4] There can be no abatement if the facts come within the provisions of this rule. (Vol 17) 1930 Cal 270 (272).

[5] One of the respondents dying—Legal representatives already on record in another capacity—Entry should be made under R. 2 and R. 4 is not applicable. (Vol 8) 1921 Oudh 209 (213) : 24 Oudh Cas 374 (DB).

(Vol 18) 1931 All 349 (349, 350) : 53 All 521 (DB).

[7] O. 22 R. 2 is not limited in its application to cases, in which the right of suit survives against the surviving defendants, by reason of some circumstance antecedent to the suit. (1906) 4 Cal L Jour 568 (570) (DB).

[8] Purchase of deceased respondent's interest by surviving respondent after institution of suit—O. 22, R. 2, applies. (Vol 14) 1927 Lah 501 (503) (Per Jai Lal J ; Dalip Sing J. Contra).

[9] The test whether a right to sue survives in the surviving plaintiffs or against the surviving defendants is whether the surviving plaintiffs can alone sue or the surviving defendants could alone be sued in the absence of the deceased plaintiff or defendant respectively. (Vol 23) 1936 Pat 548 (549) : 15 Pat 326 (DB).

[10] On the death of any plaintiff or defendant when the surviving plaintiffs or defendants alone can sue or be sued, Court will make entry to that effect and proceed, there being no abatement. No application is necessary for that purpose. (Vol 16) 1929 All 347 (347).

[11] If the conditions of this rule are satisfied, the suit can be proceeded with even if it had been filed against a dead person along with others who are his legal representatives. (Vol 16) 1929 Lah 440 (440) (DB).

[12] Two co-widows impleaded to represent estate of their husband—Death of one of them pending appeal—Application for substitution of other widow is not necessary and O. 22, R. 2 applies. (Vol 20) 1933 Pat 464 (468) : 12 Pat 778 (DB).

(13) Cases contemplated by O. 22, R. 2 are those where, e.g., suits are filed by or against executors or trustees, or against joint tort-feasors, or against the members of a joint Hindu family on the death of one of whom his interest in the subject-matter would cease—The rule does not contemplate any defence being made by the legal representatives of a deceased defendant. (Vol 25) 1938 Bom 6 (8) : ILR (1938) Bom 61.

[14] Legal representative already on record—O. 22, R. 2 applies—No petition for substitution is necessary. (Vol 29) 1942 Pat 120 (126).

2. Right to sue surviving to surviving plaintiffs.

[2] The Allahabad High Court before amendment of R. 12 held that a suit will abate even after preliminary decree on failure to bring the legal representatives on record. But the amendment has removed the difficulty by making this rule inapplicable to such cases. (Vol 21) 1934 All 465 (468) (DB).

[3] Where after a preliminary decree the defendant dies and the Court passes a final decree against him without bringing his legal representatives on the record, the final decree is a nullity. But, where there are several defendants one of whom dies after the preliminary decree and a final decree is passed without bringing his legal representatives on the record, the final decree will be valid as against the other defendants. [2] Where the right or relief claimed in the suit is an indivisible one existing in all the plaintiffs jointly or in or against all the appellants jointly, the whole suit or appeal, will fail by reason of an abatement with respect to one of them. 4. (1) Where one of two or more defendants dies and the right to sue does not survive against the surviving defendant or defendants alone, or a sole defendant or sole surviving defendant dies and the right to sue survives, the Court, on an application made in that behalf, shall cause the legal representative of deceased defendant to be made a party and shall proceed with the suit.

(2) Any person so made a party may make any defence appropriate to his character as legal representative of the deceased defendant.

(3) Where within the time limited by law no application is made under sub-rule (1), the suit shall abate as against the deceased defendant.

Objects and Reasons.

"Rules 3 and 4.—Rules 3 and 4 have been amended so as to provide that if no application for substitution is made within the time allowed by law the suit shall abate. We have struck out the provision that the Court may make an order declaring the abatement as in our opinion it is unnecessary and likely to give rise to difficulty." S. C. R.

[2] An order refusing to recognise a person as the legal representative is not appealable. (Vol 30) 1943 Oudh 24 (27) (DB) * (Vol 2) 1915 All 158 (158) : 37 All 272 (DB) * ('81) 3 All 844 (845) (DB) * (Vol 13) 1926 Mad 586 (591) : 49 Mad 450 (FB) (Vol 7) 1920 Mad 424 : 43 Mad 812 over-ruled.) * (Vol 18) 1931 Lah 235 (236) * (Vol 11) 1924 Oudh 114 (114) * (Vol 7) 1920 Lah 8 (8, 9) : 1 Lah 493 (DB).

[3] The reason is that such an order does not adjudicate upon the rights of parties on any point or points in controversy in the suit and is therefore not a decree. (Vol 19) 1932 All 466 (466) (DB) * (Vol 7) 1920 Lah 8 (9) : 1 Lah 493 (DB) * (Vol 11) 1924 Mad 813 (814).

[4] An order bringing on record the legal representative of a deceased appellant is not a judgment within the meaning of clause 15 of the Letters Patent. (Vol 20) 1933 Mad 417 (417) : 56 Mad 689 (DB).

[5] Where the order merely recognises an abatement which has already taken place it cannot be regarded as a decree. But where it is passed on an adjudication upon the rights of parties on applications other than under O. 22 R. 9 it amounts to a decree and is appealable. (Vol 3) 1916 Lah 245 (247) : 1916 Pun Re No. 128 (FB).

[6] Casual mention in the order that right to sue did not survive does not make the order appealable. (Vol 32) 1945 Lah 298 (304, 305) (FB).

[7] An order directing an abatement is not appealable by a person who is not a party to the suit. (Vol 7) 1920 Lah 8 (9) : 1 Lah 493 (DB).

[8] An order rejecting an application that the suit might be declared to have abated is not appealable. ('95) 17 All 286 (288) (DB).

[9] That an order or rejection of a petition for substitution under this rule does not ipso facto cause the suit to abate. (Vol 8) 1921 Nag 23 (24) : 17 Nag L R 45.

[10] Decree dismissing the suit as having abated is appealable by a party thereto. (Vol 30) 1943 Mad 569 (570) * (Vol 26) 1939 Nag 39 (40) : I L R (1940) Nag 324 (DB) * ('95) 18 Mad 496 (498) (DB).

[11] An order dismissing an appeal or cross objection as having abated is appealable as a decree. (Vol 26) 1939 Nag 39 (40) : I L R (1940) Nag 324 (DB).

[12] An application made for substitution on the automatic abatement of a suit, must be deemed to be made under R. 9, and an order on such application would be appealable under order 43. (Vol 11) 1924 Lah 424 (424).

8. "Shall cause the legal representative of the deceased defendant to be made a party."

—[1] Before proceeding further with a suit where the defendant has died, the Court must bring on record the legal representative and till then no orders excepting formal or processual can be passed. (Vol 18) 1931 Lah 73 (74) * (Vol 16) 1929 Pat 101 (101) * ('02) 12 Mad L Jour 188 (189) (DB).

[2] If the suit is disposed of without impleading the legal representatives re-trial will be ordered. (Vol 11) 1924 Lah 33 (34) (DB) * (Vol 3) 1916 Mad 574 (575) : 39 Mad 886 (DB).

[3] The Court itself must correct the records in terms of its order substituting the names of the representatives and the plaintiff or respondent is not obliged to see that is so done. (Vol 24) 1937 Bom 401 (406) : ILR (1937) Bom 602 (DB).

[4] Where some person who is not an heir ex concessis is substituted as necessary for the determination of the suit, the plaint should be amended by making the necessary allegations on which the liability of the added person is based. (Vol 20) 1933 Cal 314 (315) (DB).

9. Two or more legal representatives.—[1]

The following are the different views on the question whether impleading only one of several legal representatives will save the suit from abatement :

[a] Impleading only one of several representatives is enough to save suit from abatement. (Vol 29) 1942 All 324 (326) : ILR (1942) All 448 (DB) * (Vol 15) 1922 All 532 (533) : 50 All 857 (DB) * (Vol 11) 1924 Bom 420 (421) (DB) * (Vol 22) 1935 Bom 287 (290) * ('02) 26 Mad 230 (234) (DB) * (Vol 15) 1928 Mad 1199 (1199, 1200) * (Vol 12) 1925 Pat 551 (551, 552) : 4 Pat 320 (DB) * (Vol 18) 1926 Pat 276 (276) (DB) * ('13) 1913 Pun LR No. 51 Page 194 (197) (DB) * (Vol 25) 1938 Pesh 4 (5) (DB).

[b] Bona fide application to bring in all who can be ascertained by the exercise of due care and caution will save abatement. (Vol 14) 1927 Lah 6 (7, 8) : 1 Lah 438 (DB) * (Vol 22) 1935 Lah 712 (713) (DB) * (Vol 23) 1936 Mad 336 (337) : 59 Mad 660 (DB).

[c] The person brought on record if as a matter of fact represents the estate and is so brought on without objection at the time, there will be no abatement. (Vol 10) 1923 Rang 114 (116) : 4 Upp Bur Rul 150.

[d] There will be no abatement only against the person impleaded. (Vol 10) 1923 Nag 101 (102) : 18 Nag LR 21 * (Vol 32) 1945 Nag 271 (272) : ILR (1945) Nag 691.

[e] Unless all are brought on record the suit will abate (Vol 12) 1925 Sind 2 (3, 4) (DB) * (Vol 13) 1926 Sind 20 (21) (DB).

[2] Defendants not taking the objection that all representatives are not impleaded at the proper stage will be estopped from raising it in subsequent proceedings. (Vol 17) 1930 Sind 147 (148) (DB) * (Vol 20) 1933 Cal 325 (328) : 60 Cal 87 (DB).

[3] If some of the legal representatives are specially dispensed with, and the suit cannot proceed in their absence, the whole suit will abate. (Vol 4) 1917 Cal 98 (98) (DB).

[4] Failure to bring on record the legal representatives who died subsequent to his impleading does not vitiate the proceedings. (Vol 23) 1936 Mad 336 (338) : 59 Mad 660 (DB). (In this case there was the additional factor that the plaintiff did not know about the death of one of the legal representatives.)

[5] Suit brought bona fide without fraud or collusion omitting to implead some who should or might have been joined—Decree will be binding on all, on the ground that the estate has been sufficiently represented. (Vol 29) 1942 Oudh 216 (217) : 17 Luck 720.

[See however (Vol 26) 1939 Lah 277 (279).]

10. Wrong person as legal representative.

—[1] A decree obtained against a wrong representative will ordinarily be not binding on the true representative or on the estate of the deceased defendant. (Vol 28) 1941 Pat 299 (300) * (Vol 7) 1920 All 323 (328) : 42 All 497 (504) (DB) * (Vol 11) 1924 All 717 (718) * ('13) 15 Bom LR 41 (44) (DB) * (Vol 3) 1916 Mad 726 (727) (DB).

[2] Decree obtained against a wrong representative will bind—

[i] where the plaintiff acted bona fide ;

[ii] when the decree obtained is free from fraud or collusion ;

[iii] where the person wrongly impleaded was so impleaded in a representative capacity and the decree was passed against him as representing the estate of the deceased ;

[iv] where the plaintiff was not aware of any fact which displaced the apparent title of the person ; and

[v] where the real legal representative had not intervened during the pendency of the suit. (Vol 16) 1929 Mad 482 (485) * (Vol 20) 1933 Nag 73 (74) : 29 Nag LR 89.

[See however (Vol 20) 1933 Mad 43 (48) (DB)].

[3] A decree obtained after impleading a person having a prima facie claim to be considered will bind the estate. ('91) 14 Mad 454 (457) (DB) * (Vol 12) 1925 Oudh 330 (334) : 28 Oudh Cas 177 (DB).

[4] A decree obtained after impleading a person, who but for some other facts of which the plaintiff is not aware, would be such legal representative, will be binding on the estate. (Vol 23) 1941 Lah 49 (51) * (Vol 15) 1928 Mad 243 (244, 245) * (Vol 17) 1930 Mad 930 (936) : 54 Mad 212 (DB) * (Vol 20) 1933 Lah 389 (381) : 14 Lah 696 (DB).

[5] The true representatives must not have intervened or applied to be made parties pending the suit, and the plaintiff must not, during such pendency, have been otherwise made aware that the other person impleaded is not the true representative or giving the decree to be binding upon the estate. (Vol 18) 1981 Cal 782 (784, 785) (DB).

[6] Application to substitute a wrong person as the heir of the deceased cannot save the suit from abatement where the plaintiff by enquiry could have known the true representative. (Vol 24) 1937 Pat 612 (613) (DB).

[7] Court can substitute the name of the true legal representative on record on it being apprised of his existence. ('83) 12 Cal L Rep 45 (46) (DB) * (Vol 2) 1915 Lah 144 (144) (DB).

11. Joint Hindu family and legal representative.—[1] Before the other members of the joint family of a deceased defendant can be impleaded as legal representatives, it must be shown prima facie that the deceased had an estate which survived to the other members. (Vol 17) 1930 Mad 575 (576)

[2] Defendant in suit dying during pendency of suit leaving father, brothers, widow and daughter—His father brought on record in his place and not his widow—Representation is defective. (Vol 26) 1939 All 636 (636) (DB).

[3] Hindu joint family of father and sons—Sons and not the widow are the legal representatives—Widow does not become representative under Hindu Women's Rights to Property Act. (Vol 32) 1945 Oudh 196 (197) : 20 Luck 305 (DB).

12. Legal representatives already on record in another capacity.—[1] Where the legal representatives of a deceased defendant are already on record though in another capacity, abate by reason of the absence of an application under this rule. (Vol 13) 1926 Lah 607 (608) : 7 Lah 899 (DB) (Dissenting from (Vol 13) 1926 Lah 37) * (Vol 16) 1929 Mad 152 (152) : 51 Mad 347 * (Vol 31) 1944 Oudh 139 (143) : 19 Luck 515 (DB) * (Vol 7) 1920 Sind 82 (83) (DB) * (Vol 16) 1929 Sind 225 (226) : 24 Sind LR 167 (DB) * (Vol 19) 1932 Lah 426 (427) : 14 Lah 78 (DB) * (Vol 23) 1936 Pat 548 (550) : 15 Pat 326 (DB) [(Vol 15) 1928 Pat 250 : 7 Pat 285 distinguished.] * (Vol 26) 1939 Oudh 155 (155) : 14 Luck 453 (DB).

[But see (Vol 25) 1938 Bom 6 (8) : ILR (1938) Bom 61. (Note—This case has been declared to be not good law in the latest decision of the same Court in (Vol 27) 1940 Bom 259 : ILR (1940) Bom 487, a case relating to the death of a plaintiff.)]

[2] It is enough if the plaintiff, at some time or other during the hearing of the suit, states the fact and gets it noted on the record. (Vol 16) 1929 Mad 152 (152) : 51 Mad 347 (DB) * (Vol 17) 1930 Mad 573 (581) (DB) * (Vol 25) 1939 Oudh 259 (259).

[3] Where, however, only some of the legal representatives are on the record but not all, an application is necessary under this rule and that in its absence the suit will abate. (Vol 12) 1925 Pat 123 (124) : 3 Pat 853 * (Vol 15) 1928 Pat 250 (252, 253) : 7 Pat 285 (DB) * (Vol 20) 1933 Lah 356 (359) : 14 Lah 543 (DB).

[4] A substitution of legal representatives in the suit will not be sufficient for the purpose of the counter in which there must be an independent amendment of the record by substituting the legal representatives. (Vol 27) 1940 Bom 117 (118) : ILR (1940) Bom 10.

13. Succession Act and legal representative.—[1] Where the deceased is governed by the Succession Act, his legal representatives are his executors or administrators and not his heirs. ('94) 18 Bom 337 (340, 342) (DB) (Inferred.)

[2] Even though no representation is taken but for the estate, the plaintiff cannot, add defendant's heirs as legal representatives. (Vol 12) 1935 Rang 186 (187) : 3 Rang 46.

[3] The plaintiff can only move the Court to have an administrator appointed. (Vol 29) 1942 Cal 571 (575) : ILR (1942) 2 Cal 363 (DB) * ('94) 18 Bom 337 (342) (DB) * (Vol 12) 1925 Rang 186 (187) : 3 Rang 46.

[4] A suit or appeal filed against the executor will abate if upon his death, an application for bringing on record the residuary legatee is not made within the period of limitation. ('35) 62 Cal 993 (1006) (DB).

14. Pro forma defendant or respondent.—[1] The rule does not apply in the case of death of a defendant or respondent who had no interest in the litigation. 19. Where suit or appeal abates against deceased defendant or respondent only.—[1] An abatement under this rule will in the first instance be only so far as the deceased defendant or respondent is concerned. 3. By the Court.

5. Effect of order under this rule.
6. Suit to establish title as legal representative.
7. Appeal.

1. Scope.—[1] Where a dispute as to who is the legal representative arises it is the duty of the Court under this rule to decide it. (Vol. 30) 1943 Nag 233 (235-236) : ILR (1943) Nag 352 * (Vol 5) 1918 Bom 175 (176) : 42 Bom 535 (DB) * (Vol 5) 1918 Bom 100 (101) : 43 Bom 168 (DB). [2] The decision of the dispute as to who is the legal representative should be limited for the purpose of carrying on the suit and cannot have the effect of conferring any right to heirship or to property. ('03) 27 Bom 162 (169).

[3] The rule does not apply to execution proceedings as O. 22, Rr. 3 and 4 on which R 5 is dependent do not apply to execution proceedings. (Vol 29) 1942 Bom 309 (310) : ILR (1942) Bom 822 * (Vol 20) 1933 Bom 396 (397) : 57 Bom 631 (DB).

2. "Shall be determined."—[1] The rule makes it obligatory on the Court to come to a conclusion as to who is the legal representative according to the rights of the parties. (Vol 12) 1925 Mad 456 (457) * (1912) 16 Ind Cas 798 (799) (Mad) * (Vol 21) 1934 Oudh 337 (340) (DB).

(Vol 6) 1919 Mad 510 (512) : 42 Mad 76 (DB) * (Vol 12) 1925 Mad 456 (457) (DB). (Failure to take evidence will justify interference in revision) * (Vol 24) 1937 Pat 530 (531).

[4] Legal Representative, already on record—No steps taken to have him declared as such—Decision in case is not vitiated. (Vol 9) 1922 All 223 (226) : 44 All 407.

survives or not, there shall be no abatement by reason of the death of either party between the conclusion of the hearing and the pronouncing of the judgment, but judgment may in such case be pronounced notwithstanding the death and shall have the same force and effect as if it had been pronounced before the death took place.

Objects and Reasons.

"The provision as to ante-dating the judgment has been struck out and in its stead we suggest a provision to the effect that the judgment shall have the same force and effect as if it had been pronounced before the death took place. In our opinion this is all that is required."—S. C. R.

ment, the order of abatement is conclusive of the deft's. rights to the property. (Vol. 7) 1920 Mad 550 (581) (DB) * (Vol. 20) 1933 Lah 752 (753) (DB)

[2] Order under R. 4 may be appealable—Still R. 9 provides concurrent remedy in respect of that order (Vol 27) 1940 Sind 137 (138) (DB).

[3] Application meant to be under R. 4 cannot be treated as under R. 9 (2) as the two rules contemplate two separate proceedings. (Vol. 27) 1940 Pesh 39 (40) (DB).

[4] Abatement of appeal—If by some oversight the abatement is set aside formally without notice to the respondents, their objections, if any, must be heard when the appeal comes on for hearing. (Vol. 15) 1928 Mad 1148 (1149) (DB). * (Vol. 13) 1926 Lah 422 (422) (DB).

[2] Though, as a matter of practice, the applicant should state in the application that he was prevented by some sufficient cause from continuing the suit, it is not legally necessary to do so. All that is needed is that he should satisfy the Court that there was a sufficient cause. (Vol. 15) 1928 Lah 746 (747).

[3] The question as to what is sufficient cause depends upon the facts and circumstances of each case. The test to be adopted in determining it is to see whether the mistake or carelessness was real and unintentional and no damage has been done to the other side that cannot be repaired by costs or otherwise or whether the negligence was culpable or the applicant had acted mala fide or irreparable injury would result to the other side by the granting of the application. In the former case the application must be granted in the latter, it must be dismissed. (Vol. 15) 1928 Mad 404 (406). * (Vol. 25) 1933 Bom 408 (409, 410) = ILR (1933) Bom 704 (DB).

(Conduct of the appeal left to a law agent, not residing in the village and not in touch with the village where respondent lived—the fact of his death came to his knowledge, several months afterwards—This was sufficient cause for setting aside abatement.) * (Vol. 14) 1927 Pat 410 (410) (DB)

(Petition for setting aside abatement giving sufficient reasons for appellant's ignorance of respondent's death after service of notice. No particular reason why the fact of death should come to his knowledge before the time alleged order of abatement should be set aside.) * (Vol. 20) 1933 Sindh 36 (37) = 26 Sind LR 105 (DB)

(Plaintiff Hindu alert in making inquiries—Defendants Mahomedans living at several places—Delay was excused and abatement was set aside).

[4] The legal representative of a deceased party may be added after time, if it appears that the Court had made an order allowing the parties on record to represent all the persons interested under O. I. R. 8 C. P. Code. (Vol. 6) 1919 Lah 147 (148) = 1919 Pun Re. No. 20 (DB).

[5] Where owing to the mistake of Court below in not entering the names of the legal representatives of a deceased deft. who had been added as such, the plff. filed an appeal with the name of the deft. on record though deceased, and the mistake was discovered nine months later. Held, that O. 22, C. P. C. does not apply to these circumstances. If they did apply the mistake being a bona fide one there would be sufficient ground for extending the period of limitation. (Vol. 7) 1920 Lah 508 (509).

[6] Plaintiff, appointed executor under will of deceased defendant, not applying under R. 4 through doubt and want of probate—Application to set aside abatement filed late, alleging delay due to hostile attitude of the testator's son—the application held to be barred and delay not sufficiently accounted for (Vol. 2) 1915 Mad 132 (133).

[7] Application for permission, to revive an appeal by the legal representatives of a deceased appellant, should be allowed, where a surviving appellant was prosecuting the appeal, and they were under the impression that it was not necessary for them to take any steps in the appeal before. (1909) 36 Cal 418 (421) (DB).

[8] Applicant, a Government servant, sending necessary papers to vakil 10 days before last day of limitation—Papers coming to vakil's knowledge only after rising of Court on last day of limitation. It not striking vakil to present them at Judge's private house—Circumstances were held to justify setting aside abatement. (Vol 10) 1923 All 44 (47) = 45 All 66 (DB).

[See however (Vol 15) 1928 Mad 404 (405). Suit, by minor through next friend, his mother, abating for bringing not legal representatives of a deceased defendant on record—Ignorance of law pleaded as excuse—Delay was excused and abatement set aside].

[11] Ignorance of law of a native state or foreign place (where deceased was domiciled) according to the law of which the legal representatives have to be brought on record may be sufficient cause (Vol 25) 1938 Bom. 408 (410) = ILR (1938) Bom 704.

[12] Minor - Ignorance of the change in the law is "sufficient" cause. (Vol 10) 1923 Bom 40 (40) (DB). * (Vol 10) 1923 Lah. 475 (475) (DB). (Wrong view of change in law is sufficient cause.

[13] Ordinarily a mere plea of ignorance of death of opposite party is not sufficient ground for setting aside an abatement. But there may be special circumstances which make the ignorance sufficient cause. (35) 1935 Oudh W N 371 (372) (DB). * (Vol 12) 1934 Lah 1934 (984) (DB).

Plaintiff and defendant living 15 miles apart and related by marriage - Plaintiff dying after decision of suit - Defendants-appellants not bringing legal representative and abatement of appeal - Abatement cannot be set aside on ground of want of knowledge of plaintiff's death on part of defendant in these circumstances. Application made within time from date of knowledge of death—Delay excused. * (Vol. 11) 1924. Pat 126 (127) (DB).

Ignorance of death for a long time is not sufficient cause. (Vol. 11) 1924 Pat 607 (607) (DB).

Mere ignorance of the death for several months of the respondent is not sufficient ground. * (Vol. 4) 1917 Lah 10 (11) = 1916 Pun Re. No. 118 (DB).

[14] Ignorance of death of respondent in absence of negligence is sufficient cause to excuse delay in seeking to set aside abatement. (Vol. 25) 1938 Mad 218 (218, 219) = ILR (1938) Mad 275 (DB). (Vol. 19) 1932 All 459 (460) = 54. All 280 (DB). * (Vol. 24) 1937 Bom 401 (407) = ILR (1937) Bom 602 (DB).

Delay due to ignorance of appellant's agent who having regard to the numerous respondents, could not keep a more efficient watch on them, held to be excusable for a sufficient reason. [See (Vol. 25) 1938 Pat 125 (126) = 17 Pat 84 (DB). Appellant getting notice served on respondent—He is not thereafter bound to enquire from day to day whether he is dead or alive.]

[15] Mere statement of ignorance of death of principal respondent is not sufficient to set aside order of abatement of appeal particularly when they resided at no great distance and it was appellant's duty to keep informed (Vol. 1) 1914 Oudh 411 (411). * (Vol. 2) 1915 Lah 382 (383) (DB). * (Vol. 13) 1926 Lah 137 (138) (DB).

(Vol. 21) 1934 Lah 998 (998) (DB).

[21] Quarrel among legal representatives is no sufficient cause to excuse delay in applying to be brought on record as legal representative under O. 22 R. 9. (Vol. 3) 1916 Mad 869 (871) (DB)

6. Formal order of abatement if necessary before setting aside abatement.—[1] In order to work abatement of a suit or appeal it is not necessary for the court to pass any formal order—Abatement can be set aside even though no such formal order has been passed (Vol. 13) 1926 All 217 (220)—48 All 834 (FB). [Overruling (Vol. 9) 1922 All 209 (210)—44 All 459.] (Vol. 17) 1930 All 379 (380)* (Vol. 24) 1937 Bom 401 (406)=ILR (1937) Bom 602 (DB). *(Vol. 26) 1939 Lah 572 (577)=ILR (1940) Lah 199 (DB). [Application under O. 22 R. 9. made before declaration that suit has abated is not incompetent]

[2] One of the defendants in a suit died and the legal representatives were not brought on record in time—The court passed an order that the suit abated as against him and also decided at the same time that this partial abatement resulted in total abatement of suit—Held that though that portion of the order which decided that the suit had abated in toto may be a decree, the order declaring the partial abatement was one which could be set aside on an application under O. 22, R. 9 (Vol. 14) 1927 Lah 865 (865)

7. Substitution without setting aside abatement.—[1] An application for substitution of legal representatives is not competent unless the order of abatement has been set aside. (Vol. 10) 1923 Pat 417 (418)—2 Pat 168 (DB). * (Vol. 23) 1936 Pat 266 (266) (DB).

[3] Death of a defendant after the preliminary decree—Abatement caused by such death not properly set aside—The heirs of such deceased mentioned in the application for final decree—Final decree is invalid against the heirs when they do not appear and contest the decree—Heirs cannot impeach such decrees in execution proceedings (Vol. 14) 1927 Bom 156 (157) (DB).

[4] An application for substitution may, in substance, be treated as an application to set aside the abatement. (Vol. 7) 1920 All 284 (285)=42 All 540. * (Vol. 24) 1937 Lah 455 (456, 457) (DB). *(Vol. 11) 1924 Lah 424 (424).

(Vol. 17) 1930 Cal 422 (424)—57 Cal 148 (DB).

8. Remand.—[1] Appellate Court finding that there was an abatement in lower court—It should remand the case for disposal and not set aside the abatement. (Vol. 12) 1925 Bom 290 (291) (DB).

[2] Wrong persons substituted as legal representatives in appeal within time—Case remanded for fresh decision—Order of remand not nullity—Application to bring true representatives on record made after remand—Final decree not passed—Application should be granted. (Vol. 15) 1928 Pat 197 (198) (DB).

9. Appeal.—[1] Order setting aside abatement is not appealable and cannot be questioned in an appeal from the decree. (Vol. 12) 1925 Cal 473 (474) (DB). * (Vol. 13) 1926 Cal 444 (445) (DB) Order setting aside abatement without considering the limitation for making application for setting aside is bad (Vol. 11) 1924 Cal 638 (634)—51 Cal 690 (DB). [But see (Vol. 16) 1929 Cal 532 (533) (DB).]

[3] Order of abatement—Delay in making application to set it aside—Court can condone delay—Discretion so exercised is open to scrutiny by Appellate Court only if it is exercised in perverse or unjudicial manner—Order otherwise proper is not illegal merely because application to bring legal representative on record is submitted beyond time. (Vol. 22) 1935 Lah 712 (713) (DB).

10. Letters Patent appeal.—[1] Order setting aside abatement is not appealable—Such order does not amount to judgment under Cl. 15, Letters Patent, but is merely one of procedure (Per Beaumont C. J.) (Vol. 25) 1938 Bom 408 (409)=ILR (1938) Bom 704 (DB).

11. Revision.—[1] Cause found sufficient—Setting aside abatement is discretionary—No revision lies (Vol. 20) 1933 Pat 37 (28) *(Vol. 20) 1933 Nag 85 (86, 87)=29 Nag LR 118 No revision lies if discretion exercised by trial Court be within its jurisdiction.

[2] Though technically an order seems to come under Rule 9 and though the order is not appealable still where the Court has no jurisdiction to pass an order under R. 9 the order will be set aside in revision. (Vol. 11) 1924 Mad 713 (715).

Procedure in case of assignment before final order in suit.

10. (1) In other cases of an assignment, creation or devolution of any interest during the pendency of a suit the suit may, by leave of the Court, be continued by or against the person to or upon whom such interest has come or devolved.

(2) The attachment of a decree pending an appeal therefrom shall be deemed to be an interest entitling the person who procured such attachment to the benefit of sub-rule (1).

1. Scope and applicability of the rule.—

[1] The rule is an enabling one and is based on the principle that the trial of a suit cannot be arrested merely by reason of a devolution of the interest of a party. (Vol. 29) 1942 Rang 13 (14) - 1941 Rang L R 366. * (Vol. 33) 1946 Lah 88 (35) (DB) * ('05) 28 Mad 157 (160) (DB).

[2] If the person acquiring interest does not choose to continue it, he will be bound by the decree passed in the suit. 7. Transfer of Decree.—[1] This rule does not apply to the transfer of a decree. (Vol. 25) 1938 Cal 169 (171) : I L R (1937) 2 Cal 207.

Fact that original trustee was wrongly appointed is immaterial.

[3] The following are illustrations of devolution of interest :

[a] One of four urulans of a Malabar devaswam sued for redemption of a kanom. The other urulans had been made party defendants. One of the latter three died pending suit. It was held it was a case of devolution under this rule. (Vol. 17) 1930 Mad 881 (883) : 53 Mad 790 (DB).

[3] There is conflict of opinion as to whether a second suit is barred on failure to pay costs where no direction is given. They are as follows:—

(a) Whether the direction as to date for payment is given or not and whether such payment is made or not the suit will not fail. (Vol. 30) 1943 Cal 560 (563): 1 L R. (1944) 1 Cal 286 (D. (b) (1) Where a date has been fixed, failure to pay cannot be remedied by a subsequent deposit, and such deposit will in no way comply with the order for withdrawal and where no such date has been fixed the suit will not fail by reason of non-payment. (Vol. 20) 1933 All 810 (812): 56 All 10 (D. B.)

[But see (Vol. 16) 1929 All 692 (695).]

(c) Non payment of costs is a mere irregularity which can be cured by payment at any time before hearing of suit. (d) Costs should be paid where date has been fixed before expiry of such time and where no such date is fixed, before the institution of second suit; failure will bar the second suit. (Vol. 18) 1931 Bom 257 (258, 259): 55 Bom 206 (D. B.) * (Vol. 11) 1924 Mad 877 (878, 879) * (1910) 33 Mad 255 (255) (Vol. 26) 1939 Rang 378 (380, 381).

[4] Plaintiff desiring to modify or annul the conditions of withdrawal should ask for that, before order permitting withdrawal is passed. Nor can he revive the suit on the ground of non-acceptance of condition after the order is passed. (Vol. 28) 1941 Bom 290 (292): 1 L R. (1941) Bom 570.

[5] Court can extend the time for payment of cost where it is impossible for the plaintiff to pay them within time fixed. ('06) 29 Mad 370 (371) (D B) * (Vol. 13) 1926 Pat 409 (411): 5 Pat 306 (D B) * ('12) 15 Ind Cas 157 (160) (D B) (Cal).

23. Fresh suit must be between the same parties.—[1] The bar under this rule applies only if the parties in both suits are the same. [2] Where the second suit is against a different defendant it is not barred under this rule. (Vol. 26) 1942 Bom 57 (58): 1 L R (1942) Bom 94 (D B)

[3] The withdrawal without the leave of the Court, of a suit by a Hindu reversioner, challenging an improper alienation by a Hindu widow, is no bar to another suit by another presumptive reversioner for the same purpose. (Vol. 5) 1918 Mad 475 (496) (D B).

[4] By "fresh suit" the rule does not contemplate a freshly filed suit against all the parties to the suit. It is quite sufficient if the suit is instituted against a particular party after leave has been obtained under O. 23, R. 1. (Vol. 32) 1945 Bom 74 (75).

25. Additional relief in fresh suit.—[1] As withdrawal without leave operates as a dismissal of the suit, O. 2, R. 2 will bar a suit in respect of any portion of the claim omitted in the suit so withdrawn ('05) 2 Cal L Jour 480 (484) (DB).

[2] Where the withdrawal is with the Court's permission to bring a fresh suit, O. 2 R. 2 is no bar to the inclusion in the second suit of any portion of the plaintiff's claim or of any relief which the plaintiff might have included but did not include in his first suit. [3] An order permitting a partition suit to be withdrawn after the preliminary decree in the suit has been passed is open to revision. (Vol 22) 1935 Madras 445 (446).

[4] Failure to exercise judicial discretion by Court or to apply its mind at all to the question is a material irregularity in passing the order which will make it open to revision. (Vol 21) 1934 All 137 (139) * (Vol 22) 1935 All 740 (742) : 58 All 245 * (Vol 21) 1934 Cal 59 (60) (DB) * (Vol 13) 1931 Cal 336 (336) * (Vol 12) 1925 Oudh 140 (141) * (Vol 22) 1935 Pat 438 (438).

[5] The lower Court orders a suit to be withdrawn with leave to sue afresh, without giving any reasons. It acts with material irregularity and its order is liable to be set aside in revision. (Vol 28) 1941 Lah 18 (19) * (Vol 28) 1941 Mad 46 (47). * (Vol 15) 1928 All 98 (98) : 50 All 199 (DB) * (Vol 16) 1929 All 683 (684) (DB). * (Vol 3) 1946 Mad 674 (674) * (Vol 18) 1931 Cal 336 (336) * (Vol 18) 1931 Cal 107 (108) (DB) * (Vol 5) 1918 Nag 93 (94) * (Vol 5) 1918 Pat 372 (373) (DB). * (Vol 31) 1944 Sind 192 (194) : I L R (1944) Kar 169 (DB).

[But see (1902) 29 Cal 239 (241) (DB)]

[6] Where the order is not one passed with material irregularity the High Court will not interfere in revision on the ground that it would have passed a different order under the circumstances (Vol 28) 1941 Mad 46 (47) * (Vol 13) 1931 Cal 268 (269) (DB) * (Vol 17) 1930 Cal 424 (426) (DB) * (Vol 5) 1918 All 418 (419) : 40 All 612 (DB). * (Vol 22) 1935 All 234 (234) (DB) * (Vol 22) 1935 Bom 28 (30) : 59 Bom 114 * (Vol 20) 1938 Oudh 255 (256) * (Vol 25) 1938 Bom 442 (443) : I L R (1939) Bom 66 (DB) * (Vol 19) 1932 Lah 360 (361) : 13 Lah 537.

[7] An order for withdrawal made ex parte or made without any enquiry as to the circumstances justifying such withdrawal is liable to be set aside in revision (Vol 4) 1917 Cal 633 (633, 634) : 44 Cal 454 (DB) * (Vol 5) 1918 Pat 452 (454) : 3 Pat L Jour 460 (DB) * (Vol 5) 1918 Pat 261 (262) : 3 Pat L Jour 651 (DB)

[8] Where the defendant consented to the withdrawal upon payment of costs the order allowing withdrawal is not one passed without the court applying its mind and is not open to revision. (Vol 25) 1938 All 450 (451)

[9] An order refusing permission to withdraw a suit with liberty to bring another suit is interlocutory in nature and is not open to revision. (Vol 17) 1930 Lah 589 (589).

[10] Failure to give notice of application to the other side is a ground for revision:—see Notes on "May grant permission."

3. Where it is proved to the satisfaction of the Court that a suit has been adjusted wholly or in part by any lawful agreement or compromise, or where the defendant satisfies the plaintiff in respect of the whole or any part of the subject-matter of the suit, the Court shall order such agreement, compromise or satisfaction to be recorded, and shall pass a decree in accordance therewith so far as it relates to the suit.

LAHORE

Add the following provisos to the rule :

"Provided that the hearing of a suit shall proceed and no adjournment shall be granted in it for the purposes of deciding whether there has been any adjustment or satisfaction, unless the Court for reasons to be recorded in writing thinks fit to grant such adjournment, and provided further that the judgment in the suit shall not be announced until the question of adjustment or satisfaction has been decided :

Provided further that when an application is made by all the parties to the suit either in writing or in open Court through their counsel that they wish to compromise the suit, the Court may fix a date on which the parties or their counsel should appear and the compromise be recorded, but shall proceed to hear those witnesses in the suit who are already in attendance, unless for any other reason to be recorded in writing, it considers it impossible or undesirable to do so. If upon the date fixed no compromise has been recorded, no further adjournment shall be granted for this purpose, unless the Court, for reasons to be recorded in writing, considers it highly probable that the suit will be compromised on or before the date to which the Court proposes to adjourn the hearing."

OUDDH

"Provided that no agreement, compromise or satisfaction shall be recorded in a suit instituted under S. 92, Code of Civil Procedure, unless previous notice of the same has been given to the Legal Remembrancer to Government, and the Court, after hearing him, if he desires to be heard, decides to accept it."

ORDER 23, RULE 2—Note 1

[1] Under the present rule, a plaintiff withdrawing a suit under O. 23 R 1 with liberty to sue again and instituting a fresh suit is not entitled to deduct from the period of limitation applicable to his second suit the time taken up by the withdrawn suit (Vol 21) 1984 All 688 (691) (FB) * (Vol 25) 1988 Bom 281 (282); I L R (1988) Bom 927 * (1918) 20 Ind Cas 205 (206) (Cal) (DB).

[2] S. 14, Limitation Act, does not apply where a suit is withdrawn by a plaintiff. (Vol 30) 1948 Mad 80 (81) (DB) (Court has no power to give permission to bring fresh suit without prejudice to the plaintiff on question of limitation as such an order would in effect repeal the statutory provisions of this rule) * (1905) 29 Bom 219 (225) * (Vol 26) 1989 Cal 625 (626); I L R (1989) 2 Cal 316 (DB) * (Vol 27) 1940 Sind 125 (127); I L R (1940) Kar 225 (DB)

[3] The rule applies only where a period is fixed by the law of limitation. Hence where under the order of the Revenue Court a plaintiff was required to institute a suit in a Civil Court within three months and the plaintiff after filing it in a Civil Court within that period, withdrew it and then reinstituted it beyond three months but within the ordinary period of limitation, the suit is within time. O. 23 R. 3 (contd.)

1. Scope of the rule.—(1) Court should investigate any dispute regarding the legality of the compromise or agreement sought to be recorded and should pass a decree in terms thereof, so far as such compromise relates to the suit. (Vol 22) 1935 All 137 (138); 57 All 426 (DB) * (Vol 21) 1934 Mad 337 (340); 57 Mad 892 (DB) * (Vol 21) 1934 Pat 582 (582, 583) * (Vol 24) 1937 Pat 11 (12); 15 Pat 379 (DB).

[2] "Compromise" means an adjustment of claims in dispute by mutual concessions, and also mutual promise to refer the ending of their controversy to arbitrators. (Vol 14) 1927 Bom 565 (567, 573); 51 Bom 908 (FB) * (Vol 18) 1931 Oudh 127 (127); 6 Luck 591 (DB) * (Vol 26) 1939 Nag 166 (187). I L R (1938) Nag 250 (FB).

2. Applicability to Revenue Courts.—(1) The rule applies to revenue as well as civil proceedings. (Vol 5) 1918 Oudh 412 (417); 21 Oudh Cas 346 (DB).

[2] The rule does not apply to proceedings for the appointment of common manager under S. 93 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. ('06) 4 Cal L Jour 564 (565) (DB).

[3] The rule does not apply to a rent suit under the Bengal Tenancy Act, though a compromise in such suits can be recorded by the Court under S 147A of that Act which is identical in terms with this rule. (Vol 7) 1920 Pat 602 (604); 4 Pat L Jour 667 (DB).

[4] The rule does not apply to proceedings under some other special Acts.

[See S. 196 of the Orissa Tenancy Act II of 1913] and S. 199 of the Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908).

3. Applicability to mortgage suits.—(1) The rule applies also to suits on mortgages so that it is open to the Courts to decree such suits on terms settled between the parties. (Vol 8) 1921 Pat 320 (321) (DB) * (Vol 24) 1937 All 108 (112) (DB).

[2] This rule cannot be extended by analogy to proceedings under S. 83 of the Transfer of Property Act, ('90) 18 Mad 816 (818) (DB).

4. Applicability to divorce suits.—(1) Decree nisi passed in suit for dissolution of marriage—Court can on consent of parties omit to make the decree absolute. ('88) 10 All 559 (562, 563) (SB).

5. Applicability to Insolvency proceedings.—[1] The rule does not apply to insolvency proceedings. (Vol 32) 1945 Oudh 319 (320).

6. "Where it is proved to the satisfaction of the Court."—(1) The Court has jurisdiction, in the case of a dispute between the parties as to the compromise to enquire into, and decide, whether there has been a lawful compromise in terms of which the suit should be decreed. (Vol 14) 1927 PC 204 (PC).

[But see (Vol 21) 1934 Cal 693 (644) (DB)].

[2] Enquiry about the fact and lawfulness of a compromise of a suit in the suit itself contemplated under this rule is a speedier alternative to a separate suit for specific performance of the contract to compromise the suit on certain terms.

(Vol 20) 1933 Pat 306 (403); 12 Pat 359 (DB).

[3] The question whether a particular party has agreed or has not agreed to the compromise and whether he has signed it is a question of fact ('42) ILR (1942) Kar (PC) 143 Sup (147).

[4] The onus of establishing that a suit has been adjusted in a lawful manner is on the person who alleges the same. (Vol 24) 1937 Pat 11 (12); 15 Pat 379 (DB).

[5] The Court can decide the matter by taking evidence in the usual way or upon affidavits. ('02), 5 Oudh Cas 49 (53) (DB) * ('96) 20 Bom 304 (308) * (Vol 23) 1936 Mad 347 (350).

[6] The general rule, that evidence should be recorded before a decision is made and not after should also be followed in cases in which the Court records compromise arrived at between the parties. (Vol 23) 1936 Sind 59 (61); 29 Sind LR 437 (DB).

[7] The agreement compromising the suit may be written or oral. (1905) 18 Cal WN 1023 () * (1905-06) 3 Low Bur Rul 243 (243).

[8] The agreement may be proved by oral evidence. (Vol 3) 1916 Mad 849 (850) (DB).

[9] The compromise need not be presented by the parties themselves. (Vol 4) 1917 Lah 282 (283); 1917 Pun Re No. 78 (DB).

[10] A compromise otherwise unobjectionable is not vitiated by the want of signature of a party. (Vol 1) 1914 Lah 130 (131) (DB).

7. "Has been adjusted":—[1] For the rule to apply, there must be a completed agreement between the parties. (Vol 28) 1941 Oudh 529 (543) * (Vol 11) 1924 PC 200 (201) (PC).

[2] The agreement must amount to an adjustment, in whole or in part, of the suit. (Vol 28) 1941 Oudh 529 (544) * (1900) 2 Bom LR 118 (119) (DB) * (Vol 17) 1930 Sind 217 (217) (DE) * (Vol 10) 1928 Pat 293 (294) (DB) * (Vol 26) 1933 Rang 300 (303); 1939 Rang LR 260 (FB).

[3] Failure to make a further agreement to give effect to a previous agreement for compromise does not affect it. ('42) I L R (1942) Kar (PC) 143 Sup (148, 152).

[4] The following cases will show when a suit can be said to be adjusted and when not:

[a] Case adjourned on the ground that parties contemplated compromising the matter out of Court. There is no adjustment of the suit within this rule. (Vol 18) 1931 Cal 205 (206) (DB).

[b] Agreement to disposal of the suit one way or other on the existence of a fact or not amounts to adjustment. (Vol 16) 1929 Mad 416 (417) * (Vol 4) 1917 Cal 327 (328) (DB) * (Vol 27) 1940 All 190 (192); I L R (1940) All 185 (DB) * (Vol 23) 1936 Mad 856 (857).

[But see 14 All 141 (144) (DB).]

[c] Agreement between parties to abide by the final decision to be made in another proceeding amounts to an adjustment when that decision is actually passed (Vol 6) 1919 Mad 546 (547) (DB). (Distinguishing). (Vol 1) 1914 Mad 449; 37 Mad 408).

[But see (Vol 22) 1935 Rang 482 (482). (Vol 12) 1925 All 271; 47 All 456 followed].

[d] Agreement that dispute is to be settled in accordance with the statement of a third person is an adjustment. (Vol 20) 1933 All 861 (880, 889): 56 All 39 (3E) * (Vol 14) 1927 Lah 9 (100) * (Vol 24) 1937 All 701 (702, 704) (DB) * (Vol 25) 1938 All 853 (854) (In this case the same principle was held applicable to an agreement of the defendant to be bound by a statement of the plaintiff and (Vol 20) 1933 All 861: 56 All 39 (SB) was relied on).

[e] An agreement to refer disputes to an arbitrator and abide by his terms is not an adjustment, till the terms are stated and accepted. (Vol 17) 1930 All 162 (163): 52 All 235 (DB) * (Vol 14) 1927 All 614 (615): 50 All 51 (DB) * (1912) 6 Sind L R 166 (167) (DB) * (Vol 1) 1914 Sind 139 (139): 8 Sind L R 91 (DB).

[f] Compromise which either party has the option of repudiating afterwards is not an adjustment of the suit. (Vol 1) 1914 Lah 306 (307): 1914 Pun Re No. 24.

[g] An agreement to abide by the decision of the Court whether right or wrong amounts to a compromise. (Vol 12) 1925 All 558 (558): 47 All 921 (DB) * (Vol 16) 1929 Oudh 451 (452): 5 Luck 391 (DB) * (Vol 15) 1928 All 497 (498) (DB).

[h] An agreement for making the decision of Court depend on contingencies beyond the control of parties is not an adjustment. (Vol 14) 1927 Oudh 222 (223) (DB) * (Vol 11) 1924 Oudh 367 (368): 27 Oudh Cas 157 * (Vol 15) 1928 Cal 108 (110) (DB).

[See also (Vol 11) 1924 All 911 (912)].

[But see (Vol 12) 1925 All 271 (272): 47 All 56 (DB).]

[i] Where the contingency on which the Court's decision depends is within the power of the parties themselves, an agreement to abide by the decision of the Court will be an adjustment. (1907) 17 Mad L Jour 37 (38) (DB).

[j] The abandonment of an issue does not amount to a compromise. ('99) 22 Mad 583 (546) (DB).

[k] Arbitration pending appeal—One arbitrator not signing award and award not filed in time—Award is no award and is not an adjustment. (Vol 30) 1943 Pat 433 (435)

[5] A suit may be compromised even after a preliminary decree, provided the final decree has not been passed. (Vol 23) 1936 Oudh 320 (320, 321): 12 Luck 260 (DB).

[6] There can be a 'satisfaction' (under this rule) of the plaintiff's claim between the preliminary and final decrees in a suit. (Vol 22) 1935 Pat 385 (395): 14 Pat 488 (DB).

8. "By any lawful agreement or compromise"—

[1] As only lawful agreements or compromises are recordable under this rule the Court is bound to enquire whether the compromise sought to be recorded is a lawful one or not. (Vol 18) 1926 Nag 194 (195) * (Vol 21) 1934 Pat 582 (582, 583) * ('11) 14 Cal L Jour 337 (342) (DB) * (Vol 11) 1924 Cal 159 (159) (DB) * (1912) 35 Mad 75 (81) (DB) * (Vol 6) 1919 Pat 146 (155): 4 Pat L Jour 580 (DB) * (1911) 35 Bom 190 (195) (DB) * (Vol 22) 1935 Bom 54 (84) (DB).

[2] The Court can record that portion of the compromise which is lawful, where the compromise contains a part which is unlawful but separable ('10) 7 All L Jour 778 (781, 782) (DB) * (Vol 15) 1928 Pat 435 (496).

[3] When investigating the fact and lawfulness of a compromise, it is irrelevant to examine the strength or weakness of the suit. (Vol 27) 1940 Pat 629 (631) (DB) * (Vol 20) 1933 Pat 306 (339, 340): 12 Pat 359 (DB).

[4] An agreement or compromise may be lawful within this rule, although it may not be binding on one of the parties. (Vol 15) 1928 All 494 (496): 50 All 748 (DB) * (Vol 22) 1935 All 187 (138, 139): 57 All 426 (DB) (Party executing compromise cannot avoid it under O. 23 R. 3 on ground of fraud. (Vol 23) 1936 Mad 347 (350)).

[But see (Vol 14) 1927 Lah 546 (549) (DB)]

[5] The word "lawful" means lawful within the meaning of the Contract Act, that is to say, the rule requires an agreement which is legally enforceable. (Vol 27) 1940 Bom 60 (61): 1 L R (1940) Bom 13.

[6] It is not necessary that the terms of the compromise should be specifically enforceable under the Specific Relief Act to enable the recording of them. (Vol 20) 1933 Pat 306 (405): 12 Pat 359 (DB).

[7] The following have been held to be agreements which are unlawful within the meaning of this rule:

[a] Agreements prohibited by law. (Vol 6) 1919 Mad 429 (431) (DB) * (Vol 7) 1920 Nag 35 (37) * (Vol 7) 1920 Pat 159 (160) * ('10) 11 Cal L Jour 346 (351, 352) (DB).

[b] Agreements which are opposed to public policy. (Vol 2) 1915 Mad 561 (568): 38 Mad 850 (DB) * ('03) 26 Mad 31 (33) (DB). (Alienation of religious office.) * (Vol 17) 1930 Mad 629 (630). 53 Mad 893 (DB) (Agreement relating to public trust, detrimental to its interest) * (Vol 9) 1922 Mad 429 (432) (DB) (do) * (1928) 9 Pat L T 214 (214) (do) * (1904) 8 Cal W N 404 (405, 406) (DB) (do).

[c] Agreements which involve injury to a third party. (Vol 6) 1919 Pat 146 (155): 4 Pat L Jour 580 (DB). (Vol 6) 1919 Pat 326 (328) * ('0) 32 Cal 561 (566) (DB). * (Vol 10) 1923 Oudh 252 (253). [8] The following compromises were held to be not unlawful.—

[But see ('83) 1863 All W N 145 (145) (DB).]

[b] Allowing a relief which is barred by limitation (Vol 13) 1926 Oudh 311 (313) (DB) (Compromise preventing consideration of legal bar to claim is not unlawful.)

[See however (Vol 27) 1940 Oudh 107 (110); 15 Luck 308 (DB)]

[c] Compromise as a result of which parties do not get the shares to which they would be legally entitled. (Vol 7) 1920 Cal 269 (269) (DB).

[d] Compromise containing a penal provision (Vol 13) 1926 All 278 (280) (DB) (Obiter).

[e] Compromise in which one party transfers his right to another is not bad on the ground of lis pendens (Vol 22) 1935 Bom 54 (64) (DB).

[f] Compromise reconciling husband and wife, containing provision for separate maintenance in case of disagreement is not against public policy. (Vol 32) 1945 Mad 36 (38).

[10] The rule contemplates an adjustment by act of parties and not an adjustment which has a statutory operation. (Vol 24) 1937 Cal 381 (382) (DB).

9. Submission to award, if a valid adjustment.—(1) An award made during the pendency of the suit concerning the matters or some of the matters in the suit may constitute an adjustment by lawful agreement or compromise within this rule. (Vol 29) 1942 All 145 (147) (FB) * (Vol 32) 1945 Mad 294 (295) (DB).

[2] Where both the parties accept the award of the arbitrators, the award becomes a compromise and can be recorded under this rule. (Vol 17) 1930 Lah 860 (861) * (Vol 18) 1926 Mad 1211 (1211, 1212) (DB) * (Vol 26) 1939 Rang 800 (801): 1939 Rang L R 280 (FB)

[3] The court acting under this rule could enquire into any alleged misconduct of the arbitrator. (Vol 10) 1928 Bom 401 (401) (DB).

[4] Party not objecting to the recording of a submission and award as a compromise would be estopped from questioning the Court's power to do so. (Vol 16) 1929 Bom 1 (6): 53 Bom 75 (DB).

[5] A mere agreement to refer to arbitration is not a compromise within this rule. ('03) 30 Cal 218 (228, 229) (SB) * (Vol 12) 1925 P C 70 (73) (PC).

[6] An award under an invalid reference cannot be accepted as a compromise or adjustment. (1909) 33 Bom 69 (76) * (Vol 8) 1921 Mad 709 (709) (DB) * (Vol 18) 1931 Bom 843 (846): 55 Bom 503 (DB) compare (Vol 13) 1926 Mad 366 (366).

10. Agreement to take oath.—(1) An agreement to be bound by the oath of the opposite party does not amount to an adjustment of the suit. (a) A owes B Rs. 100. B sues A for the amount, having made no demand for payment and having no reason to believe that the delay caused by making a demand would place him at a disadvantage. On the plaint being filed, A pays the money into Court. B accepts it in full satisfaction of his claim, but the Court should not allow him any costs, the litigation being presumably groundless on his part.

(b) B sues A under the circumstances mentioned in illustration (a). On the plaint being filed, A disputes the claim. Afterwards A pays the money into Court. B accepts it in full satisfaction of his claim. The Court should also give B his costs of suit, A's conduct having shown that the litigation was necessary.

(c) A owes B Rs. 100, and is willing to pay him that sum without suit. B claims Rs. 150 and sues A for that amount. On the plaint being filed A pays Rs. 100 into Court and disputes only his liability to pay the remaining Rs. 50. B accepts the Rs. 100 in full satisfaction of his claim. The Court should order him to pay A's costs.

[1382—Ss 380, 382; See S. 145.]

Objects and Reasons

Sub-rule (3) corresponds with the second paragraph of section 380 of the 1882 Code. After the words 'within British India' that paragraph contained the words 'independent of the property in suit.'

"The Committee have deleted the last words of this sub-rule, because the nature of the suit excludes the possibility of the property in suit being immovable." S. O. R.

PROVINCIAL AMENDMENTS

Allahabad

After the words "property in suit", add "or that the plaintiff is being financed by a person not a party to the suit."

Madras

The following shall be inserted as sub-rule (4) :

"() In all cases in which an element of competency or maintenance is proved, the Court may on the application of the defendant, demand security for the estimated amount of the defendant's costs, or such proportion thereof, as from time to time during the progress of the suit, the Court may think, just." [R. O. C. No. 8019 of 1926]

Add the following as sub-rules (4) and (5) :

"() Where the plaintiff has, for the purpose of being financed in the suit, transferred or agreed to transfer any share or interest in the property in suit to a person who is not already a party to the suit, the Court may order such person to be made a plaintiff to the suit if he consents, and may either of its own motion or on the application of any defendant order such person within a time to be fixed by the Court to give security for the payment of all costs likely to be incurred by any defendant. In case of his default, the Court may dismiss the suit so far as his right to, or interest in, the property in suit is concerned, or may declare that he shall be debarred from claiming any right to, or interest in, the property in suit.

() If such person declines to be made a plaintiff, the Court may implead him as a defendant and may order him, within a time to be fixed by the Court, to give security for the payment of all costs likely to be incurred by any other defendant. In case of his default, the Court may declare that he shall be debarred from claiming any right to, or interest in, the property in suit."

1. Scope and applicability of rule.—[1] The grounds upon which a commission can be issued are specified in this rule and in Rr. 4 and 5: they ought not to be relaxed or nullified because the witness is a man of rank or is a man of social status. (Vol. 4) 1917 Bom 155 (157): 2 Bom 136 (DB) * ('05) 31 Mad 60 (61) (DB). * ('05) 25 Mad 28 (33, 36) (DB) personal appearance in court derogatory to the person)

[2] The Court can issue a commission even after remand. (Vol. 12) 1925 Lah 39 (41): 5 Lah 252 (DB).

[3] The successor of a Judge has power to cancel the issue of a commission made by his predecessor. (Vol. 17) 1930 Rang 315 (316) (DB).

[4] The provisions relating to the issue of a commission do not apply to execution proceedings. (Vol. 27) 1940 Mad 569 (570) (DB).

2. "May in any suit issue".—[1] The general trend of opinion is that the issue of a commission is a matter of judicial discretion. ('93) 23 Bom 626 (627), * (Vol. 17) 1930 Nag 27 (28). * (Vol. 33) 1944 Mad 331 (332) * (Vol. 10) 1923 Mad 321 (332): 46 Mad 574 dissented from; ('11) 21 Mad LJ 889 (890) (DB) explained.

[2] An application will not be granted unless the application is made bonafide, the issue in respect of which the evidence is required is one which the Court ought to try, the witness to be examined would give evidence material to the issue, and there are some good reasons why the witness cannot be examined in court. ('13) 19 Ind Cas 643 (344) (11)

[3] Where the examination on commission may result in manifest injustice to any party, or where it is not calculated to permit of the evidence being tested fairly, or when the application is made to avoid cross examination before the court the Court is not bound to issue a commission. ('05) 23 Mad 28 (35, 36) (DB).

[4] Examination on commission being invariably disadvantageous to the opposite party, the court should very jealously enquire into the reason of commission. ('73) 20 Suth W R 253 (255) (DB) * ('97) 36 Cal 639 (652) * (Vol. 14) 1927 Mad 524 (525).

[5] Regard must always be had to the possibility of the witness not being a credible witness in which case the opportunity of noting his demeanour and of hearing the exact and precise answers given by him would be lost. ('09) 23 Bom 626 (628). * (Vol. 20) 1933 Mad 4 (5) (DB) * (Vol. 11) 1924 Cal 971 (972, 974) * (Vol. 10) 1923 PC 73 (76) (PC)

[6] The fact that the case of the party asking for commission is improbable is no ground for refusing commission. (Vol. 17) 1930 Sind 33 (36) (DB).

[7] That the judge thinks that evidence will serve no useful end is no ground for refusing commission. ('71) 15 Suth W R 447 (448) (DB) * ('11) 12 Ind Cas 74 (75) (Mad). (DB).

[8] Lapse of one year since the filing of suit is not a ground for refusing commission for examination of plaintiff when the issues have still to be stated. (Vol. 21) 1934 All 37 (38) (DB)

[9] Notice ought to be given to the opposite party before ordering commission. (1863) 3 Suth W R 147 (150) (DB)

[10] The Court can order the issue of commission on condition of the applicant depositing in Court security for the costs of the opposite party in regard to the commission. (Vol. 24) 1936 Pat 33 (34)

3. "Who is exempted under this code".—[1] Pardanashin ladies can claim the privilege of being examined on commission as provided by S 132 (Vol. 27) 1942 Cal 143 (144): ILR (1941) Cal 155 * (Vol. 15) 1923 Cal 814 (815) (DB). * (Vol. 12) 1925 Mad 905 (906) * (Vol. 20) 1933 All 551 (553): 55 All 666 (DB)

[a] That an allegation of immorality is made against her ('01) 5 Cal W N CCXXXII (CCXXXII) (DB).

[b] That she had appeared on a former occasion in public ('93) 26 Cal 650 (652) (DB) * ('99) 26 Cal 651 n.

1. Scope of the rule—[1] Court is not under this rule bound to appoint a Commissioner in every case. (03) 31 Mad 340 (543) (DB).

[2] The essential difference between an arbitrator and a Commissioner appointed under this rule is that the latter merely submits his report for the approval of the Court, whereas the former has a final authority to settle all matters of difference between the parties. Further, the former is selected by the parties and therefore his decision cannot be questioned except on the limited grounds specified in Sch. II whereas the latter is selected by the Court and the parties are therefore at liberty to challenge his report. (Vol 29) 1942 Pat 43 (46) (DB).

2. "Such person as it thinks fit."—[1] The choice of the Commissioner lies with the Court. But a relation of one of the parties or their pleaders should not be appointed except with the consent of the other party. (Vol 4) 1917 All 148 (149) (DB).

3. Appeal.—[1] An order issuing a commission under this rule is not appealable under O. 43 R. 1. Nor is the order one passed in execution within the meaning of S. 47. 1. Scope of the rule.—[1] This order has been newly introduced into the present Code and provides, as it were, an exception to the provisions of S: 45, Contract Act, in that it allows two or more partners alone to sue, provided the suit is brought in the name of the firm. (Vol 14) 1927 Lah 115 (116) : 8 Lah 1 (DB). * (Vol 4) 1917 Pat 246 (246) (DB).

[3] The effect of using the name of the firm is simply to bring all the partners before the Court and the procedure indicated in this rule is adopted only as a convenient method for denoting the persons who constitute the firm at the time of the accrual of the cause of action. (Vol 14) 1927 Lah 115 (116) : 8 Lah 1 (DB). * (Vol 13) 1926 Sind 75 (76) (DB).

1. Scope of the rule.—[1] This order has been newly introduced into the present Code and provides, as it were, an exception to the provisions of S. 45, Contract Act, in that it allows two or more partners alone to sue, provided the suit is brought in the name of the firm. (Vol 14) 1927 Lah 115 (116) : 8 Lah 1 (DB). * (Vol 4) 1917 Pat 246 (246) (DB).

[2] When a suit is brought against a firm, it is precisely as though it were brought in the name of all the partners. (Vol 14) 1927 Lah 115 (116) : 8 Lah 1 (DB). * (Vol 13) 1926 Sind 75 (76) (DB) * (Vol 20) 1938 All 523 (524) : 55 All 719 (DB) * (Vol 14) 1927 Bom 255 (256) * (Vol 9) 1922 Cal 408 (40) : 49 Cal 524. * (Vol 28) 1936 Pat 194 (196) (DB).

[3] The effect of using the name of the firm is simply to bring all the partners before the Court and the procedure indicated in this rule is adopted only as a convenient method for denoting the persons who constitute the firm at the time of the accrual of the cause of action. (Vol 14) 1927 Lah 115 (116) : 8 Lah 1 (DB). * (Vol 13) 1926 Sind 75 (76) (DB).

[4] A decree against a firm in the name of the firm has the same effect as a decree against all the partners. (Vol 13) 1926 Sind 75 (76) (DB). * (Vol 27) 1940 All 81 (82) * (Vol 32) 1945 Cal 303 (303)

[See also (Vol 19) 1932 Bom 375 (378) (Same rule holds good in the case of an award.)]

[5] Order merely provides a new procedure and does not affect the plaintiff's right of bringing a suit against a firm by impleading all or any of the members as defendants thereto. (Vol 27) 1940 Sind 19 (22) * (Vol 17) 1930 Pat 239 (240) : 9 Pat 717 (DB). * (Vol 29) 1942 Pat 204 (204) : 20 Pat 811. * (Vol 27) 1940 Lah 256 (261) : I L R (1941) Lah 89 (DB)

[6] The members of a firm can sue jointly in their individual names. (Vol 27) 1940 Lah 425 (427) (Order 30, Rule 1, is enabling provision—Joint Hindu family firm can sue in its name or jointly in name of all members or in name of manager as Karta.) * (Vol 27) 1940 Lah 256 (261) : I L R (1941) Lah 39 (DB) (Order 30, Rule 1, G.P. Code, is only an enabling provision.)

[7] It is not correct to sue persons as partners in the name of the firm by a partner or manager. The proper title for defendant in such suit is: A a firm, B, C, D, partners in the said firm. (Vol 12) 1925 Bom 494 (495) (DB) * (Vol 13) 1931 Sind 121 (122) : 25 Sind L R 104 (DB). * (Vol 11) 1924 Bom 155 (156) (DB). * (Vol 32) 1935 Rang 209 (209) (DB). * (Vol 28) 1936 Cal 353 (355) (DB).

[3] Addition or correction of partner's name is not addition or substitution of new party within S 22 Limitation Act. (Vol 9) 1916 Mad 649 (649) * (Vol 15) 1928 Nag 319 (321) * (Vol 22) 1935 Sind 225 (226, 227) (DB).

7. Firm as "agriculturist."—[1] A Firm can be an "agriculturist" within the meaning of S. 2 Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act (XVII of 1879 only) when, by itself, or by its servants, or by its tenants it earns its livelihood wholly or principally by agriculture carried on within the limits of a district to which the Act extends. The mere fact that an individual partner or even all the partners of the firm earn their livelihood from an agricultural income does not make the firm an "agriculturist." A plaintiff suing a firm which, by itself, does not earn its livelihood by agriculture must be sued only at the place where it carries on business and not where the individual partners reside. [2] Where A sues individually to recover a debt due to the firm consisting of partners A and B, the correct procedure, if B will not join A as co-plaintiff, is to make him a defendant. (Vol 12) 1925 Lah 504 (505)

9. "At the time of the accruing of the cause of action."—[1] A suit may be brought under this rule in the name of a firm which has been dissolved before the date of the suit, provided the cause of action has arisen before the date of the dissolution. 10. Suit against firm—Reference to arbitration.

[1] Where a reference is made to arbitration in a suit in which a firm is a party, all the members of the firm who are sought to be bound must join in making the reference; sub-rule (2) of this rule does not empower one partner alone to refer the case to arbitration so as to bind the other partners who have not agreed to, or joined in, the application for reference. 11. Suit in name of firm—Compromise.—[1] Although a suit is instituted in the name of a firm, all the partners are in reality plaintiffs and it cannot be compromised by one of the partners alone. (Vol 20) 1933 Lah 613 (620).

Service. 3. Where persons are sued as partners in the name of their firm, the summons shall be served either—

14. Death of partner before suit.—[1] A suit may be brought against a firm in the name of the firm, even though one of the partners is dead before the institution of suit. ('29) 1929 All L Jour 73 (76).

[2] Suit against firm in its name—One partner dead before institution of suit—Judgment is enforceable against partnership property—But private state of deceased partner is not liable unless his legal representatives are actually made parties. (Vol 11) 1924 Bom 109 (111).

15. Suit against individual partners.—[1] This rule does not affect, in any way, the operation of S. 43 of the Contract Act. In a suit upon a contract made by a partner on behalf of the partnership, the promisee can compel all or any one of the partners to perform the whole of the promise. (Vol 14) 1927 Lah. 819 (821) : 9 Lah 217 (DB).

[2] Suit against firm—Personal decree against partner cannot be passed unless sued in personal capacity along with firm—In such case plaintiff can withdraw his suit against firm and proceed against partner. (Vol 29) 1942 Sind 93 (95) : ILR (1942) Kar 210 (DB).

ORDER 30 RULE 2—Note 1

[1] Rule 2 applies only to suits instituted by and against partners in the name of the firm. (Vol 14) 1927 Bom 447 (448) : 51 Bom 794 (DB).

[2] Sub-rule (2) does not control the provisions of O. 21 R. 50. (Vol 14) 1927 Bom 447 (448) : 51 Bom 794 (DB).

[3] It is not necessary to join the legal representatives of a deceased partner as parties to the suit. (Vol 16) 1929 Cal 11 (14) (DB) * (Vol 8) 1921 Cal 722 (725) (DB).

[4] An incomplete disclosure or a wrong declaration of the names of the partners is not a fatal defect to the suit. (Vol 17) 1930 Bom 150 (150) : 54 Bom 285 (DB) * (Vol 21) 1934 Cal 253 (255) : 60 Cal 1217 * (Vol 1) 1914 Cal 53 (54) : 41 Cal 581.

1. Scope.
2. Dissolution of partnership before suit.

O. 30 R. 3. (contd.)

4. "Person having.....partnership business."

5. Successive services.

6. "Principal place at which the partnership business is carried on."

7. "As the Court may direct."

8. Mortgage suit.

1. Scope.—[1] Rule has no application to suits against partners not brought in the name of their firm. (Vol 12) 1925 Cal 1186 (1137) (DB) * (Vol 26) 1939 Pesh 9 (11).

[2] The directions of the Court should be obtained as to the mode of service. (Vol 30) 1943 Sind 188 (190); ILR (1943) Kar 255.

[3] A service effected under clauses (a) or (b) being a good service against the firm, a decree can be passed against it (Vol 29) 1942 Sind 93 (94, 95); ILR (1942) Kar 210 (DB) * (Vol 2) 1915 Cal 238 (240) (DB) * (Vol 19) 1932 Sind 199 (200); 26 Sind L R 228.

[4] Service, otherwise regular, will not be ineffective in the following cases even if:—

(a) All the partners are not individually served. (Vol 12) 1925 Bom 331 (332) * (Vol 13) 1926 Sind 75 (76) * ("71) 7 Beng L R App 58 (58).

(b) All or any of the partners reside outside British India. (Vol 2) 1915 Cal 238 (240) (DB) * (Vol 11) 1924 Bom 366 (367) (DB).

[5] Summons not served in prescribed modes. Service being irregular no decree can be passed against the firm. (Vol 30) 1943 Sind 188 (190); ILR (1943) Kar 255.

(6) Firm properly served under the rule—Member not actually served, cannot be called to have been "individually served as a partner" under O. 21, R. 50. (Vol 14) 1927 Bom 581 (592); 51 Bom 986 (DB).

[7] Suit against corporation—Plaint should be accompanied by an application stating where, in what manner and on whom plaintiff wishes the summons to be served. (Vol 20) 1933 Sind 102 (103); 26 Sind L R 431.

[8] Award against firm—Filing—Notice to individual partners not necessary—Rule has no application. (35) 62 Cal 833 (836).

2. Dissolution of partnership before suit.—(1) Plaintiff aware of dissolution of partnership before instituting suit—Service effected under clause (a) or (b)—Decree, when passed, cannot be executed even with the leave of the Court, personally against a partner not individually served. (Vol 11) 1924 Bom 366 (367, 368) (DB) * (Vol 12) 1925 Bom 331 (332) * (Vol 23) 1936 Sind 34 (39).

[2] Plaintiff aware of the death of a partner at time of suit—Held he must, if he wished to make the private estate of the deceased partner liable, implead the legal representatives as parties and obtain a decree against them. (Vol 11) 1924 Bom 109 (111); * (Vol 14) 1927 Bom 581 (584, 593); 51 Bom 986 (DB) * (Vol 16) 1929 Mad 733 (737); 52 Mad 885 (FB).

[3] O. 21 R. 50 (2) applies only to execution against a person as being a partner of the firm and the legal representatives are, in no sense, partners of the firm. Fact that plaintiff had no knowledge of the death of the partner before the suit does not affect the question of the liability of the legal representatives in respect of private estate of deceased partner. Scope of O. 21 (2) cannot be enlarged by reference to the proviso to this rule. (Vol 16) 1929 Mad 733 (737); 52 Mad 885 (FB).

[See also (Vol 18) 1931 All 65 (69); 52 All 964].

[4] Suit against firm—Firm dissolved before date of suit—Held that for the purpose of limitation, the date of institution is the date of the suit and not the date of the service of summons individually upon a partner, subsequently. (Vol 15) 1928 Sind 57 (60); 23 Sind L R 54.

(5) Partnership dissolved before institution of suit—Service of summons individually on all partners, though required by law, does not put a bar to a decree being passed both against firm and individual partners. (Vol 23) 1936 Sind 206 (208); 30 Sind L R 296 (DB).

3. Service by registered post.—(1) Where service by registered post has been ordered, the registered letter should be addressed to a partner or to the manager of the business and not to the firm name at the place where the business is carried on. (Vol 9) 1922 Cal 300 (300, 301); 49 Cal 394.

4 "Person having.....partnership business".—

[1] The person "having at the time of service, the control and management of the partnership business" must be a servant of the firm; a receiver or a manager appointed by the Court is not such a person. (1897) 1 Q B 14 (15, 16). In re Flowers & Co.

[See also (Vol 29) 1942 All 441 (442); ILR (1943) All 1.]

5. Successive services.—[1] Service effected on the person in control of the business and five days later, upon a partner—Judgment in default of appearance—Signed on the first service before the eight days had elapsed from service on the partner. Judgement was set aside. (1890) 23 Q B D 543 (544) Alden v Beekley.

6. "Principal place at which the partnership business is carried on".—[1] In a suit against a firm, service on an agent at the principal place of business of the firm within jurisdiction is good service on the firm, whether any members of the firm are within jurisdiction or not. (Vol 1) 1914 Mad 556 (562); 37 Mad 163 (DB).

[2] Plaintiff asked to serve summons at place of business of firm on the manager or managing partner—Name of person to be served not specified.

4. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in section 45 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, where two or more persons may sue or be sued in the name of a firm under the foregoing provisions and any of such persons dies, whether before the institution or during the pendency of any suit, it shall not be necessary to join the legal representative of the deceased as a party to the suit.

(2) Nothing in sub-rule (1) shall limit or otherwise affect any right which the legal representative of the deceased may have—

(a) to apply to be made a party to the suit, or

(b) to enforce any claim against the survivor or survivors.

5. Where a summons is issued to a firm and is served in the manner provided by rule 3, every person upon whom it is served shall be informed by notice in writing given at the time of such service, whether he is served as a partner or as a person having the control or management of the partnership business, or in both characters, and, in default of such notice, the person served shall be deemed to be served as a partner.

[4] Service on partner at principal place of business by affixure is valid. (Vol 32) 1945 Cal 454 (456) : ILR (1944) 2 Cal 57.

7. "As the Court may direct".—[1] Method prescribed in each particular case when followed and service effected accordingly prima facie amounts to good service on the firm. (Vol 14) 1927 Cal 758 (759) : 54 Cal 1057.

[See also (Vol 19) 1932 Cal 541 (542) : 59 Cal 496. (But due service on partner, though without Court's directions, is not a defect or irregularity which affects the jurisdiction of the Court).

8. Mortgage Suit.—[1] A mortgage suit by or against a firm is on the same footing as other suits relating to the properties of the firm and service of summons or notice on the manager of the firm is service on all the partners of the firm. (11) 12 Ind Cas 629 (630) (All) (DB).

ORDER 30 RULE 4—Note 1.

[1] This rule was enacted to set at rest the conflict that existed under the old code in connection with S. 45, Contract Act. (Vol 14) 1927 Bom 581 (585, 586, 591) : 51 Bom 986 (DB) * (Vol 1) 1914 Low Bur 58 (60, 61) : 8 Low Bur Rul 130 (DB) * (37) 1937 Mad W N 1312 (1312).

[2] The rule will enable a decree to be obtained only against the partnership assets, and cannot be carried further so as to alter the substantive law laid down in S. 45 and fix liability on the private estate of the deceased partner. If the plaintiff wishes to fix such liability, he is bound to make the legal representatives of the deceased partner also parties. (Vol 14) 1927 Bom 581 (587) : 51 Bom 986 (DB) * (Vol 18) 1931 All 65 (69) : 62 All 964 (DB).

[3] This rule applies only when the suit is brought in the name of the firm and does not apply to a case when the suit is brought by one or more partners in respect of the partnership. (32) 1932 All J. Jour 219 (220) (DB) * (Vol 14) 1927 Lah 115 (117) : 8 Lah 1 (DB) * (Vol 20) 1933 Lah 356 (359) : 14 Lah 548 (DB) (O. 30 R. 1 is merely permissive. [4] Sub-rule (2) of this rule is intended to safeguard the rights of the legal representatives in case, for instance, there should be any collusion between debtors to the estate and the surviving partners. Similarly, sub-rule (2) (b) may enable them to claim contribution from the surviving partners under S. 48 of the Contract Act, in the event of there being a partnership liability. (Vol 14) 1927 Bom 581 (586) : 51 Bom 986 (DB).

[5] Where a partner dies during the pendency of the suit, the suit does not abate but can be proceeded with by or against the firm. (Vol 16) 1929 Cal 11 (12) (DB).

[6] Appeal in partnership suit.—One partner dead.—His legal representatives need not be brought on record. (Vol 31) 1944 Bom 350 (351).

[7] Where the sole proprietor dies, the suit will abate, unless the legal representatives are brought on the record within the limitation period. (Vol 14) 1927 Lah 556 (557) (DB) * (Vol 9) 1922 Cal 408 (409) : 49 Cal 524.

[8] A person who sues some of the partners in their individual capacity, cannot be permitted to prove his case against them as partners of the firm. (Vol 2) 1915 Lah 167 (168) : 1915 Pun Re No. 76 (DB).

[9] The rule does not apply to a Joint Hindu family firm. (Vol 23) 1936 Nag 292 (292) : ILR (1937) Nag 428.

ORDER 30 RULE 5—Note 1.

dispute as to the character in which a particular person has been served. In the absence of a notice the person must be deemed to have been served as a partner, and if in reality not a partner he should proceed in accordance with R. 8. (Vol 2) 1915 Cal 238 (240) (DB) * (Vol 15) 1928 Lah 528 (529).

[2] The failure to give notice under this rule will expose the plaintiff to the risk of being liable for costs in case the defendant appears under protest under Rule 8. (Vol 13) 1926 Sind 51 (53).

[3] Service on manager.—See Rule 3.

[4] Notices served on the judgment-debtor during the course of arbitration proceedings as a managing partner of the firm will not enable the decree-holder to take execution at once against him without leave of the Court under Order 21 Rule 50, sub-rule (2). (Vol 16) 1929 Lah 223 (229, 230).

[5] Appearance under protest.—See Rule 8.

ORDER 30 RULE 6—Synopsis.

1. Appearance of partners.
2. "All subsequent proceedings shall continue in the name of the firm."
3. Defence in suits against firms.
4. Decree in suits against firms.
5. Revision.

1. Appearance of partners.—[1] No partner can be compelled to appear in person. (Vol 6) 1919 Lah 296 (297); 1918 Pun Re No. 78.

[2] Partner can appear by an agent or a solicitor or a pleader and such appearance will be an individual appearance within the meaning of the rule. (Vol 15) 1928 Lah 528 (529) * (1806) 1 Q B 386 (389).

[3] The appearance of one partner is appearance of the firm, that is, of all the partners of the firm. (Vol 25) 1938 Cal 377 (383); 62 Cal 510 (DB).

[4] The fact that the firm has been represented by the appearance of one partner does not disentitle another partner from putting in his appearance. (Vol 17) 1930 All 701 (702); 52 All 951. * (Vol 20) 1933 All 523 (525); 55 All 719 (DB).

2. "All subsequent proceedings shall continue in the name of the firm."—(1) Where persons are sued as partners in the name of their firm, they should appear individually in their own names, but all subsequent proceedings are nevertheless to continue in the name of the firm. (Vol 12) 1925 Bom 494 (496) (DB) * (Vol 20) 1933 All 523 (524); 55 All 719 (DB) * (Vol 8) 1921 Cal 722 (725) (DB).

3. Defence in suits against firms.—(1) Each partner appearing individually can put in a separate written statement but each written statement is the written statement of the firm.—It is only when a person is sued personally along with the firm that he may put in a personal defence. (Vol 12) 1925 Bom 494 (496) (DB).

[2] Suit against firm.—Under warrant from one of the partners firm represented by attorney.—Pending suit, firm dissolved and attorney entering into partnership with another attorney and new warrant signed by same partner in favour of the firm of attorneys.—Partner held could act on behalf of dissolved firm and fresh warrant signed by all the partners of dissolved firm held not necessary. (Vol 28) 1911 Cal 679 (681); 1 L R (1941) 2 Cal 193.

[3] Where a person was served as a partner and not individually and he put in a written statement in his own name, but there was nothing individual in the defence, it was held that there was only a technical flaw which could be corrected by the Court. (Vol 16) 1929 Sind 192 (193).

[4] Where several partners individually appear and put in separate written statements and such written statements are inconsistent with one another, the plaintiff is bound to meet all the defences and is bound to show that none of the defences prevents a decree being passed against the firm. (Vol 14) 1927 Cal 753 (759); 54 Cal 1057.

4. Decree in suits against firms.—[1] Decree must be against the firm in the firm name and if one of the partners fails to appear no decree can be passed against him separately for default of appearance. (1882) 8 Q B D 474 (477, 478), Jackson v. Litchfield.

[2] Judgment has the effect of a judgment against all the partners as partners. (1853) 1 Q B 566 (570), In re Frances Handford & Co.

[3] Whether a particular partner is also personally liable to satisfy the decree can only be decided in execution under O. 21 R. 50. (Vol 11) 1924 Bom 366 (367) (DB).

[4] A judgment entered against a firm may be a ground for a valid cause of action against an individual partner and an action may be brought upon it against him. (1862) 9 Q B D 355 (356) Clark & Sons v. Gulle.

[5] Where a decree is passed against a firm under which each member is personally liable to pay the amount decreed, any member of the firm can appeal against the decree against the firm. (Vol 27) 1940 All 81 (82).

[6] In a summary suit under O. 37 against a firm where several partners have been served individually and leave to defend is granted to some and not to others, a decree can be passed against these partners to whom leave is refused and also against the firm. (Vol 27) 1940 Sind 19 (20).

5. Revision.—[1] Where a Court refuses to allow a partner, who has entered appearance but has not filed a separate statement, to take part in the conduct of the case against the firm, it acts illegally in the exercise of its jurisdiction and the order is open to revision. (Vol 20) 1933 All 523 (525); 55 All 719 (DB).

7. Where a summons is served in the manner provided by rule 3 upon a person having the control or management of the partnership business, no appearance by him shall be necessary unless he is a partner of the firm sued.

8. Any person served with summons as a partner under rule 3 may appear under protest, denying that he is a partner, but such appearance shall not preclude the plaintiff from otherwise serving a summons on the firm and obtaining a decree against the firm in default of appearance where no partner has appeared.

[R. S. C., O. 48A, R. 7.]

9. This Order shall apply to suits between a firm and one or more of the partners therein and to suits between firms having one or more partners in common; but no execution shall be issued in such suits except by leave of the Court, and, on an application for leave to issue such execution, all such accounts and inquiries may be directed to be taken and made and directions given as may be just.

ORDER 30 RULE 7—Note 1.

[1] A person served as manager is under no obligation to appear in Court unless he is a partner. (Vol 13) 1926 Sind 51 (52).

[2] Rule contemplates only a case where a person is served as a manager and not a case where the person served is deemed to be served as a partner. (Vol 2) 1915 Cal 288 (242) (DB).

ORDER 30 RULE 8—Note 1.

[1] The effect of appearance under protest has nothing to do with the merits of the suit but it nullifies the service altogether as regards the firm (Vol 13) 1926 Bom 585 (587); 50 Bom 665 (DB) * (Vol 14) 1927 Cal 758 (759); 54 Cal 1057.

[2] The plaintiff may disregard the appearance of the person denying that he is a partner and may again effect a service upon a partner or partners or upon the manager of the business as required by Rule 3, or he can contend that the person served was a partner at the time the cause of action accrued, and apply on that basis either to have the appearance entered struck out, or to have the denial of partnership struck out of the appearance. (Vol 12) 1925 Bom 494 (496) (DB) * (Vol 8) 1921 Bom 48 (49) * (Vol 13) 1926 Bom 585 (587); 50 Bom 665 (DB) * (Vol 19) 1932 Bom 260 (269).

[3] A person served as a partner and appearing under protest is not entitled to have the issue as to his being a partner tried in the suit itself. The proper stage for the decision of the question is in execution under Order 21 Rule 50. (Vol 27) 1940 Bom 390 (391) * (Vol 19) 1932 Bom 269 (269, 270) * (Vol 14) 1927 Cal 758 (759, 760); 54 Cal 1057. * (Vol 19) 1932 Sind 199 (200, 201); 26 Sind L R 228.

[4] Suit on mortgage against firm—Mortgagee claiming that certain persons are not partners—Persons concerned equally denying same—Their names should be struck out. (Vol 24) 1937 Rang 351 (353) (DB).

[5] A party who has been served as a partner under Rule 8, and has entered appearance under protest, is not entitled to file a written statement on his own behalf denying that he is a partner. (Vol 14) 1927 Cal 758 (760); 54 Cal 1057.

[But See (Vol 13) 1926 Sind 154 (154, 156)].

[7] Execution of decree against alleged partner who had entered appearance in suit under protest—Defence by alleged partner in execution that he was not partner and that he being ward under U. P. Court of Wards Act Court could not decree suit unless provisions of that Act were complied with—Defence being personal held it was legitimate defence. (Vol 17) 1930 Cal 53 (54); 56 Cal 704.

[8] Plea of not being partner, and in alternative, that partnership had no authority to borrow—Alternative plea held unsustainable as it challenged decree. (Vol 19) 1932 Bom 334 (335).

ORDER 30 RULE 9—Note 1.

[1] Rule provides exception to general rule that person cannot be both plaintiff and defendant. (Vol 16) 1927 Sind 192 (194) * (Vol 5) 1918 Mad 258 (260, 262) (DB).

[See also (Vol 4) 1917 Lah 410 (410)].

[2] Rule makes this Order applicable to suits between firms and one or more of the partners therein, and to suits between firms having one or more partners in common. (Vol 14) 1927 Mad 1096 (1098).

[3] A suit may also lie by one firm against another when all the members of one firm are members of the other. (Vol 16) 1929 Sind 192 (194).

ORDER 30 RULE 10—Synopsis.

1. Scope of the rule.
2. Non-resident foreigner.
3. This rule and O. 21 R. 50.

1. Scope of the rule.—[1] A single person cannot constitute a firm, though he is carrying on business in a name or style other than his own. This is made clear by the use of the words "as if it were a firm" and "so far as the nature of the case will permit" in this rule. (Vol 11) 1924 Bom 109 (111).

[2] Such a person cannot, therefore, sue in the name of a firm, but must sue in his own name. (Vol 17) 1930 Bom 216 (216). * (Vol 23) 1936 Pat 194 (196) (DB) * (Vol 26) 1939 Sind 172 (173) : ILR (1939) Kar 275 (DB).

[3] Suit filed in name of firm—Plaintiff willing to amend plaint—Amendment should be allowed. (Vol 18) 1931 Cal 770 (771).

[4] Title of plaint mentioning plaintiff as "A owner of shop C"—Held there was no misdescription. (Vol 10) 1923 Bom 368 (368) (DB).

[See also (Vol 27) 1940 Oudh 443 (446) : 16 Luck 357.]

[5] Though a single person trading in a firm name cannot sue in the name of a firm, he can be sued in that name under the provisions of this rule. (Vol 19) 1932 Bom 516 (518) (DB) * (Vol 23) 1936 Pat 194 (196) (DB).

[See also (Vol 21) 1934 Mad 386 (387) : 57 Mad 973 (DB)].

[6] To apply this rule the business must be carried on in British India and must be an existing one at the time when the suit is instituted. (Vol 18) 1926 All 161 (163).

[10] Where the sole proprietor of a business dies and the business is then carried on by the guardian of his minor sons on their behalf, this rule does not apply. (Vol 23) 1936 Mad 707 (709) : 1 L R (1937) Mad 28 (DB).

[See however (Vol 23) 1936 Oudh 245 (246) (DB). (In this case it seems to have been assumed that this rule will apply to a case in which the sole proprietor of a business dies and after him the business is carried on by his heirs)].

[12] If a person is sued not in his own name but in the name which he adopts for the purpose of dealings, this does not mean that another person who also has used that name either independently or by transfer of business before the suit ipso facto has made himself liable for the debts incurred by the first person. (Vol 27) 1930 Sind 191 (191).

2. Non-resident foreigner. [1] There is nothing in this rule which says anything about residence either within or without the jurisdiction of the Court, and a Court can exercise jurisdiction over persons who carry on business within its local limits though they are resident outside it. ('11) 10 Ind Cas 395 (396) (Cal).

[See also ('03) 26 Mad 544 (552) : 30 Ind App 220 (PC)].

3. This rule and O 21 R. 50.—[1] Combined effect of this rule and R. 50 of O. 21 is to render it necessary for decree-holder who has obtained against person carrying on business in name or style other than his own name, decree in such name or style to obtain leave of Court before executing decree against any person whose position as proprietor to business has not already been established. (Vol 31) 1944 Mad 351 (351) : 1 L R (1945) Mad 138 (DB).

ORDER 31 RULE 1—Note 1.

[1] The rule does not disentitle a trustee from suing in his individual capacity. ('11) 9 Ind Cas 132 (133) (DB) (Cal). (The beneficial owner can also sue even though property is vested in trustee.)

[2] Owing to his want of capacity and judgment, a minor is disabled from binding himself, except where it is for his benefit. (1788) 2 Brown's Chancery Reports 377, Compton v. Collinson.

[3] The law will, as a general principle, treat all acts of an infant which are for his benefit on the same footing as those of an adult but will not permit him to do anything prejudicial to his own interests. 2 Dyer's Reports 186 (187), Basset's case.

[4] A decree obtained in favour of a minor without a next friend in the suit is not a nullity; but no effectual or valid decree can be passed against a minor without a proper guardian ad litem. (Vol 25) 1938 Lah 515 (519) (DB).

[6] The Court has special inherent jurisdiction derived from the Crown as parens patriae to protect the interests of minors and it will exercise that jurisdiction wherever it finds it necessary in the interest of a minor. (Vol 29) 1942 All 150 (151): ILR (1940) All 144.

ORDER 32 RULE 1—SYNOPSIS.

1. Scope and object of the rule.
2. Minor, who is
3. Suit on behalf of an alleged minor who is not a minor in fact.
4. Question of minority in dispute.
5. Objection in appeal to authority of next friend.
6. Title of suit.
7. Liability of next friend for costs.
8. Effect of decree in suits by minors.
9. Estoppel.
10. Attorney's costs
11. Suits for specific performance by or against minors.
12. Suit for possession against person in possession as guardian of minor plaintiff.

1. Scope and object of the rule.—[1] This rule provides that every suit by a minor plaintiff shall be brought in his name by a next friend. (Vol 29) 1942 All 150 (151, 152): I.L.R. (1942) All 144. * ('72) 4 N W P H C R 125 (128) (DB). * (Vol 11) 1924 Bom 114 (115) (DB). * (Vol 12) 1925 Bom 527 (528) (DB). * (1865) 3 Suth W R Act X, 138 (139) (DB). * ('96) 19 Mad 127 (129) (DB).

[2] The person by taking steps in the suit automatically constitutes himself the next friend of the minor. An order of the Court as in the case of a guardian ad litem for a minor defendant is not necessary for that purpose. (Vol 29) 1942 All 150 (152): I.L.R. (1942) All 144.

[3] The minor is the real plaintiff. (Vol 29) 1942 All 150 (151): I.L.R. (1942) All 144. * ('81) 7 Cal 187 (189) (DB). * ('83) 9 Cal 629 (630) (DB).

[4] No true analogy between a next friend or guardian ad litem and a de facto guardian under Mahomedan Law—De facto guardian as such cannot give valid discharge—But a guardian ad litem or next friend can. (Vol 27) 1940 Sind 129 (130, 131): I.L.R. (1940) Kar 200 (DB).

[5] In the course of representation the next friend can choose his own solicitor or even change him although he is under an obligation not to make an appointment which would be detrimental to the interests of the minor. ('01) 28 Cal 264 (270) (SB).

[6] A suit by a minor without a next friend should not normally be treated as abortive but an opportunity should be given to constitute the suit in the regular manner. (Vol 15) 1928 Cal 537 (539): 55 Cal 712 (DB).

[8] The manager or the shebait of an idol can sue on behalf of the idol, which is considered to be a perpetual minor in the eye of law. (Vol 18) 1926 Nag 351 (351) * (Vol 16) 1929 All 887 (888).

2. Minor, who is.—See S. 3 of the Indian Majority Act (IX[g] of 1875).

3. Suit on behalf of an alleged minor who is not a minor in fact.—[1] Suit filed through a next friend on the allegation that the plaintiff is a minor. It is subsequently found that the plaintiff was in fact a major on the date of the suit. Mistake in filing suit due to a bonafide doubt as regards the age of the minor—Defect is a formal one not affecting the merits of the case and can be cured by amendment. (Vol 18) 1931 All 507 (519): 54 All 57 (SB).

[See also (Vol 13) 1926 All 673 (674): 48 All 661 (DB).

[2] The defect can be remedied by amending the plaint and by removing the next friend. 4. Question of minority in dispute.—[1] Defendant sued as a major pleading that he is a minor. Preliminary issue should be framed for the purpose of deciding the plea of minority. For the trial on this issue a guardian ad litem should be appointed for alleged minor. (Vol 16) 1929 Bom 431 (432).

[2] The burden of proving minority is on the party who alleges it. ('02) 26 Bom 109 (116) (DB). * ('75) 23 Suth W R 835 (397) (DB).

[3] As to the quantum of evidence sufficient to prove minority, see the following cases. 5. Objection in appeal to authority of next friend.—[1] Minor plaintiff having right to sue. Objection as to want of or defect in the authority of next friend is not fatal to the suit and cannot be raised for the first time in appeal. [12] The minor can exercise the right to avoid the decree passed as the result of the negligence of guardian in the following ways :

(9) No person shall, without his consent, be appointed guardian for the suit. Whenever an application is made proposing the name of a person as guardian for the suit, a notice in Form No. 11A set forth in Appendix H hereto shall be served on the proposed guardian, unless the applicant himself be the proposed guardian or the proposed guardian consents.

No person shall be appointed guardian without his consent.

(10) Where the Court finds no person fit and willing to act as guardian for the suit, the Court may appoint any of its officers or a pleader of the Court to be the guardian and may direct that the costs to be incurred by that officer in the performance of his duties as guardian shall be borne either by the parties or by any one or more of the parties to the suit or out of any fund in Court in which the minor is interested, and may give directions for the re-payment or allowance of the costs as justice and the circumstances of the case may require.

Court guardian—when to be appointed—how he is to be placed in funds.

(11) When a guardian for the suit of a minor defendant is appointed and it is made to appear to the Court that guardian is not in possession of any or sufficient funds for the conduct of the suit on behalf of the defendant and that the defendant will be prejudiced in his defence thereby, the Court may, from time to time order the plaintiff to advance moneys to the guardian for purpose of his defence and all moneys so advanced shall form part of the costs of the plaintiff in the suit. The order shall direct that the guardian, as and when directed, shall file in Court an account of the moneys so received by him.

(2) A person appointed under sub-rule (1) to be guardian for the suit for a minor shall, unless his appointment is terminated by retirement, removal or death, continue as such throughout all proceedings arising out of the suit including proceedings in any appellate or revisional Court and any proceedings in the execution of a decree." 6 Absence of formal order of appointment of guardian—Substantial representation.—[1] The absence of the order of appointment of a guardian is only an irregularity which, in the absence of any prejudice to the minor resulting therefrom, will not be a ground for setting aside the decree where he has been effectively represented ('42) 1942 Oudh W N 118 (120) * ('40) 1940 Nag L Jour 256 (259) * ('03) 30 Cal 1021 (1031) : 30 Ind App 182 (PC) * ('87) 14 Cal 204 (209, 212, 215) (FB) * (Vol 3) 1916 Pat 267 (268) : 1 Pat L Jour 573 (FE) * (Vol 32) 1945 Pat 133 (134) : 23 Pat 640.

Provided that the interest of such person is not adverse to that of the minor and that he is not, in the case of a next friend a defendant, or, in the case of a guardian for the suit, a plaintiff.

(2) Where a minor has a guardian appointed or declared by competent authority, no person other than such guardian shall act as the next friend of the minor or be appointed his guardian for the suit unless the Court considers, for reasons to be recorded, that it is for the minor's welfare that another person be permitted to act or be appointed, as the case may be.

[See (Vol 30) 1943 Pat 10 (11) : 21 Pat 322 (DB)]

[5] Where the decree itself dispenses with the separate application and sanction which might be necessary under this rule, and allows the manager to receive the amount so long as he furnishes security, the latter can give a valid discharge without the leave of the Court under this rule (Vol 16) 1929 Bom 382 (384).

2. Payment to next friend without leave.—

[1] Payment made by judgment-debtor to next friend or guardian without leave of the Court under this rule is not a valid payment. (Vol 11) 1924 Mad 279 (280) (DB).

[See also (Vol 30) 1943 Nag 231 (233) : ILR (1944) Nag 131 * (Vol 11) 1924 Lah 661 (682) * (Vol 17) 1930 Lah 496 (496) (DB)].

[2] Payment directed by a compromise decree to be made out of court to the next friend and compromise receiving sanction of the Court. 3. Security for protection of minor's property.—

[1] The provision in sub-r (2) as to taking of security is mandatory. (Vol 30) 1943 Mad 334 (335) (DB).

[2] The fact that the next friend or guardian is the manager of a joint Hindu family does not exempt him from giving security under Sub R. (2) (Vol 3) 1916 Mad 938 (938) (Decision before the amendment of the rule by the Madras High Court). * (Vol 14) 1927 Sind 268 (269) (DB).

(1) No next friend or guardian for the suit shall, without leave of the Court, expressly recorded in the proceedings, enter into any agreement or compromise by next friend or guardian for the suit or agreement or compromise on behalf of a minor with reference to the suit in which he acts as next friend or guardian.

(2) Any such agreement or compromise entered into without the leave of the Court so recorded shall be voidable against all parties other than the minor.

2. "Without the leave of the Court expressly recorded."—[1] A suit relating to the estate of an infant has the effect of making him a ward of the Court and no act can be done affecting the property of the minor unless under the express direction of the Court. [4] The fact that the minor is described as such in the title of the suit and that the terms of the compromise are before the Court is not enough to confer leave but there ought to be evidence in the order itself to show that the Court directly applied its attention to the fact of minority and gave leave. ('06) 28 All 585 (588, 589) : 33 Ind App 128 : 9 Oudh Cas 219 (PC).

[7] The Court should before granting leave exercise a judicial discretion as to the propriety of the compromise in the interests of the minor. (Vol 29) 1942 All 85 (88) : ILR (1941) All 807 (DB) * (Vol 30) 1933 Lah 468 (469) (DB) * ('02) 7 Cal WN 90 (93) (DB) * ('05) 8 Cal L Jour 274 (277) (DB) * (Vol 19) 1932 Lah 521 (522) (DB) * (Vol 20) 1933 All 149 (156) (DB).

[8] The Court must have materials before it to satisfy its mind that the proposed compromise is for the benefit of the minor. (Vol 29) 1942 Pat 344 (DB) * (Vol 14) 1927 Cal 796 (799, 800) (DB) * ('08) 21 Mad 91 (93) (DB) * (Vol 24) 1937 Cal 656 (660) : ILR (1937) 1 Cal 586.

[10] What particular materials a Judge may call for deciding whether the compromise is in the interests and for the benefit of the minor, is a matter for the exercise of judicial discretion (Vol 13) 1926 Bom 291 (296) (DB) * (Vol 20) 1933 Lah 468 (469) (DB)

[11] An affidavit by the guardian setting forth the terms of the compromise and how they are beneficial to the minor and if it is a heavy case a certificate in addition from a Counsel that it is a fit and proper one to be sanctioned should be filed (Vol 28) 1941 All 431 (432) : ILR (1941) All 677 * (Vol 16) 1929 Bom 360 (361) (DB) * (Vol 17) 1930 Cal 539 (541, 543) (DB) * (Vol 22) 1935 Sind 95 (96, 97) (DB)

[14] An order granting leave to compromise need not expressly state that it has considered the benefit of minor; the mere order saying "granted" implies that the Court has applied its mind to that question. 4 Effect of compromise without leave of the Court—[1] In the absence of leave, a compromise on behalf of the minor cannot be supported. (Vol 2) 1915 PC 33 (37) : 39 Mad 115 (PC).

[2] A compromise entered into without leave is not a nullity so far as regards parties other than the minor are concerned ('10) 14 Cal W N 322 (324) (DR) * (Vol 12) 1925 Nag 925 (326) : 21 Nag LR 43 * (Vol 23) 1936 All 811 (814).

[3] A compromise entered into without leave of Court cannot be avoided by any person other than the minor himself (Vol 28) 1941 Rang 103 (104) : 1940 Rang L R 772 * (Vol 27) 1940 Mad 650 (652) * (Vol 27) 1940 Sind 178 (180) ILR (1940) Kar 327 (DB) * (Vol 11) 1924 All 625 (633) : 46 All 575 (DB) * ('99) 2 Oudh Cas 67 (73) (DB) * (Vol 18) 1931 Cal 211 (217) : 58 Cal 628 (DB) * (Vol 27) 1940 Pat 59 (60) : 18 Pat 708 (DB) * (Vol 26) 1939 Cal 588 (592) (DB) (Note—Reversed on another point in (Vol 30) 1943 P C 96 70 Ind App 68 : ILR (1943) Kar (PC) 107 (PC) * (Vol 26) 1939 Pat 278 (280) : 18 Pat 271 (DB).

[5] A minor who wants to avoid a compromise entered into without leave must do so by a separate suit or in an application for review and failure to do so within the period of limitation will make the decree binding. (Vol 9) 1922 Lah 166 (167) : 3 Lah 164 (DB) * (Vol 11) 1924 All 625 (633) : 46 All 575 (DB) * (Vol 14) 1927 Bom 87 (87) (DB) * (Vol 18) 1931 Cal 211 (217) : 58 Cal 628 (DB)

[3] Mere withdrawal of a suit not in pursuance of any agreement or compromise does not come within the purview of this rule ('02) 29 Cal 735 (737) (DB) * (Vol 6) 1919 Lah 395 (396). 1919 Pun Re No 59 (DB).

12. ORDER 32 RULE 12—SYNOPSIS.

1. Scope of the rule.

2. Title to be corrected.

3. Minor defendant becoming a major during the pendency of suit.

1. Scope of the rule.—[1] The rule is based on the substantive right of a person who has become sui juris to himself proceed with a suit instituted on his behalf during his minority. (195) 22 Cal 270 (274) * (Vol 4) 1917 Mad 318 (319) : 37 Mad 1081 (DB) * (189) 12 South. W R 103 (103) (DB).

(5) Any application under this rule may be made ex parte : but no order discharging a next friend and permitting a minor plaintiff to proceed in his own name shall be made without notice to the next friend.

13. (1) Where a minor co-plaintiff on attaining majority desires to repudiate the

Where minor co-plaintiff suit, he shall apply to have his name struck out as co-plaintiff; and the Court, if it finds that he is not a necessary party, shall dismiss him from the suit on such terms as to costs or otherwise as it thinks fit.

(2) Notice of the application shall be served on the next friend, on any co-plaintiff and on the defendant.

(3) The costs of all parties of such application, and of all or any to proceedings theretofore had in the suit, shall be paid by such persons as the Court directs.

(4) Where the applicant is a necessary party to the suit, the Court may direct him to be made a defendant.

[1882—S. 454 ; See R. 12. Cf. O. 1 R. 10.]

14. (1) A minor on attaining majority may, if a sole plaintiff, apply that

Unreasonable or a suit instituted in his name by his next friend be dismissed on the ground that it was unreasonable or improper.

(2) Notice of the application shall be served on all the parties concerned ; and the Court, upon being satisfied of such unreasonableness or impropriety, may grant the application and order the next friend to pay the costs of all parties in respect of the application and of anything done in the suit, or make such other order as it thinks fit.

[3] The Court should, as a matter of course, give him leave to proceed or act in his own name and cannot ignore his application ('95) 22 Cal 270 (274) * (Vol 15) 1928 Nag 166 (168).

[5] If on attaining majority, the minor elects to abandon a suit instituted by his next friend, he must pay the costs of the next friend unless he can establish that the suit was improperly instituted. (Vol 21) 1984 Mad 73 (74) * (Vol 27) 1940 Bom 58 (60) : I L R (1940) Bom 135 (DB).

[4] It is only in case of misconduct by the next friend that he can be ordered to pay costs and in the absence of such misconduct, the defendant is not entitled to an order against the next friend for costs where the quondam minor elects to abandon the suit. (Vol 27) 1940 Bom 58 (60) : I L R (1940) Bom 135 (DB).

[5] Where it is discovered in the course of the suit or appeal that the minor has attained majority, the Court cannot dismiss the suit or appeal for default, but should issue notice to the quondam minor to elect whether he intends to proceed with the suit or appeal. (Vol 16) 1929 Lah 555 (556) (DB).

[6] If the minor elects to continue the suit his rights should be determined as on the date on which the suit was originally instituted. (Vol 12) 1925 Sind 380 (340) : 18 Sind L R 230.

[7] Where the minor continues to be represented bona fide by a pleader even after his attaining majority and subsequently the quondam minor ratifies his acts, they cannot be treated as invalid on the ground of non-compliance with this rule. (Vol 17) 1920 Lah 603 (604).

[8] The rule does not apply where the suit has been filed in the name of an alleged minor who is really a major at the time. Hence such a person is not entitled to continue the suit under this rule when it is found that he was not a minor at the date of the filing of the suit. (Vol 27) 1940 Mad 522 (523).

2. Title to be corrected.—[1] The provision of this rule requiring the title of the suit to be corrected applies only where the suit is pending and not to proceedings taken after a final decree has been passed in the suit. ('95) 22 Cal 270 (275).

3. Minor defendant becoming a major during the pendency of suit.—[1] Liberty given under Rr. 12 to 14 to minor plaintiff to repudiate act of his guardian cannot be given to minor defendant. (Vol 24) 1937 Pat 625 (625).

[2] Defendant attaining majority during suit but not electing to conduct case himself—Decree passed in suit is binding. ORDER 32 RULE 15—Note 1

[1] The Court can under this rule order the next friend to pay the costs of all the parties if it is satisfied as to the impropriety or unreasonableness alleged. (Vol 27) 1940 Bom 58 (60) : I L R (1940) Bom 135 (DB) * (Vol 21) 1984 Mad 73 (74).

2. Suit may be "instituted" by a pauper.
3. "Is not possessed of sufficient means."

OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Section 402 of the 1882 Code ran as follows:—
"No suit shall be brought by a pauper to recover compensation for loss of caste, libel, slander, abusive language or assault"

"The Committee have not preserved section 402. In the light of the case-law it is misleading so far as it suggests that a suit will lie for loss of caste or abusive language, and they can see no sufficient reason for withholding from a pauper a right to sue as such in respect of defamation or assault."—S. O. R.

PROVINCIAL AMENDMENTS

BOMBAY

The following sentence shall be added to the Explanation, namely :

"In determining whether he is possessed of sufficient means, the subject-matter of the suit shall be excluded." [9-2-1925.]

MADRAS

The following shall be substituted for the existing Explanation to Rule 1 :

Explanation (i).—A person is a pauper,

(1) when he is not possessed of sufficient means to enable him to pay the fee prescribed by law for the plaint in such suit, or

(b) where no fee is prescribed when he is not entitled to property worth one hundred rupees other than his wearing apparel and the subject-matter of the suit.

Explanation (ii).—Any part of the subject-matter of the suit which the opposite party relinquishes and places at the immediate disposal of the plaintiff shall be taken into account in considering the question of the possession of sufficient means by the plaintiff.

Explanation (iii).—Where the plaintiff sues in a representative capacity the question of pauperism shall be determined with reference to means possessed by him in such capacity."

10. Suit by an official liquidator or official receiver.

11. Suit by mutwalli, trustee or shebait.

12. Married woman.

13. Award of costs against pauper.

1. Suit by paupers.—[1] The provisions of this order have been enacted for exempting poor persons from paying, in the first instance, the court-fee prescribed and allowing them to prosecute their suits in forma pauperis. ('93) 20 Cal 111 (115) (DB).

[2] The executor of a deceased person is entitled to obtain a probate in forma pauperis, though the petition for grant of probate is not a suit unless caveat is entered. (1894) 18 Bom 237 (239, 241).

[See also (Vol 25) 1938 Mad 486 (488). (Order '83 applies to application for probate or letters of administration)].

2. Suit may be "Instituted" by a pauper.—[1] It is competent to the Court to allow a suit not originally instituted in forma pauperis to be continued in forma pauperis. Suit instituted in ordinary manner—Application for leave to continue suit as pauper—Application dismissed for default—Suit itself then dismissed—Court has no jurisdiction to treat the application as one for leave to sue in forma pauperis as the dismissal of the suit puts an end to the cause of action. ('34) 30 Cal L Jour 537 (539) (DB) * (Vol 21) 1934 Cal 25 (26) : 60 Cal 327 (328) * ('84) 8 Bom 615 (615, 616) (DB) * (Vol 16) 1933 Mad 323 (329) : 53 Mad 43 (DB) * (Vol 25) 1938 Mad 486 (489) (Application for letters of Administration) * (Vol 28) 1936 Cal 221 (222) (DB) * (Vol 23) 1936 Mad 158 (159)

[But see (Vol 19) 1932 Cal 685 (687) (DB). (No provision exists for subsequent pauperism—Obiter.)]

3. "Is not possessed of sufficient means"—[1] The explanation to this rule furnishes two different tests to determine the pauperism of a person according as the law does or does not prescribe the payment of fee upon the plaint. (Vol 1) 1914 Cal 537 (537) (DB).

[2] Where a claim requires a court-fee of Rs. 1775 and the applicant is possessed of means to the extent of Rs. 1,600 only, he is a pauper for the purposes of that suit. ('06) 8 Bom L R 642 (644) (DB).

[3] Case is one which court-fee is payable on plaint—First part of Explanation and not second part supplies. ('36) 1936 Oudh WN 237 (238) (DB).

[4] Application for letters of administration treated as suit under the rules of the High Court on caveat being entered—But no court-fee being payable when the petition is so converted into a suit and the petitioner not being entitled to property worth more than Rs. 100, he is a 'pauper' within the meaning of this rule. (Vol 25) 1938 Mad 486 (488).

[5] Past carelessness is irrelevant for considering present poverty. (Vol 21) 1934 Nag 104 (105).

[6] The possession of "sufficient means" refers to the possession of sufficient realizable property which will enable the plaintiff to pay the court-fee on the plaint. The possession of hard cash is not necessary. (Vol 28) 1941 Pat 638 (640).

[7] Though a person may be entitled to property he may nevertheless be not possessed of sufficient means to pay the court-fee. It cannot, therefore be assumed that everyone who is entitled to property is possessed of means to the extent of the value of the property. (Vol 16) 1929 Nag 319 (320) : 26 Nag L R 115 * (Vol 31) 1944 Oudh 243 (243) (DB). (Mere right to enforce claim is not property till decree is obtained—Person entitled to such claim cannot be said to possess means to extent of claims).

[8] Where though a person is entitled to property yet it is out of his reach and is thus not a realizable asset, or convertible into cash, it cannot be said that he is possessed of sufficient means to pay the court-fee. (Vol 15) 1928 Lah 271 (271) * (Vol 20) 1933 Lah 528 (528).

[9] A mere finding that the applicant is jointly interested in a property with another, but over which he has no dominion, would only show that he is entitled to property but not that he is possessed of means. [10] Applicant having share in husband's property but not in possession of it—Court should consider whether she could raise enough money to pay court-fee. (Vol 28) 1941 Pat 638 (640)

[11] Word "means" include all forms of realizable assets which can be converted into cash and as such can be used for financing the litigation. (Vol 15) 1928 Lah 271 (271) (Includes interest in decree) * ('35) 158 Ind Cas 368 (368) (Lah) (DB) * (Vol 16) 1929 Lah 821 (822) (Includes mortgage).

[12] A debt which is due from a third person cannot be said to be "means" of which the applicant is possessed, and the words "is not possessed of" must mean that the applicant has no actual control over it. [13] Where the petitioner is possessed of some property which is not cash, the test, to decide whether he is a pauper, is not whether in the abstract he has the power of raising money, but whether in the concrete circumstances of the case he can succeed in raising anything substantial by exercising that power (Vol 20) 1933 Mad 888 (884) * (Vol 21) 1934 Mad 561 (561) * (Vol 21) 1934 Mad 562 (562) * (Vol 28) 1941 Pat 638 (640).

[16] Where the applicant himself is proved to be a pauper he is entitled to the benefit of the rule and the fact that he has co-heirs or relations who are men of means is immaterial ('10) 1 Upp Bur Rul 26 * (Vol 20) 1933 All 556 (556) (DB) *

4. Subject-matter of the suit, if can be considered in deciding sufficient means—[1] The words "other than his necessary wearing apparel or the subject-matter of the suit" do not qualify the part of the Explanation, but apply only to cases where no specific court-fee is prescribed (Vol 29) 1942 Nag 47 (48): ILR (1942) Nag 625 * (Vol 29) 1942 Pat 290 (291) * (Vol 27) 1940 Mad 754 (755) * ('06) 30 Bom 593 (597) (DB) * (Vol 21) 1934 All 323 (324) * (Vol 20) 1933 Pat 203 (204) * (Vol 13) 1926 Nag 273 (273) * (Vol 13) 1926 Mad 567 (568) * (Vol 17) 1930 Cal 147 (149): 57 Cal 980 (DB) * (Vol 24) 1937 All 740 (741): ILR (1937) All 918 (DB).

[7] Where the plaintiff gets a decree in the lower Court, but wants to appeal as a pauper for higher amount, the amount deposited in Court by the judgment-debtor to the credit of the plaintiff in pursuance of the decree should be taken into consideration in determining whether he should be allowed to appeal as a pauper (Vol 13) 1926 Mad 567 (568).

[8] In a suit to enforce a mortgage the equity of redemption in the mortgagor or defendant cannot be regarded as the subject-matter of the suit and hence for the purpose of determining the question as to whether the mortgagor who appeals is a pauper or not, the value of the equity of redemption cannot be excluded from consideration (Vol 23) 1941 Cal 659 (660): ILR (1941) 1 Cal 428 (DB) ((Vol 17) 1930 Pat 868 relied on).

8. "Person", Meaning of.—[1] The word "person" occurring in the Explanation to this rule includes not only individual human beings but also juridical persons such as companies or associations or bodies of individuals whether incorporated or not. [3] The word "person" in this rule has reference to all those who have a right to institute a suit under the Code and an individual being a juridical person will come within the meaning of this rule. (Vol 22) 1935 Nag 209 (211): 31 Nag LR 418.

9. Suit by executor, administrator or legal representative of pauper.—[1] An executor or an administrator or the legal representative of a deceased person is entitled to institute or maintain or continue a suit in forma pauperis in his representative capacity, provided he has not come into possession of sufficient means out of the estate of the deceased. [4] In the following cases the legal representative has been allowed to be substituted in place of the deceased applicant, not for the purpose of continuing the application, but to enable the legal representative to continue the proceedings as a suit on payment of proper court-fee. (Vol 23) 1936

[5] Once the leave to sue in forma pauperis is granted, the plaint gets registered as a suit and if the plaintiff dies thereafter, his legal representative has a right to be brought on record in place of the deceased plaintiff where the right to sue survives in him. 12. Married woman—The fact that the applicant's husband has got sufficient property to pay the court-fees due on her plaint is not a ground for refusing the application of a pauper married woman for permission to sue as a pauper (Vol 5) 1918 Pat 329 (329) : 3 Pat L Jour 176 (DB).

13. Award of costs against pauper.—[1] Court cannot pass an order for costs against the pauper in interlocutory applications in the suit. (Vol 9) 1922 Bom 385 (385) : 47 Bom 104 (DB) (Application for amendment of plaint)

Substitute the following for Rule 11.

"11. Where the plaintiff fails in the suit or is dispaupered or where the suit is withdrawn or where part of the claim is abandoned or where the suit is dismissed—

(a) because the summons for the defendant to appear and answer has not been served upon him in consequence of the failure of the plaintiff to pay the court-fees or postal charges (if any) chargeable for such service, or

In cases where the plaintiff is dispaupered the Court may, instead of proceeding under the previous paragraph, order the plaintiff to pay the requisite court-fee within a time to be fixed by it and in default dismiss the suit and make an order for the payment of court-fee as in the previous paragraph.

Where the Court finds that the suit has been instituted unreasonably or improperly by a next friend on behalf of a minor plaintiff on a cause of action which accrued during the minority of such plaintiff, the Court may order the next friend to personally pay the court-fee" [22-10-1940]

ORDER XXXIV.

["Some of the rules in this Order have been re-drafted. The Transfer of Property Act does not contain any provision for the passing of a final decree in cases where payment is made in accordance with the terms of the preliminary decree. This is in our opinion an omission and we have provided in Rules 3 (1), 5 (1) and 8 (1) for the passing of final decrees in such cases,

We approve of the proposal to repeal the provisions of section 99 of the Transfer of Property Act. We think that those provisions have worked considerable hardship and are not really needed. The first part of the section enacts that a mortgagee shall not bring the mortgaged property to sale other wise than by instituting a suit under section 67 of the Act. In so far as it precludes the mortgagee from selling the mortgaged property under a judgment unconnected with the mortgage-debt, it is in our opinion inexpedient; it is beyond doubt competent to a mortgagee to purchase the equity of redemption from the mortgagor by an agreement subsequent to and distinct from the mortgage-transaction and we can see no reason why it should not be equally competent to him to have it sold in satisfaction of any claim which he may have against the mortgagor unconnected with the mortgage (Khiarajmal v. Daim, I. L. R. 32 Cal 296; Lisle v. Reeve, 1902 A.C. 461). In so far as it precludes the mortgagee from selling the property under a judgment for the mortgage-debt, it serves no useful purpose. We understand that the provision was enacted to prevent mortgagees from suing their mortgagors on the debt as such and in execution selling the mortgagor's interest in the property; we, however, think that no such provision was needed seeing that, under the law as it stood prior to the Act, the Court never allowed the sale of a bare equity of redemption under a judgment on the covenant, Syed Emam v. Rajhumar, 23 W.R. 187; Khiarajmal v. Daim, I. L. R. 32 Cal. 296)."—S.C.R.]

Objects and Reasons

"The proviso to section 85 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, has given rise to certain doubts which the Committee have sought to remove by substituting for it the words now added with a view to making clear that a person not a party is not bound by a decree (Ram Nath Rai v. Lachman Ram, L. R. 2 I A. 193). The explanation has been inserted in order to remove doubts which have arisen from the conflict of authorities on the point."—S. O. R.

O. 34 R. 1 (contd.).

1. Suits relating to mortgages.—[1] One of the objects with which this order was enacted was to set at rest the conflict of decisions:—(a) as to whether an application for an order absolute after a preliminary decree for sale was an application in execution or was one in the suit itself for a further decree; (b) as to the applicability of Art. 178 (now Art. 181) of the Limitation Act, to applications for orders absolute, in mortgage suits ('11) 38 Cal 913 (921) (DB).

[2] In suits relating to mortgages, Courts should be guided by the provisions of O. 34 and not by the English practice. (Vol. 13) 1926 Oudh 113 (114).

[3] The High Court on its original side is also governed by provisions of Order 34. (10) 37 Cal 907 (910).

[4] This Order applies to charges also. ('05) 1 Nag L R 117 (120).

[5] The provisions of this Order have no application to suits under S. 12 of the Redemption of Mortgages Act (Punjab Act II of 1913). (Vol. 20) 1933 Lah 179 (181); 14 Lah 218.

[6] Compromise decrees O. 34 does not apply. (Vol. 22) 1935 Pat 385 (395); 14 Pat 488 (DB).

[7] As to the applicability of this Order to mortgages of movables, see the following cases. (Vol. 20) 1933 Bom 51 (54,55); 57 Bom 346 (DB). (Order 34, Rule 14 does not apply to mortgages of moveable property) * (Vol. 19) 1932 Cal 524 (533); 59 Cal 667 (DB). (In absence of any statutory provisions to the contrary, Rules of Order 34 should be applied in suits on mortgages of moveable property).

2 Transfer of Property Act, Section 85 — [1] The omission of the proviso to S. 85 in the present rule shows that a person may be a necessary party to a mortgage suit, though the plaintiff may not be aware of that person's interest in the mortgaged property. (Vol. 29) 1942 Oudh 197 (198); 17 Luck 482. * ('11) 33 All 71 (78) (DB).

3 Scope and object of the rule.—[1] The object of the rule is to avoid multiplicity of suits. (Vol. 30) 1943 Oudh 218 (223, 224); 19 Luck 183 (DB). * ('01) 28 Cal 517 (530) (SB). * ('11) 14 Cal Jour 108 (109) (DB) * (Vol. 6) 1919 Bom 135

[2] The rule does not apply to suits for ejectment. ('03) 1 Ind Cas 560 (560) (DB) (Mad).

[3] The rule does not prohibit the joining of any party. (Vol. 7) 1920 Nag 247 (248).

[See (Vol. 23) 1936 Pat 306 (307) (DB).]

4. "Subject to the provisions of this Code.—

A sues C on his mortgage without impleading B—B also institut's a parallel suit on his own mortgage without impleading A—A purchases, pending B's suit, the mortgaged property in execution of his decree, and thereafter B purchases the same property in execution of his decree.—Different views are held on the question whether doctrine of lis pendens applies to such a case.

(i) The following cases while holding that the doctrine of lis pendens applies to such cases, have come to the conclusion that A can get a decree for possession subject to redemption by B. (Vol. 8) 1921 Pat 150 (151) 152) (DB). * (Vol. 9) 1922 Nag 89 (91, 92) (FB). * (Vol. 1) 1914 Sind 131 (132) : 8 Sind L R 264 (DB).

[But See (Vol. 13) 1926 All 480 (486) (DB).]

[1] The High Court of Allahabad has held that the doctrine of lis pendens applies to such case but has further formulated the following conclusions:—

If A sues B as plaintiff for possession, then, if he was the earlier purchaser, (i. e., purchaser pending B's suit) in point of time, he can redeem B and recover possession even though his (A's) mortgage is barred by time; If he is the later purchaser (i. e., if B's purchase is pending A's suit) then his suit even for redemption cannot be decreed. If B sues as plaintiff for possession, then, if B is the earlier purchaser in point of time, he must redeem A and A cannot compel B to submit to redemption by him. If B is the later purchaser in point of time, he must first redeem A, but A will have the right to redeem B next and retain possession. (Vol. 18) 1931 All 466 (481, 482, 486) : 53 All 1023 (FB).

(iii) The High Courts of Madras and Calcutta have held that a sale in pursuance of a mortgage decree, the mortgage having been executed before the institution of the suit, is not affected by the doctrine of lis pendens. (Vol. 21) 1934 Mad 585 (586, 587) * (Vol. 20) 1933 Mad 583 (584, 590) : 56 Mad 846 (FB). * (Vol. 29) 1942 Cal 394 (401) (DB). * (Vol. 20) 1933 Cal 181 (182).

a 2 (1) In a suit for foreclosure, if the plaintiff succeeds, the Court shall pass a preliminary decree—

(a) ordering that an account be taken of what was due to the plaintiff at the date of such decree for—

(i) principal and interest on the mortgage,

(ii) the costs of suit, if any, awarded to him, and

(iii) other costs, charges and expenses properly incurred by him up to that date in respect of his mortgage-security, together with interest thereon; or

(b) declaring the amount so due at that date; and

(c) directing—

(i) that, if the defendant pays into Court the amount so found or declared due on or before such date as the Court may fix within six months from the date on which the Court confirms and countersigns the account taken under clause (a), or from the date on which such amount is declared in Court under clause (b), as the case may be, and thereafter pays such amount as may be adjudged due in respect of subsequent costs, charges and expenses as provided in rule 10, together with subsequent interest on such sums respectively as provided in rule 11, the plaintiff shall deliver up to the defendant, or to such person as the defendant appoints, all documents in his possession or power relating to the mortgaged property, and shall, if so required, re transfer the property to the defendant at his cost free from the mortgage and from all incumbrances created by the plaintiff or any person claiming under him, or, where the plaintiff claims by derived title, by those under whom he claims, and shall also, if necessary, put the defendant in possession of the property; and

(ii) that, if payment of the amount found or declared due under or by the preliminary decree is not made on or before the date so fixed, or the defendant fails to pay, within such time as the Court may fix, the amount adjudged due in respect of subsequent costs, charges, expenses and interest, the plaintiff shall be entitled to apply for a final decree debarring the defendant from all right to redeem the property.

(2) The Court may, on good cause shown and upon terms to be fixed by the Court, from time to time, at any time before a final decree is passed, extend the time fixed for the payment of the amount found or declared due under sub-rule (1) or of the amount adjudged due in respect of subsequent costs, charges, expenses and interest.

(3) Where, in a suit for foreclosure, subsequent mortgagees or persons deriving title from, or subrogated to the rights of, any such mortgagees are joined as parties, the preliminary decree shall provide for the adjudication of the respective rights and liabilities of the parties to the suit in the manner and form set forth in Form No. 9 or Form No. 10, as the case may be, of Appendix D with such variations as the circumstances of the case may require.

1. Scope.—[1] The object of this rule is that a general account should be taken once for all, and an aggregate amount be stated in the decree for principal, interest and costs due on a fixed day and that after the expiration of that day, if the property be not redeemed, the matter shall pass from the domain of contract to that of judgement and the rights of the mortgagee should thenceforth depend, on the directions in the decree. ('07) 34 Cal 150 (161); 34 Ind App 9 (PC). (Observations apply equally to the present rule).

[2] The object of this rule is to prevent mortgagees from realizing their securities otherwise than in the mode prescribed by the rule. ('95) 22 Cal 813 (816) (DB).

2. Persons entitled to the right of foreclosure.—[1] S. 67 of the T. P. Act now provides that no mortgagee "other than a mortgagee by conditional sale or a mortgagee under an anomalous mortgage by the terms of which he is entitled to foreclose", can institute a suit for foreclosure. ('96) 19 Mad 249 (252, 253); 23 Ind App 32 (PC) * (Vol. 22) 1935 All 778 (781) (DB). * (Vol. 7) 1920 Oudh 204 (206) (DB).

3. Form of preliminary decree.—[1] The Court cannot, except with the consent of parties, direct payment of the mortgage-money, by instalments. ('79) 2 All 320 (321, 322) (DB). * ('83) 7 Bom 332 (335) (DB).

[2] Where a preliminary decree allowing payment by instalments is passed by consent of parties, Kr. 2 and 3 may still apply. (Vol. 15) 1928 Nag 333 (335); 25 Nag L R 175.

[3] A preliminary decree for foreclosure which does not conform to the form prescribed by this rule is irregular, but after it is made absolute, the defendant cannot object to delivery of possession under the decree to the decree-holder. ('06) 4 Cal L Jour 533 (535) (DB).

[See also appendix D, Form Nos. 3, 3A, 9 and 10.]

4. "Ordering that an account be taken" [1] Rule 2 contemplates a declaration of the amount due at the date of the decree, this declaration to be made (a) at the time of judgment itself or (b) after taking an account. (Vol. 19) 1932 Pat 332 (334) (DB).

[3] In taking accounts, sums due by the mortgagor and also by the mortgagee should be taken into consideration. (Vol. 4) 1917 Cal 853 (854) (DB).

[4] If decree silent, the parties may select a person to take accounts and his award will be binding on them. ('09) 33 Bom 216 (218, 219) (DB).

[5] The accounting is to be restricted to the mortgage transaction in question. (Vol. 14) 1927 Oudh 170 (173) (DB). * (Vol. 12) 1925 Pat 59 (63); 3 Pat 829 (DB).

[6] Failure to direct accounts to be taken is not serious error, when the result of taking accounts would be to give the same sum as that for which decree was passed. (Vol. 14) 1927 P C 17 (17) (PC).

5. Principal.—[1] Where the mortgage deed is inadmissible, the mortgagee cannot recover anything beyond what the mortgagor admits to be due. ('82) 6 Bom 669 (670) (DB).

[2] The statement in the mortgage deed is prima facie proof of the amount due. (Vol. 1) 1914 All 319 (319); 36 All 478 (DB).

[3] The mortgagor can plead a total or partial discharge of the debt or that the recital as to consideration in the bond is wholly or partially untrue. (Vol. 7) 1920 Cal 888 (888) (DB).

[4] Recitals in deeds are not evidence against third parties. ('95) 17 All 428 (430) (DB). * ('07) 5 Cal L Jour 653 (653) (DB).

[5] Where only part of the alleged consideration is proved to have been paid, the mortgage is valid to the extent of the part so paid. ('06) 10 Cal W N 932 (933) (DB).

6. Interest.—[1] In the absence of anything to the contrary in the mortgage deed, interest as well as the principal constitutes a charge on the property. * (Vol. 11) 1924 P C 183 (183, 184); 5 Lah 425: 51 Ind App 377 (P C). * (Vol. 30) 1943 Mad 109 (110) * (Vol. 12) 1925 Lah 182 (182) (DB). * (Vol. 8) 1921 Bom 28 (29); 45 Bom 523 (DB).

7. Costs of the suit.—[1] Though as a general rule in mortgage suits mortgagee is entitled to his costs, the Court in view of mortgagee's conduct and peculiar circumstances of any case, can refuse to award him costs. (Vol. 26) 1939 Bom 322 (333) (DB). * ('83) 8 Bom 190 (193) (DB). * ('87) 14 Cal 99 (108); 13 Ind App 116 (P C).

[2] Ordinarily costs awarded against a mortgagor are part of the mortgage money, and are recoverable from mortgaged property. (Vol. 12) 1925 Cal 1155 (1155, 1136) (DB). * (Vol. 12) 1925 Oudh 351 (351); 29 Oudh (as 34). * (Vol. 17) 1930 Oudh 167 (168); 5 Luck 595 (DB). * (Vol. 15) 1928 Bom 123 (129, 130); 52 Bom 459 (DB). * (Vol. 5) 1918 All 366 (366); 40 All 103 (113). * ('89) 2 C P L R 94 (97, 98). * (Vol. 26) 1939 Cal 166 (163) (DB).

[But see ('09) 4 Ind Cas 545 (545) (DB). (Cal) * ('88) 10 All 179 (181).]

[3] The Court can, in its discretion under S. 35, make costs recoverable from the mortgagor personally. ('87) 14 Cal 185 (187) (DB). * (Vol. 6) 1919 All 297 (298, 299); 41 All 473 (DB). * (Vol. 5) 1918 Nag 185 (185). * (Vol. 26) 1939 Cal 166 (168) (DB). * ('98) 20 All 523 (527) (FB) * (1898 All WN 33 Overruled)

[4] Where a defendant in a mortgage suit claiming title paramount to that of the mortgagor is struck off from the array of parties and is awarded costs, the mortgagor should not be made liable for such costs. (Vol. 21) 1934 Nag 264 (268); 30 Nag L R 331 (DB).

[5] A puisne mortgagee who is party to a suit on the mortgage is entitled to his costs. ('10) 37 Cal 907 (913).

[6] A co-mortgagee is entitled to his costs even though in a suit on a mortgage he was joined as a defendant. (Vol. 16) 1929 Cal 544 (544) (DB).

[7] Costs are to be awarded to the mortgagee on the scale of costs as between attorney and client. ('77) 1 Ind Jur (N S) 22. * ('81) 8 Cal L Rep 437 (438).

8. Other costs, charges and expenses.—[1] The rule makes express provision for payment to the mortgagee of all expenses properly incurred by him in respect of the mortgage security, together with interest thereon. (Vol. 28) 1941 Oudh 498 (501); 16 Luck 812 (DB). * (Vol. 20) 1933 Rang 112 (112).

[2] (See also Ss. 72 and 63 A of Transfer of Property Act).

9. Account against mortgagee in possession.—(See Ss. 76 and 77 of the T. P. Act.)

10. Accounts in suit by or against sub-mortgagee—

[1] A sub-mortgagee is entitled to sue for sale or foreclosure to the same extent as the original mortgagee himself. ('97) 20 Mad 35 (40) (DB).

[2] Where a sub-mortgagee is party to suit on mortgage, proper course is to direct accounts to be taken, both of amounts due to the original mortgagee and of amounts due to the sub-mortgagee and to order that, out of the sum due to the original mortgagee, the sub-mortgagee should be paid the amount due to him on his mortgage, that the balance should be paid to the original mortgagee and that, thereafter, both the mortgagees should re-convey to the mortgagor the mortgaged property. See also Appendix D, Form No. 11. ('91) 15 Bom 692 (693, 694) (DB).

11. Subsequent mortgages.—[1] Where puisne mortgages are impleaded as parties in a suit on a prior mortgage, a form similar to the one in use in the Chancery Division in the High Court in England may be adapted. ('05) 27 All 325 (330): 32 Ind App 123 (PC).

[2] The chief point to be noted in such cases is to give effect to the principle "redeem up, and foreclose down". ('83) 7 Bom 526 (529) (DB). * ('11) 10 Ind Cas 174 (175) (Oudh) * ('05) 27 All 325 (331, 332, 333): 32 Ind App 123 (PC).

[3] A subsequent mortgagee who has been added as a party to a suit for foreclosure by a prior mortgagee and who pays off the decree amount can, on his being transposed as plaintiff, apply for a final decree. (Vol. 15) 1923 Nag 145 (146): 24 Nag L R 119.

[But see ('05) 27 All 325 (332): 32 Ind App 123 (PC) (Case under the Transfer of Property Act).]

12. "Pays into court"—[1] The rule requires the payment to be made only into the court in all cases. (Vol. 26) 1933 Lah 79 (81): 1 L R (1939) Lah 313 * (Vol. 5) 1913 Cal 472 (473) (DB). * (Vol. 6) 1919 Mad 792 (792): 42 Mad 61 * ('13) 16 Ind Cas 987 (987) = 1913 Pun Re No. 12 (DB). * (Vol. 17) 1930 Mad 105 (107, 108) (DB).

13. "On or before such date as the Court may fix within six months"—[1] The Court has a discretion to fix any shorter period it thinks fit. (Vol. 14) 1927 PC 17 (17) (PC).

[2] Where accounts are directed to be taken, the period of six months should be calculated from the date on which the Court confirms and countersigns the accounts taken under its decree. (Vol. 2) 1915 Cal 502 (503) (DB).

[3] Rules under S. 43, Co-operative Societies Act of 1912, depriving right of six months under O. 34 r. 2 are not ultra vires. (Vol. 20) 1933 Nag 211 (213) (DB).

[2] The mortgagor is not entitled to an extension of time as of right. (Vol. 6) 1919 Pat 497 (500): 4 Pat L

Jour 347 (DB) * (Vol. 3) 1916 Mad 882 (882): 39 Mad 882.

[3] Court has no power to grant an extension of time where no good cause has been shown for extension. (Vol. 15) 1928 P C 137 (139): 55 Ind App 207: 55 Cal 821 (PC) * (Vol. 7) 1920 Nag 24 (25) * ('02) 25 Mad 244 (289) (FB) * ('99) 22 Mad 133 (136) (DB).

[4] Time may be extended even after the expiry of the period originally fixed, provided a final decree has not been passed. (Vol. 5) 1918 Cal 424 (424) (DB).

[5] The mortgagor may pay in the money at any time before the final decree is passed, though there may not be an express order extending the period. ('23) 70 Ind Cas 152 (152, 153) (DB) (Cal). * ('89) 16 Cal 246 (249) (DB). * ('02) 25 Mad 300 (307) (FB). * (Vol. 13) 1931 All 223 (223) (DB). * (Vol. 18) 1931 Oudh 121 (122): 6 Luck 610 (FB). * ('03) 25 All 231 (233). * ('98) 1 Oudh Cas 91 (92, 93) * ('10) 7 Ind Cas 50 (50) (DB) (All) * (Vol. 1) 1914 Oudh 209 (211): 17 Oudh Cas 347 (DB) * ('09) 36 Cal 122 (129).

[6] Even where a preliminary decree is passed by consent, the Court can exercise its power of extending the period fixed for payment. (Vol. 9) 1922 Nag 182 (184) * (Vol. 6) 1919 Cal 68 (69) (DB).

[But see (Vol. 13) 1926 Nag 280 (281).]

[8] The application need not be in writing. ('01) 26 Bom 121 (126) (DB).

[9] The Court cannot postpone the passing of a final decree, on the application of a third party. ('02) 6 Cal W N 654 (655) (DB).

15. Plaintiff to apply for final decree.—(1) Held that a final decree passed in the presence of the mortgagor on the application of the transferee from the mortgagee is binding on the mortgagor (Vol. 6) 1919 Pat 497 (500): 4 Pat L Jour 347 (DB).

16. Mortgage of chattel and intangible property.—[1] Different views are held as to right of mortgagee of chattel to sue for foreclosure. - See also (Vol. 2) 1915 Cal 161 (163): 42 Cal 455.

[b] Mortgagee is not so entitled. (Vol. 3) 1916 Bom 77 (80) * ('11) 7 Nag L R 72 (78) * ('01) 4 Oudh Cas 301 (302).

17. Appeal.—[1] Appeal lies from a preliminary decree. (Vol. 5) 1918 Nag 185 (185).

[2] Under O. 43 R. 1 (0), an appeal lies from an order refusing to extend time under this rule, but not from an order granting an extension of time. (Vol. 18) 1931 Nag 1 (3) (FB). * ('37) 9 All 500 (502) (DB). * (Vol. 3) 1916 Mad 694 (695): 39 Mad 376 (DB). * (Vol. 1) 1914 Nag 8 (9): 10 Nag L R 150.

[3] An application for revision may lie from an order granting extension of time. (Vol. 18) 1931 Nag 1 (3) (FB).

[4] No appeal lies against an order refusing to extend time after a final decree has been passed. (Vol. 17) 1930 Nag 240 (240).

a 3. (1) Where, before a final decree debarring the defendant from all right to redeem the mortgaged property has been passed, the defendant makes payment into foreclosure suit. Court of all amounts due from him under sub-rule (1) of rule 2, the Court shall, on application made by the defendant in this behalf, pass a final decree—

(a) ordering the plaintiff to deliver up the documents referred to in the preliminary decree,

(b) ordering him to re-transfer at the cost of the defendant the mortgaged property as directed in the said decree, and, also, if necessary,—

(3) On the passing of a final decree under sub-rule (2), all liabilities to which the defendant is subject in respect of the mortgage or on account of the suit shall be deemed to have been discharged.

[a.] The rule was substituted by the Transfer of Property (Amendment) Supplementary Act, 1929 (21 [XXI] of 1929), S. 4, for the original rule.

1. "Where before a final decree debarring the defendant from all right to redeem the mortgaged property has been passed"—[1] Rule makes it clear that defendant is entitled to make payment before final decree debarring him from right to redeem is passed (Vol. 18) 1931 Oudh 121 (122): 6 Luck 610 (DB).

[2] Preliminary decree for foreclosure—Subsequently mortgagee entering into possession before day fixed for payment—Mortgagor can demand fresh account and extension of period—But mortgagor keeping quiet for long time may deprive him of this right (Vol. 13) 1926 Bom 273 (277) (DB).

2. Effect of appeal on time fixed for payment.—[1] The mere pendency of an appeal from the preliminary decree does not extend the time fixed, and is no bar to the passing of a final decree, unless the Appellate Court expressly or by necessary implication extends the period for payment. (Vol. 17) 1930 Pat 227 (229) (DB) * ('96) 1 Cal W N 197 (197) (DB) * ('96) 13 All 455 (457, 458) * (Vol. 5) 1918 Cal 424 (424) (DB) * ('06) 1906 All W N 203 (203).

[2] Mortgagor depositing sum found due by lower Court—Sum increased by Appellate Court—Payment by mortgagor reduces debt pro tanto—Interest is payable only on balance. ('10) 11 Cal L Jour 226 (235) (DB). * ('12) 16 Ind Cas 374 (375) (DB) (Cal).

[3] The mortgagee is not bound to accept payment after the passing of the final decree for foreclosure. (Vol. 5) 1918 Cal 424 (424) (DB).

4. Final decree for foreclosure.—[1] An application for a final decree for foreclosure should be made by the plaintiff. (Vol. 6) 1919 Pat 497 (500): 4 Pat L Jour 347 (DB).

[2] Application should be made to the Court of first instance, even though the preliminary decree was modified in appeal. ('01) 23 All 88 (89) (DB). * (1900) 23 Mad 521 (523) (DB) * ('11) 15 Cal L Jour 459 (462, 463) (DB).

[9] The dismissal for default of an application for a final decree does not preclude a fresh application for the same purpose. (Vol. 14) 1927 Oudh 49 (50) (DB).

[10] The procedure for obtaining a final decree applies to a preliminary decree passed on compromise between the parties. (Vol. 9) 1922 Nag 182 (184).

[See also (Vol. 24) 1937 All 108 (112) (DB).]

[11] Parties can contract out of R. 3 and agree to have decree passed in such terms as to make it operate as final decree automatically—When decree is so passed final decree is unnecessary. [But see ('99) 12 C P L R 103 (105, 106).]

[13] Where a party is entitled to pre-emption on foreclosure, the right arises, not on the expiry of the period fixed for payment, but on the passing of the final decree for foreclosure. [14] Omission to draw up final decree is only an irregularity—Court erroneously passing order absolute instead of final decree—Order could be enforced by execution. (Vol. 14) 1927 Bom 131 (138): 51 Bom 125 (DB).

5. Partial foreclosure.—[1] Where a suit for foreclosure is decreed only with respect to some of the properties, but dismissed with regard to others and an appeal is filed from that portion of the decree which dismisses the suit, the mortgagee cannot first obtain a final decree in respect of the portion of the decree favourable to him and then, on succeeding in the appeal as to the rest, another final decree in respect thereof. (1905) 27 All 501 (504) (FB).

6. Discharge of debt, etc., on foreclosure.—[1] Though mortgagee's liabilities come to an end as soon as decree becomes final, decree itself is not satisfied unless execution proceedings are taken and mortgagee decree-holder gets possession of mortgaged property. (Vol. 29) 1942 Cal 224 (225) (DB).

[4] Subsequent mortgagee made party to decree under R. 2 but not made party to decree under R. 3 and redeeming prior mortgage—Mortgagee cannot redeem subsequent mortgage. ('11) 10 Ind Cas 174 (176) (Oudh).

7. Delivery of title-deeds.—[1] A mortgagor can institute a separate suit to recover compensation for loss of title-deeds; the Court may also grant, in the mortgage decree itself, an alternative relief for damages for such loss. But if no such alternative relief for damages is provided for in the preliminary and final decrees, the Court cannot grant it in execution. (Vol. 9) 1922 Mad 299 (300) (DB).

8. Limitation for application for final decree. (See Limitation Act, Art 181).

9. Application for execution of final decree. [1] An application for the execution of a final decree is governed by Art. 182 of the Limitation Act. (Vol. 14) 1927 Pat 215 (217): 6 Pat 780 (DB).

[4] Section 48 of the Code applies to a final decree under O. 34, though the preliminary decree, on which it was based, had been passed under the Transfer of Property Act. (Vol. 11) 1924 All 696 (696) (DB).

[5] Where in a foreclosure decree against the defendants, costs are awarded to them O. 21 R. 19 is no bar to their executing the decree for costs. ('08) 16 C P L R 73 (75, 76).

[6] Where a foreclosure decree contains no direction for delivery of possession, the mortgagee cannot obtain possession by applying in execution. The proper course is to apply for an order for possession. ('04) 17 C P L R 62 (64).

(a) 4. (1) In a suit for sale, if the plaintiff succeeds, the Court shall pass a preliminary decree to the effect mentioned in clauses (a), (b) and (c) (i) of sub-rule (1) of rule 2, and further directing that, in default of the defendant paying as therein mentioned, the plaintiff shall be entitled to apply for a final decree directing that the mortgaged property or a sufficient part thereof be sold, and the proceeds of the sale (after deduction therefrom of the expenses of the sale) be paid into Court and applied in payment of what has been found or declared under or by the preliminary decree due to the plaintiff, together with such amount as may have been adjudged due in respect of subsequent costs, charges, expenses and interest, and the balance, if any, be paid to the defendant or other persons entitled to receive the same.

(2) The Court may, on good cause shown and upon terms to be fixed by the Court, from time to time, at any time before a final decree for sale is passed, extend the time fixed for the payment of the amount found or declared due under sub-rule (1) or of the amount adjudged due in respect of subsequent costs, charges, expenses and interest.

(3) In a suit for foreclosure in the case of an anomalous mortgage, if the plaintiff succeeds, the Court may, at the instance of any party to the suit or of any other person interested in the mortgage-security or the right of redemption, pass a like decree (in lieu of a decree for foreclosure) on such terms as it thinks fit, including the deposit in Court of a reasonable sum fixed by the Court to meet the expenses of the sale and to secure the performance of the terms.

(4) Where, in a suit for sale or a suit for foreclosure in which sale is ordered, subsequent mortgagees or persons deriving title from, or subrogated to the rights of, any such mortgagees are joined as parties, the preliminary decree referred to in sub-rule (1) shall provide for the adjudication of the respective rights and liabilities of the parties to the suit in the manner and form set forth in Form No. 9, Form No. 10 or Form No. 11, as the case may be, of Appendix D with such variations as the circumstances of the case may require.

5. Contents of decree in suit for sale by first mortgagee. [1] In a suit on a prior mortgage, in which puisne mortgagees are also impleaded as parties, each of them is entitled to an order that an account be taken of the amount due to him and to a declaration of his right to participate in the surplus sale proceeds, remaining after paying off the prior mortgagee in the order of his priority. [3] Where the puisne mortgage includes some properties in addition to those mortgaged to the prior mortgagee, the puisne mortgagee cannot ask that, if the sale proceeds of the properties subject to the prior mortgage are not sufficient to pay off both the prior and the puisne mortgages, the additional properties subject to the puisne mortgage should also be sold. 6. Court's power to adjust equities.—[1] Where a sale of the mortgaged properties is impossible, as where the mortgaged properties have been sold for arrears of revenue or rent, the decree must be suitably modified. The court has inherent power, in such cases, to give appropriate directions for the disposal of the fund which represents the property. (Vol. 29) 1942 Pat 185 (187). * (Vol. 2) 1915 Cal 203 (207) (DB).

[2] Where part of the mortgaged property has been acquired by the Government under the Land Acquisition Act, the proper decree to pass will be a decree for sale of the available mortgaged property with a direction that in case the entire mortgage debt is not realized by the sale of such property, the mortgagee shall be entitled to a simple money decree against the mortgagor for a sum not in excess of the amount withdrawn by the mortgagor as compensation money in the land acquisition proceedings. (Vol. 25) 1938 All 221 (227); I L R (1938) All 513 (FB).

[5] S. 56 of the Transfer of Property Act as amended by Act XX of 1929 is exhaustive and the right of marshalling in law since 1929 is co-extensive with the right in equity and so, there is no justification to extend the legal right of marshalling by relying on the provisions of O. 34 Rr. 4 and 5 in a way which cannot be justified by any well established principle. 2. Final decree, when can be passed.—[1] A final decree under R. 5 is necessary only when the decree originally passed is a preliminary decree under R. 4. See (Vol. 32) 1945 Cal 322 (324) (DB). (Court instead of passing preliminary decree for sale, at once pronouncing final decree—Final decree though irregular is not altogether nullity).

[2] Where only a money decree has been passed, a final decree under the rule is not necessary although the decree may authorize the decree-holder to realize the decree amount by sale of the judgment-debtor's property. (Vol. 12) 1925 Mad 1083 (1084).

[3] Decree already passed under S. 88, F.P. Act Final decree under the present rule is not necessary. (Vol. 11) 1924 Mad 603 (603) (DB). * (Vol. 4) 1917 Mad 315 (315, 316) (DB).

[See also (1900) 1900 All W N 95 (95) (DB).]

[5] Where the purchaser of a portion of the equity of redemption is made one of the defendants to a suit on a mortgage and, after the preliminary decree is passed, he obtains an assignment of the mortgagee's rights, he is entitled to apply for a final decree, although only for a proportionately reduced portion of the mortgage amount. (Vol. 14) 1927 Mad 560 (562).

[6] Mortgagor who allows execution to take place, without raising any objection, will be estopped from contending that the want of a final decree is fatal to the proceedings. [3] Application for final decree - Notice to all parties is not compulsory - But if any party is aggrieved by omission to issue notice, decree can be set aside. (Vol. 22) 1935 Mad 716 (717) (DB).

10. Mortgagor's rights before confirmation of sale.—[1] Under S. 89 of the Transfer of Property Act, the defendant's right to redeem and the security became both extinguished on the passing of the order absolute. (Vol. 5) 1918 P C 34 (35) : 40 All 407 : 45 Ind App 130 (PC). * (Vol. 16) 1929 Cal 233 (236) (DB). * (Vol. 7) 1920 P C 79 (80) : 42 All 364 : 47 Ind App 71 (PC).

[4] Under this provision a stranger purchaser can get five percent only on the amount he has actually paid into Court and not on the amount of the accepted final bid and a decree-holder purchaser who sets off his decree against the price can get nothing on the amount set off. 1. Scope of the rule.—[1] Decree under Rule 7 is preliminary and incapable of execution without a final decree being passed. (Vol. 7) 1920 Upp Bur 43 (44, 45) : 3 Upp Bur Rul 183 * ('98) 22 Bom 771 (773) (DB) * (Vol. 9) 1922 Bom 127 (128) : 46 Bom 348 (DB). (Rules 7 and 8 are somewhat inconsistent.)

[See (Vol. 1) 1914 Nag 8 (13) : 10 Nag LR 150].

[2] Where a decree for accounts is first passed and then another preliminary decree for redemption, it is irregular and has only the effect of an interlocutory order for accounts. (Vol. 12) 1925 All 707 (708) : 47 All 803 (DB) * (Vol. 11) 1924 Bom 33 (35) (DB) * (Vol. 11) 1924 Oudh 140 (140, 141).

[3] A decree for possession on condition of the plaintiff's paying a certain sum within a certain time is not a preliminary decree. (Vol. 11) 1924 Lah 635 (636). (Decree is capable of execution as it is.) * ('13) 19 Ind Cas 856 (857) (DB) (Lah).

[4] The rule applies only to a suit for redemption against a mortgagee. (Vol. 10) 1923 Lah 129 (131) (DB).

[6] No application for a final decree can be made under this rule and Rule 8 where a decree had been passed under section 92 of the Transfer of Property Act. (Vol. 1) 1914 Mad 392 (392) (DB). (Final decree under Rule 8 can only be made where there is preliminary decree under the present rule.)

[7] Ordinarily, a suit for an account on a mortgage cannot be asked for, unless the mortgagor asks for redemption also. ('81) 5 Bom 614 (616) (DB) (Under the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act XVII of 1879, S. 16, an agriculturist mortgagor has no right to sue his mortgagee for accounts only.)

[See also (Vol. 30) 1943 Bom 65 (65) : ILR (1943) 71 (DB)].

[8] The mere fact that the defendant denies the mortgage is no ground for decreeing possession without any payment by the mortgagor ('69) 6 Bom HCR AC 9 (11, 12) (DB).

[9] A conditional decree for redemption on payment of the amount due may be passed even though the Court finds that the mortgage has not been satisfied out of the mortgaged property as alleged in the plaint. ('80) 1 All 524 (525) (DB) * ('01) 24 Mad 408 (411) (DB).

[6] Suit for redemption—Sub-mortgagee joined as a party—Decree should direct accounts to be taken of mortgage and sub-mortgage and should provide that out of mortgage money, sub-mortgagee should be paid amount due to him and balance to be paid to mortgagee. ORDER 34 RULE 12.

Synopsis.

1. Scope of the rule.
2. Sale of property subject to prior mortgage.
3. Sale free from prior mortgage.
4. Where a prior mortgage is a usufructuary one.
5. Sale by the Court subject to a charge.

1. Scope of the rule.—[1] R. 12 confers general power on Court which can be exercised if conditions mentioned therein are satisfied.—Rule does not require consent of plaintiff or anybody else besides prior mortgagee. (Vol. 22) 1935 Mad 453 (454).

[2] It is not necessary that a decree for sale on the puisne mortgage must have been passed before this rule can apply. (Vol. 30) 1943 Mad 455 (456).

[3] Decree on puisne mortgage passed and satisfied by mortgagor—Prior mortgagee cannot ask under this rule, for sale of property to discharge his debt. (Vol. 22) 1935 Mad 660 (663) (DB).

[4] The right to apply under this rule is not confined to the plaintiff decree-holder. The Court can exercise the power under this rule on the application of anybody or even of its own motion. (Vol. 30) 1943 Mad 455 (456) * (Vol. 22) 1935 Mad 453 (454).

[5] The rule does not contemplate an enquiry as to whether a stranger to the suit is a prior mortgagee or not. The rule contemplates the admitted existence of a prior mortgagee. (Vol. 24) 1937 Mad 554 (554, 555).

2. Sale of property subject to prior mortgage.—

[1] Prior mortgagee not being necessary party to suit on puisne mortgage, puisne mortgagee can bring mortgaged property to sale under his own decree subject to prior mortgage. ('95) 22 Cal 33 (46) (DB) *

(Vol. 21) 1934 All 73 (75) (DB) * ('96) 23 Cal 795 (798) (DB).

[See ('07) 29 All 205 (206) (DB).]

[See also (Vol. 22) 1935 Lah 218 (221) (DB).]

3. Sale free from prior mortgage.—[1] The rule clearly implies that without the prior mortgagee's consent, property cannot be sold free of his mortgage. (Vol. 7) 1920 P C 81 (88) : 47 Cal 662 : 47 Ind App 11 (PC) * (Vol. 11) 1924 All 307 (308) : 46 All 414 (DB).

[See also (Vol. 22) 1935 Mad 660 (663) (DB).]

[2] In the absence of prior mortgagee's consent, the sale under a decree on a puisne mortgage can only be subject to the prior mortgage though there may be no express reservation of the prior mortgagee's rights. (Vol. 29) 1942 Cal 138 (140) (DB) * ('06) 29 Mad 84 (86) (DB).

[3] The priority cannot be lost merely because the prior mortgagee does not establish it in puisne mortgagee's suit, if it is not impugned. (Vol. 29) 1942 Cal 138 (141) (DB) * (Vol. 7) 1920 P C 81 (88) : 47 Cal 662 : 47 Ind App 11 (PC) * (Vol. 17) 1930 Lah 1063 (1065) (DB) * (Vol. 2) 1915 Cal 570 (571) (DB) * (Vol. 16) 1929 Oudh 463 (466) : 4 Luck 250 (DB) * (Vol. 24) 1937 Cal 446 (449) (DB).

4. Where a prior mortgage is a usufructuary one.—

[1] A prior usufructuary mortgagee, with whose consent the property is sold under this rule in execution of a decree on a puisne mortgage, is entitled to the sale proceeds. ('07) 30 Mad 408 (409, 410) (DB).

[But see ('04) 26 All 14 (17) (DB).]

5. Sale by the Court subject to a charge.—[1] Sale certificate stating that sale is subject to charge—Statement is not conclusive against purchaser. ('93) 16 Mad 207 (213) (DB).

[2] Property sold subject to encumbrance recognised by Court—Property cannot be re-sold because encumbrance is found to be void. ('99) 23 Bom 759 (760, 761) (DB).

[3] Mortgages noted in the proclamation of sale as claims upon the property sold should not necessarily be entered in the certificate of sale or be computed as part of the purchase-money, unless the existence of the mortgages has been either admitted by the parties or established by a decree or declared under O. 21 R. 62, ('94) 18 Bom 175 (176, 177) (DB).

[4] When a sale is subject to encumbrances, the vendor is no longer liable for their satisfaction nor is he entitled to any benefit that the vendee might obtain therefrom. ('09) 31 All 583 (589) : 36 Ind App 203 (PC).

Application of proceeds. 13. (1) Such proceeds shall be brought into Court and applied as follows :—

first, in payment of all expenses incident to the sale or properly incurred in any attempted sale ;

secondly, in payment of whatever is due to the prior mortgagee on account of the prior mortgage, and of costs, properly incurred in connection therewith ;

thirdly, in payment of all interest due on account of the mortgage in consequence whereof the sale was directed, and of the costs of the suit in which the decree directing the sale was made ;

fourthly, in payment of the principal money due on account of that mortgage ; and lastly, the residue (if any) shall be paid to the person proving himself to be interested in the property sold, or if there are more such persons than one, then to such persons according to their respective interests therein or upon their joint receipt.

(2) Nothing in this rule or in rule 12 shall be deemed to affect the powers conferred by section 57 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882.

14. (1) Where a mortgagee has obtained a decree for the payment of money in satisfaction of a claim arising under the mortgage, he shall not be entitled to bring the suit for sale necessary for bringing mortgaged property to sale otherwise than by instituting a suit for sale in enforcement of the mortgage, and he may institute such suit notwithstanding anything contained in Order II, rule 2.

(2) Nothing in sub-rule (1) shall apply to any territories to which the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, has not been extended.

ORDER 34 RULE 13—Note. 1.

[1] Although this rule in terms applies only when the sale as ordered under R. 12, the principle of the rule applies also to cases of sales subject to a prior mortgage and even in such cases, the proceeds should first be applied towards the interest and cost of the mortgage under which the sale is held and then only towards the principal. (Vol. 28) 1941 Lah 386 (391, 392) : I L R (1941) Lah 740 (FB) * (Vol. 25) 1938 Lah 289 : I L R (1938) Lah 403 overruled ; (Vol. 15) 1928 Lah 901 approved. * (13) 25 Mad L Jour 552 (555) (DB).

[But see (Vol. 18) 1931 Rang 153 (157 158) : 9 Rang 166 (DB).]

[2] Rule applies not merely to case when property is sold with prior mortgagee's consent, but also to other cases where there is no mortgage to consider and provide for. (Vol. 32) 1945 Mad 392 (393).

[3] This rule is intended to regulate the position as between the mortgagor and the mortgagee. It does not apply to a case of suretyship. (Vol. 22) 1935 Lah 334 (335) (DB).

[4] Where a sale is held in enforcement of a prior mortgage, a puisne mortgagee receiving an amount from out of the surplus sale proceeds by virtue of his security is bound to apply them only in satisfaction of his mortgage debt, though the mortgagor may have paid the money towards other debts. ('08) 30 Cal 553 (558, 559) (DB).

[5] Each of the prior encumbrancers is entitled to interest at the contract rate up to the date of the confirmation of the sale, that being the earliest date when the money really becomes available for distribution. (1911) 15 Cal W N 783 (785) (DB).

[7] This expression does not include subsequent encumbrancer if the existence or validity of the subsequent encumbrance is challenged by the mortgagor. (Vol. 14) 1927 All 467 (468) : 49 All 636 (DB).

[8] Decree upon subsequent mortgage becoming time barred—Subsequent mortgagee is not person interested in property sold. (Vol. 12) 1925 All 6 (8) (DB).

[9] The holder of two successive mortgages on the same property, who failed to include the second mortgage in his suit on the first mortgage, can claim the surplus sale proceeds under this rule as a puisne encumbrancer. ('07) 30 Mad 353 (355) (DB). (Position, it is conceived, will be different in cases governed by S. 67, T. P. Act.)

[10] A mere unsecured creditor is not a person "interested in the property sold". But after the subsequent encumbrances are satisfied, he can proceed against the balance, if any, payable to the mortgagor. ('94) 18 Bcm 684 (687, 688) (DB).
